BRIDGTON ACADEMY TO PLAY ON LOCAL COURT AGAINST BLUE TODAY

Lowe, Kellogg, Weller To Appear In Andover Line-up

CARR PLAYS FIRST GAME

Maine Quintet Has Won Four Games In Five Starts; Andover Five Yet To Hit Stride

The Andover basketball team takes the floor against the Bridgton Academy five this afternoon for their first contest in three weeks. Still seeking their first victory of the season, Coach Billhardt's charges have little chance of coming out on the long end of the score, with their previous record behind them. Bridgton Academy, for the last two years runner-up in the Maine State Championship, has won four games while losing one thus far this season; on the basis of this record and of Andover's poor showing in the two games already played, the Bridgton five should win handily.

Andover's starting line-up will be made up of Captain Kellogg at center, Lowe and Carr at forwards, with Weller and C. Kellogg in the two remaining positions. Opposing them for Bridgton will be Smith and Foberg at forwards, Sweetser at center, and Polanski and Shannon at guards.

Bridgton started off its season with a loss to the Portland Boys' Club, 55-38, but then struck a winning stride and annexed successive victories over Portland Y. M. C. A., Bridgton Boys' Club, Kent's Hill School, and Fryeburg Academy, overwhelming the last by a 51-25 score.

NEW EXHIBIT OPENS AT ADDISON GALLERY

"Romantic Tendencies in 19th Century Painting", Title

DAVIES, MILLET, AND HENRI REPRESENTED

A new exhibition, "Romantic Tendencies in Nineteenth Century Painting", opened last Wednesday, February 8th, at the Addison Gallery of American Art. The aim of the exhibition is to show that the same influence which was taking place in the literature of the period, was also taking place in the painting. The pictures are loaned by the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, the Fogg Museum at Harvard University, the Robert C. Vose Gallery in Boston, and a number of items are from the permanent Addison Gallery collection.

Among the paintings from the permanent Addison Gallery collection are: "Toilers of the Sea" by A. P. Ryder, which has just returned from an exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City; "Hills and Valleys" by Arthur B. Davies, recently returned from the International Exhibition at Venice, Italy; and a new addition to the collection, "Mary" by Robert Henri. Henri was the instructor of many of the young artists of the present day and with George Bellows, John Sloan, and George Luks, formed the group who were known as "realists".

"Christ on the Sea of Galilee" by Eugene Delacorix, who is generally regarded as the father of the romantic movement in painting, is lent by the Museum of Fine Arts of Boston; "Girl Tending Sheep" by Jean Francois Millet, is a part of the Boston Museum's collection of that painter's work.

"Convent in Alpine Pass", a water color painting by John Ruskin, the noted writer, shows the close relationship between the art and literature of the period.

ANDOVER SWIMMERS FACE CRIMSON CUBS

Breed, Last Year's Blue Captain, Leads Rivals

HARVARD TEAM FAST

Kimball, MacDuff, Samson Expected To Star In Pool For Home Team

The Andover swimming team will have its second meet of the season this afternoon with the Harvard Freshman team. Although two meets have been cancelled during the last two weeks, the squad has been having hard work-outs and is in good condition to face the Harvard team.

Junie Breed, the captain of the Blue team last year, and leader of the Crimson also, will swim for Harvard in both the fifty-yard dash and the one hundred-yard backstroke. Last year he starred for Andover in the backstroke, breaking the pool record. Dorr, who was also on the Andover team last year, will swim for Harvard, probably the one hundred-yard dash. Last year Andover lost to Harvard by the score of 44-30.

Kimball, the Andover captain, will, as usual, swim both the 50 and 100-yard dashes. With him in the 50 Trimpf will swim. The other entry for the Blue in the 100-yard swim will be Wingate, a new man this year. Woodlock, who was unable to dive in the first meet with

ANDOVER HOCKEY AND RELAY TEAMS FACE EXETER IN ANNUAL CLASHES IN BOSTON— WINTER SPORTS SCHEDULES ARE RESUMED

ANDOVER RELAY TEAM FAVORED TO NOSE RED AND GRAY IN GARDEN

Both Teams Expected To Come Near Clipping Record

FURSE AT ANCHOR POST

Keith Brown, Spitz, Wykoff Among World-Famous Athletes To Compete In Games

The Andover relay team journeys to Boston this evening to face Exeter in the annual relay race between the two schools, to be held as part of the forty-fourth annual games of the Boston Athletic Association in the Boston Garden. The Andover quartet is slated, according to Coach M. Lawrence Shields, to be composed of S. L. Smith, J. B. Stevens, Captain C. F. Howe, and H. L. Furse, running in that order. T. M. Crosby will be alternate.

Last winter the Blue team, Captain Dorman, Harper, Walker, and Duchesne, easily won when one of the Exeter runners stumbled and fell in the course of the race. This season both Andover and Exeter are reported to have two of the strongest teams of recent years. The Blue runners have unofficially turned in some excellent times in practice.

Coach Carroll of Exeter has chosen a team composed of four of the Red and Gray's fastest runners for the meet. Ralph Battles, former Lowell High luminary, will run number one; Walter McIntosh of Scarsdale, N. Y., number two; John M. Donovan, ex-Lawrence High track star, number three; and Captain Harold G. Smith, Palo Alto, Calif., anchor man.

Captain Smith of Exeter is the only veteran on his team while S. L. Smith, who competed for the Blue two winters ago, is the only Andover letterman.

The line-up will be:

Andover	Exeter
Smith, 1	1, Battles
Stevens, 2	2, McIntosh

Restrictions Off; Out-Of-Town Excuses Allowed

Dr. Peirson S. Page, director of athletics, yesterday announced that the self-imposed quarantine first put into effect two weeks ago has been officially lifted and that athletic events will take place as scheduled beginning today.

Students will be allowed to go to Boston to see the Exeter hockey game and B. A. A. games provided that the proper excuse is secured from Mr. Dye. Students attending the B. A. A. meet will be allowed to extend their day excuses until late that night.

EXETER PUCKSTERS LOST ONLY ONE GAME

Dropped 3-1 Decision To Star Harvard '36 Sextet

NEW HAMPTON, DUMMER EASILY CONQUERED

While the Andover sextet has been held inactive all season by lack of ice, the Exeter hockey team has completed a four game schedule, winning two contests, tying one, and losing one, the latter to the strong Harvard Freshman team.

The Red and Gray season opened with a 4-1 victory over New Hampton. Savage scored twice, Pedrick and Kidd once each, in what proved to be an easy game for the Exeter team. An even easier 6-0 decision over Governor Dummer followed the next Saturday with Kidd, Bilodeau, and Pedrick each scoring twice.

The next Wednesday the strong Harvard '36 sextet handed Exeter a 3-1 defeat in the Boston Garden, having a hard task downing the previously undefeated New Hampshire team. Curtis scored Exeter's one goal. Exeter's fourth and last game ended in a 2-2 tie. A powerful New Hampshire '36 team nearly succeeded in nosing out a victory.

Andover Team At Full Strength For Traditional A-E Battle

In its eighteenth annual game with the Red and Gray, the Andover sextet meets a favored Exeter hockey team this afternoon on the Boston Arena ice. The Exeter team, without the services of its captain and two star defensemen, will be attempting to extend its string of victories over Andover to seven straight while Andover, at full strength, will be trying to break the six-year jinx.

Captain Richard W. Miller, star Exeter goalie, has gone home because of illness and his place will be filled by Samuel H. Eaton, capable substitute. Tom Bilodeau, who received a concussion of the brain in the Harvard Freshman game, will be unable to play and Rex Kidd who injured his ankle while broad jumping, will also be missing from the Red and Gray line-up. Their places at defense will be filled by Frederic Mayo of Melrose and Wes Dinsmore, who has been transferred from center Coach Rogers of Exeter has indi-

ANDOVER MATMEN TO MEET BOSTON COLLEGE

Boston Jayvees To Wrestle Here In Borden Gymnasium

CAPT. KENNEDY, LEWIS BLUE HEADLINERS

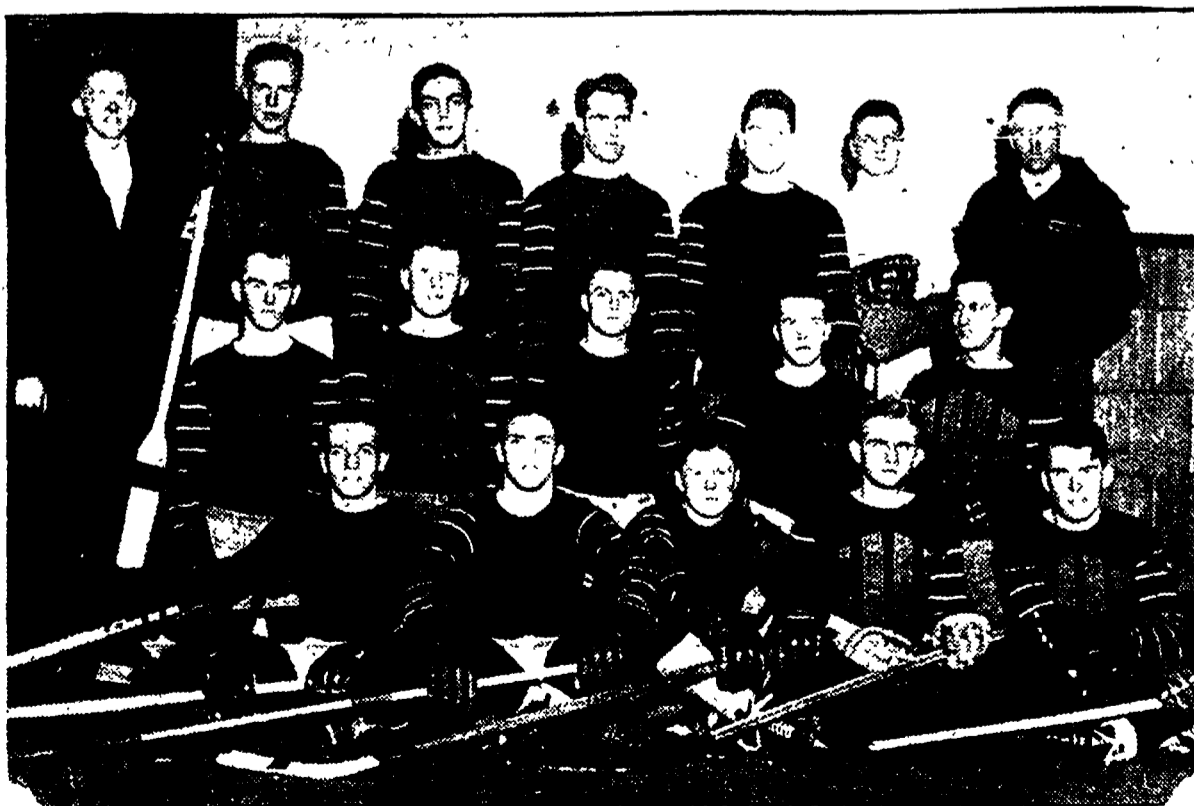

The Andover wrestling team will have its second meet of the season this afternoon with the Boston College second Varsity in the Borden Gymnasium. This will be the first time that Andover has met Boston College in a wrestling meet, and it is sure that Captain Kennedy and his team will meet some stiff opposition.

The only meet thus far has been the one with Milton, which resulted in a victory for the Blue, the final score being 17 1-2 to 9 1-2. Captain Kennedy is the only letter man from last year's team, although there are several others on the team who saw action in some of the meets of last year. Among the leaders is Stevens, who won his match with Milton. Dan Lewis, who has been disabled for a week, will be back again for this afternoon. He likewise was victorious in the Milton meet. In the 135-pound class there is some uncertainty about who will compete, because Stratton is overweight for this class. Also in the 165-pound class Murray is overweight. McKnight Kime will wrestle in the 118-pound class. In spite of the fact that there is only one letterman left, Coach Carlson has picked a strong team from the thirty-five candidates.

The first meet which was scheduled for Feb. 4th, but called off because of the quarantine will be held on Saturday, March 4th. There are going to be only four meets this year and the other will be with Harvard on February 25th. The annual meets with M. I. T. and Yale Freshmen have had to be cancelled. The Browne and Nichols meet was also called off

Andover vs. Exeter

Andover meets Exeter today in two of the four winter sports in which both schools compete—hockey and relay. Andover's team in the latter sport is a good one, one of the best of recent years, according to Coach Shields. Andover has a good opportunity to win its second straight victory over Exeter. THE PHILLIPIAN wishes Captain Howe and his team the very best of luck; we expect to see them finish tonight with a considerable lead over their Red and Gray opponents.

In hockey, however, Andover's chances are not so good. Handicapped, as last winter, by an annoying absence of ice, the Andover team has had no such opportunities for practice that Exeter has had. But reports from New Hampshire indicate that the Exeter team will be without the services of its captain and two star defencemen; on the other hand, Andover is at the peak of physical condition. No one who saw last year's Exeter game can ever forget the stirring fight the Andover team made to stop a Red and Gray team that was twice as good. Exeter got a bad scare from the underrated Andover team last winter. This year conditions are the same. A fighting Andover team with the breaks behind it can stop Exeter today. We wish Captain Sumner and his team the best of breaks and the best of luck.

Scholarships

The recent decision of the directors of the alumni fund of Phillips Academy to raise this year fifty scholarships of $350 apiece is a step in the best traditions of Phillips Academy. For these scholarships, according to the announcement, will be put into effect in the school year 1933-34, a time when they will be needed more, perhaps, than at any other time in the past century. Preference is expected to be shown to sons of Andover alumni. Already three of these scholarships have been donated by generous Andover alumni, John A. Garver, P. A. '71, and John W. Prentiss, P. A. '94.

Andover has never been a school that demands wealth and social standing among its requirements for admission. Ever since it was founded by Samuel Phillips in 1778, it has tried to be as democratic as any school in the country, what is more, it has succeeded. Scholarships and jobs to help toward meeting expenses have always been open to those students who needed them; of course, it is only proper that they be increased in times like these. The privileges of the school are extended just as much to the student of moderate means as to the wealthy student. Phillips Academy tries to be known not as a rich man's school but as one that is open to all. Every student is judged by himself alone. And it is of this tradition more than any other that Andover is proudest.

Library Notes

"What Can a Young Man Do?" is the title of a provocative article in the February Atlantic. Written by a Harvard graduate of the generation whose world was turned upside down in 1929, he has helpful suggestions as to the fields in which the young man of today will find happiness and self-expression. This is a timely discussion for the student seriously considering his future plans.

In the 1933 winter issue of the Yale Review, appears a delightful and informal summary of Queen Elizabeth, whose 400th anniversary is celebrated this year. With the recent tendency of biographers to enlarge upon the weaknesses of their subjects this is refreshingly enthusiastic. It is a readable account of Elizabeth, the Person, with many illuminating anecdotes and an explanation of the devotion she inspired in her people. It accounts for her position as "the greatest of English monarchs, perhaps the greatest of English women."

The broadside 10 Outstanding Magazine Articles for February has been received and is now posted on the reference room bulletin board. Each month a council of librarians selects the most worthwhile articles of the month and issues this list, with notes on the articles. The library subscribes to most of the magazines mentioned. This month there is a preponderance of political and financial subjects, including the much discussed technocracy.

In the left-hand bookcase in the delivery room has been placed a number of books representative of the romantic period in nineteenth century literature. This collection is arranged to coincide with the exhibition of paintings of that period which is now being held in the Art Gallery.

Rolvaag's Boat of Longing has just been added to the library. "The unforgivable sin," said Rolvaag, "is to write about life untruthfully." In his Boat of Longing, the English translation of which was published after the author's death, we have what seems to be an autobiographical account of youth's indefinable urge to leave his parents' hearth. Specifically, the novel tells of the growing restlessness of Nils, the young Norse fisherman, of his decision to come to America, associated in his mind with unlimited opportunity for acquiring wealth and for self-expression, of his contacts in cheap rooming houses and lumber camps, and of his isolation, which is complete because he is finer and more sensitive to beauty and to truth than any of his associates. In the telling of this story Rolvaag is not guilty of the unforgivable sin.

The Thrills of a Naturalist's Quest by Raymond Ditmars traces the development of the author from a young museum assistant to a prominent position in the scientific world. There is no mark of the cut and dried scientist in the book; Mr. Ditmars writes in an easy and, at times, amusing way about such different subjects as the seventeen year locust and the Indian king cobra.

The Stage Is Set by Lee Simonson deals with all that relates to stage designing, its purpose, history, methods and leaders. The material is presented in non-technical language and is rounded out with discussions of classical and modern plays and acting. The section on modern stage design is especially fine, treating of the new emphasis on the impressionistic use of light and shadow, of which Mr. Simonson is competent to write as he is the designer for the Theatre Guild. The book will be entertaining and instructive to the casual reader, as well as to those interested in this coming form of art.

In No Poems Robert Benchley "is at his hilarious best from start to finish, backwards and forwards." The Lion Took Fright by Louis Marlow, Riverhead by Robert Hillyer, and Erie Water by Walter D. Edmonds are recent novels which have been added to the library. Anybody who is familiar with the Erie Canal or who likes frontier history or is interested in adventure will like Edmonds's new novel, Erie Water. It's a vivid narrative of Central New York—especially Utica and the Mohawk Valley—in the 1820's, and it will keep anyone wide awake until it is finished. Edmonds lives in Oneida County and knows what he is writing about.

DONALD B. WATT SPOKE WEDNESDAY

Showed Colored Movies Of European Trip In Morse Talk

DESCRIBES "INTERNATIONAL LIVING"

Mr. Donald B. Watt, prominent student director, gave a talk on "An Experiment in International Living" last Wednesday evening in Morse Hall. Mr. Watt illustrated his talk with colored motion pictures of the first experiment in international living last summer, in which a group of American school and college students, including Paul Dewitt and Frank Rounds of Andover, spent ten weeks in Europe with similar groups of French and German students.

In his motion pictures, Mr. Watt showed scenes of the students' bicycling expeditions, hiking for two days up to the top of a high pass in the Alps and then coasting leisurely on bicycle down the long, winding road to the valley, also many beautiful views of the Matterhorn, the Jungfrau, and other Swiss mountains, and especially a traditional folk festival in a quaint old German village, the most important feature of which festival was a race between shepherds who ran barefoot over freshly cut stubble.

The purpose of this experiment in international living is to help bring about a better acquaintance between Americans and Europeans. In speaking of the need for this Mr. Watt said that many people of Europe have received the impression, chiefly from sensational moving pictures, that an American is a sort of cross between Charlie Chaplin and Al Capone, and that on more than one occasion Europeans have been surprised on meeting people from the United States to find that they are not much different from themselves.

The trip to be taken this summer is to be conducted in the most economical fashion possible, passage across the Atlantic being in third or in tourist class, and the round trip and the entire stay in Europe will cost only about $400. The project is not undertaken with the idea of any financial profit, those taken being specially selected, and Mr. Watt would be glad to include any Andover students who are interested. The plan offers a fine opportunity for those who have had several years study in French or German to gain practical experience in conversation, also going to Europe in this way enables one to know the countries and people far better than by just going there "to see the sights".

CHESS CLUB MEETING TO BE MONDAY EVENING

Scheduled Matches Promise To Be Close And Decisive

The next meeting of the Chess Club will be held Monday evening at 6:45. Some of the matches from this week's tournament have not been finished as yet; therefore it cannot be said for certain who will play Monday evening. Dulmage will most likely play Deming, and the match promises to be interesting in view of Dulmage's sensational rise in the ladder tournament, and Deming's fine playing.

Dalrymple will probably play F. Haines. Dalrymple is likely to beat F. Haines, although F. Haines showed great promise lately and the match might be close. In the Scoville-J. Haines match, Scoville is favored to take off the honors. The Dove vs. Hartman match should be fairly even with Dove having a slight edge. Dawson should defeat Wilson, who is a new man and not very experienced; and Wofsey should defeat Powelson.

This week there are three matches as yet to be finished: Hartman vs. Wofsey, F. Haines vs. J. Haines, and Deming vs. Dove.

INQUIRY WISHES TO COLLECT PLEDGES SOON

The Society of Inquiry wishes to collect as many of the pledges as possible on Wednesday, the 15th. A representative will be in the Commons at noon and at six o'clock to collect the money.

FENCERS OPEN AGAINST HARVARD '36 DUELISTS

Captain Macomber, Snellings Lettermen From Year Ago

SCOVILLE TO FILL THIRD PLACE ON TEAM

The Blue fencing team will meet the Harvard Freshman duellists this afternoon at Cambridge in the former's first meet of the season. Today's match, though not the first scheduled, will actually be the first to be played, since the measles quarantine prevented a match with Governor Dummer Academy for last Wednesday and one with Providence Y. M. C. A. seconds on the previous Saturday.

The fencing prospects this year are rather bright with last year's captain and also another letter man returning for this season, and, moreover, several men on the squad last season are proving very capable. In the contest today, Captain Macomber, Snellings, and Scoville will take part in the foil matches, with Deming and Dimock substituting. In the epee, Macomber and Scoville, with Deming as substitute, will meet the opposing duellists. In past years the Harvard Freshman team have proved to be very dangerous opponents, and today's combat at Cambridge will provide a close struggle. Next week's match has not been decided upon but a meet with Boston University Freshmen will take place in the near future.

DR. EDWARDS TO BE CHAPEL SPEAKER

Headmaster Of Mercersburg Will Talk In Academy Chapel

The preacher at both services this Sunday will be Dr. Boyd Edwards, headmaster of Mercersburg Academy. Dr. Edwards, a graduate of Andover in the class of '96 and of Williams College in the class of 1900, has spoken here many times in recent years and is well-known to many Andover students. Previous to his becoming headmaster of Mercersburg, Dr. Edwards was the headmaster of The Hill School of Pottstown, Pa. A noted clergyman and educator, he is, moreover, a trustee of Mt. Holyoke and of Williams College.

GAULS, ROMANS WIN IN CLUB WRESTLING

Wilhelm, Greenough Win Close Matches From Saxons

The fourth club wrestling meet was held yesterday afternoon in Bulfinch Hall with the Gauls vanquishing the Saxons 13-10 while the Romans beat the Greeks 9-1-2 to 6-1-2. This was the start of the second round of meets, all the teams having wrestled before. The Gauls retained their lead, having won three meets and tied one.

In the first bout, Uiblein, a Greek, gained a fall from Newton, a Roman. The Embree-Hackett match was very hard fought. Embree had the advantage at the beginning; but Hackett, a Roman, finally gained a fall on Embree. Whiting, a Roman, gained a decision over Powelson, a Greek. The Taintor vs. T. H. Jones match was very fast, first one man having the advantage and then the other. Taintor, the Roman, and Jones, the Greek, finally fought to a draw.

Emerson, a Saxon, gained a fall from Weiss, a Gaul, in a very loosely fought match. In the Stone-Durant match, Stone, a Gaul, gained a very fast fall from Durant. Wilhelm, a Gaul, gained a decision from T. Smith, a Saxon, in a match in which there was not much action. Robertson, a Saxon, gained a fall from F. Haines, a Gaul; and Greenough, a Gaul, gained a fall from Mason, a Saxon.

DR. PFATTEICHER TO GIVE WEEKLY RECITAL

Compositions By Handel Will Be Featured Sunday Afternoon

The program of Dr. Pfatteicher's weekly organ recital in the Academy Chapel this Sunday afternoon at 4:30 will consist of compositions by Handel. Dr. Pfatteicher will play the second and the fifth organ concertos and the Largo.

The Vesper service a week from tomorrow will be a musical service, the soloist being Mr. Paul Shirley, for many years a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Shirley will play the viola d'amore, an instrument rarely heard today but of extremely beautiful tone. The instrument has fourteen strings, seven to vibrate sympathetically being placed below the seven actually played upon.

VISSER 'T HOOFT TO TALK SUNDAY NIGHT

"Christianity, Fascism And Communism" Subject Of Speech

TO ADDRESS SOCIETY OF INQUIRY MEETING

At the weekly Society of Inquiry meeting in Peabody House this Sunday at 6:45 W. A. Visser 't Hooft of Holland will talk on "Christianity, Fascism, and Communism".

Mr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft was born in Haarlem, Holland, in the year 1900. He studied theology and law at Leyden University. (Doctor of Theology, Leyden University.) In the last years at the University, Dr. 't Hooft was a leader in relief work for Central and Eastern European students through the European Student Relief. In 1924, on leaving the University, he joined the Boys' Work staff of the World's Committee of the Y. M. C. A. and since that time has had a steadily growing influence in international affairs. He was called to the staff of the World's Student Christian Federation as secretary for Europe and America, as well as editor of "The Student World" in 1930, and in 1932 was appointed General Secretary of the Federation, in which capacity he is meeting groups of students and professors continually in all parts of the world. In 1933, for example, he will be officiating at an important Far Eastern Conference in Java, to which will be sent delegates from India, China, Burma, Australia,

The Philippines and Japan. He also is secretary of the Council of the European Student Christian Movements. He has written "The Background of the Social Gospel in America" and will publish soon another book on "Non-Roman Catholicism".

While not a "Barthian" he has learned a great deal from Karl Barth as all younger European theologians have. He also has been much interested in other Christian movements, for instance, the renaissance of Eastern Orthodoxy, Anglo-Catholicism, etc. His religion is scholarly, incisive, personal, practical. His is a first-class mind, naturally able, well trained and extraordinarily well informed on a tremendous circle of questions about which students are concerned today—religious, political and social. In addition, he has an extraordinarily winsome and attractive personality, rare gifts as a speaker, and an irrefragable spirit which immediately identifies him as a trusted colleague and leader of students.

As Geneva Correspondent of "The Christian Century" he has followed closely the work of the League of Nations and very particularly of the "Disarmament Conference". It is not his fault, he whimsically observes, if the Conference fails.

cated that Edward Acton of Quebec will fill the Red and Gray center berth with Donald Sleeper and John W. Savage flanking him on the wings.

The return of Platt, who scored Andover's lone goal in last winter's game, strengthens the Blue defense. Gardner, also a letterman, and Platt will start in the two defense positions, according to the line-up mapped out by Coach Eaton. Victor, who has shown good form in practice sessions, will be the starting goalie.

Coach Eaton has chosen two forward lines to be inter-changed throughout the game. Captain Summer at center heads one line with Knowles and Curtis on the wings. Badger heads the other with Rosenfeld and Davis in the wing positions. The third string line of Wickwire, Cushman, and Johnston will also probably see action.

Captain Summer when asked his opinion of his team's chances stated to a PHILLIPIAN representative: "The team will have to fight to win."

Exeter has won six straight games from Blue hockey teams. Not since 1926 when Frank Luce, later All-American center at Yale, streaked through the entire Exeter team to net the puck and give the Blue a 2-1 decision has Andover beaten the Red and Gray. Last winter an underrated Andover team surprised a confident Exeter sextet by holding to a tie for two periods and limiting the score to another 2-1 decision.

The line-up will be:

Chesterfields are Milder

WHEN you ask a Chesterfield smoker why that's his brand — he generally comes right out flat-footed and says... "It's because They're Milder!"

So we're going to keep on doing everything we know how to keep them that way.

That's why we look for and buy the mildest and ripest tobaccos we can get. That's why we age them in our warehouses till they're mellow and sweet.

We believe that even the shredding of the tobacco... and the quality of the paper it's rolled in, have a lot to do with the even-drawing, mild smoke that people enjoy in Chesterfields.

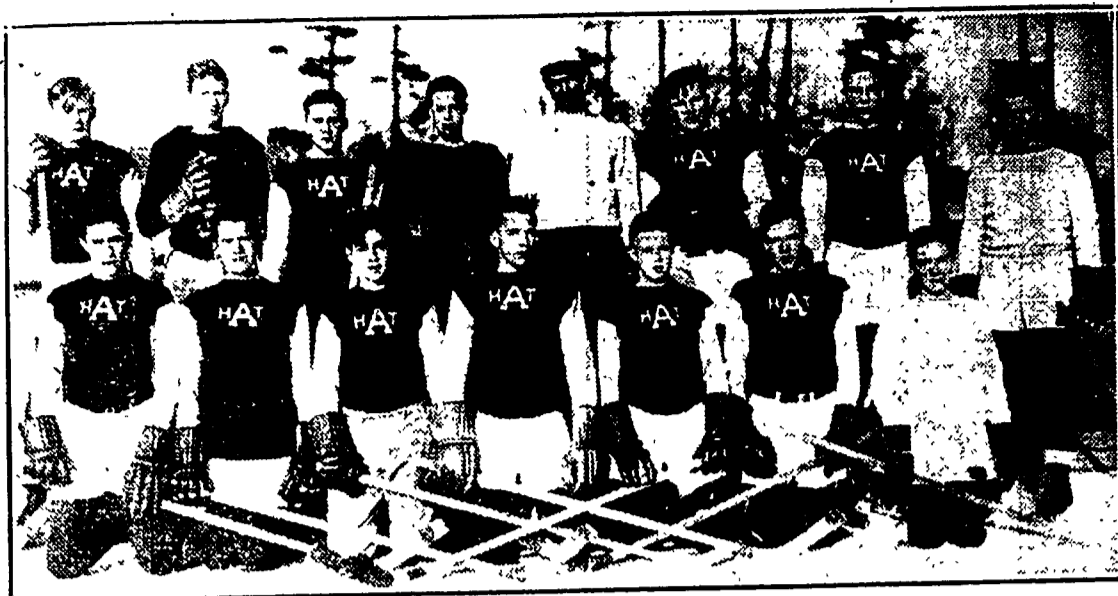

You can bank on this... every method known to science is used to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette that satisfies.

Huntington, will be able to compete in the meet this afternoon. The other contestant in this event will be either Heywood or Hook. Hurlbutt will represent the Blue in the backstroke as usual.

The Gardner High meet which was called off because of the sickness is now scheduled for February 22nd. There will also be a second team meet with Gardner High on that date. The only meet so far was the one with Huntington in which the Blue mermen were far superior to their opponents, the final score being 46-14.

The complete line-up is as follows:

- 50-yard dash—Mason and Trimpi
- 100-yard breaststroke — Samson and Campion or Dove
- 200-yard swim — MacDuff and Jameson
- 100-yard swim — Wingate and Kimball
- 100-yard backstroke—Hurlbutt and Weaver
- Dive—Woodlock and Heywood or Hook
- 150-yard medley—Hurlbutt, Samson, and Jameson
- 200-yard relay—Mason, Kimball, Trimpi, and Hammond or Matthews

Next Phillipian To Appear Thursday Night

The next issue of THE PHILLIPIAN will appear Thursday evening, February 16. This will be a six-page combination of Wednesday's and Saturday's PHILLIPIAN caused by the long Pro week-end when a majority of the student body is expected to be away.

stars will appear in the B. A. A. games before and after the A-E race. The Yale-Harvard relay race is the headliner of two-score-odd college relay races. In the individual events Frank Wykoff, present holder of the 100-yard dash record, headlines the sprint events. George Spitz, who broke the world's record last year, will compete in the high jump and Keith Brown, Andover graduate and sophomore at Yale, will star in the pole vault. Brown last Saturday cleared fourteen feet, the third man in the world to make such a height in inches. At Andover he set a world interscholastic record while competing in the Harvard Interscholastics. Milton Sandler, who has beaten Germany's famed Dr. Peltzer, is entered in the 600-yard event.

Loyalties

The passing years but strengthen the ties between a fine old school and its graduates. Sons take up the thread of their fathers' loyalties, proud of a mutual tradition and code.

So it is with S. S. Pierce's. Today's customers are so often the sons and daughters of yesterday's loyal friends, their satisfaction a proof of their fathers' and mothers' sound judgment.
