BLUE ELEVEN CLASHES WITH YALE FRESHMEN TODAY AT NEW HAVEN

Exeter Victorious Over Fresh Last Week By 14-7 Margin

GRAHAM WITH YEARLINGS

Grey Jerseys Are Scheduled To Play Governor Dummer Academy Here At 2:00 P. M.

The Andover football team will meet the Yale Freshman team at New Haven this afternoon. The Blue gridsters left Andover yesterday at 1:45 p. m. and spent last night at the Yale field house. They will return late tonight. Thirty-two men composed the squad that is in New Haven now.

There is only one P. A. man on the Yale Freshman team this year, last year's captain, Ray Graham. He has been said to be one of the most promising football players that have come to Yale for several years.

The Andover-Yale Freshman game will be the first chance for the Blue team to be compared with the Exeter team this year. Exeter played Yale last week and won by one touchdown. Here is the Blue's opportunity to get the odds over our rivals of the North at the first of the season.

The Andover Grey Jerseys meet the Governor Dummer Academy team on Brothers Field at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon. The student body has long sought games with other prep schools, and now is its chance to see how the other preparatory school teams compare with the Andover second team. Games have also been arranged with some of the Harvard House teams, and an attempt is being made to schedule a game with Moses Brown Academy. The game with Middlesex has been cancelled because

BAND IS BECOMING WELL ROUNDED OUT

Its Repertoire Will Include Many Popular College Tunes

With the Exeter game but a short month away, the band is now becoming well rounded out, and in addition to putting the finishing touches on five or six well-known pieces, a repertoire including many popular college tunes is now being made up. The organization, as the reader may have been led to believe, is not faced with imminent disaster. It is, on the contrary, rapidly developing into a very respectable band. There still is, however, room for improvement, and Mr. Ives has made it known that he would appreciate the return of any of the old boys who played in the band last year. Trumpet players especially are needed and

P. I. Tests Begin Monday After Exeter Game; Track Men Will Do Track Events Soon

The Physical Inefficiency Tests for all old men who did not receive 100 percent last year, and for all new men, will start on the Monday after the Exeter game and will continue on through the week. The only exception to this is that all the track men will do the half-mile and the high jump very soon. These tests consist of five different events: the pole climb, the half-mile run, the thigh flexion, the high jump, and the 100-yard swim. Each one of these events has its own particular use in developing and strengthening the muscles of the body.

The tests are marked on the basis of 100 percent. If anyone fails to score in every event, he is

Greatly Improved Performance Expected; Several Shifts Made In Line-up

NO MORE SQUAD CUTS

Robey Shifted To Goal; Simpson Is Moved To Fullback; Swihart To Try Center Forward

The Blue soccer team has improved considerably for the coming game with the Tufts Freshmen on Wednesday, October 18, and ought to be in even better shape when the date for this game arrives. Coach Ryley is convinced that the team can play better than it did against Tabor, and he says that he does not know why the team failed to function as it should have on Saturday. He is working them hard this week and says that the men are showing fine spirit. Manager West, also, reports that the team is very peppy.

The line-up has been changed in many places since last Saturday. New men are being tried out in several of the positions. Robey has been shifted from right halfback to the goalie position, taking the place of Rosenfeld, who will be tried out at one of the halfbacks. Healy, a new man, and Rand, a regular, are both contending for the right out-

GAULS AND SAXONS WIN IN CLUB SOCCER GAMES

Greeks' Lead Diminished As Gauls Take Game Easily

Last Thursday there were two of the most surprising upsets that have ever been staged in club soccer history. The Greeks were overthrown by the Gauls, and the Saxons slaughtered the Romans.

So far the Greeks have been ahead, and seemed to be steadily forging further and further onward; however, according to Thursday's results, they are not going to stay in first position much longer. The Gauls had one of the easiest victories of the season, with the score of three to one, and even the score does not show their supremacy, for they outplayed their opponents during the whole game. In the Saxon-Roman game the playing was about even for the first half, but during the second half the Saxons picked up so remarkably that by the end of the game they had brought the score to nine to two in their favor. From now on they ought to prove able contenders for the club soccer laurels. The point score now stands: Greeks, two and a half; Romans and Gauls, two; the Saxons behind with only one and a half.

placed on the P. I., or physical inefficiency list. Each student must obtain a passing grade of 70 percent or over before he is able to take elective athletics during the winter.

The pole climb consists of climbing, hand over hand without the use of legs, a wooden pole about three inches in diameter and 18 feet high. The minimum requirement to score in this test is eight feet. This pole climb is for testing the shoulders, the arms, and the chest. The high jump is a test of agility and co-ordination, in which the maximum height is four feet three inches, and the lowest height, for scoring, is two feet nine inches. The thigh flexions are a trial of ab-

BOTH CLUB FOOTBALL GAMES END IN 0-0 TIE

Twombly, Haviland, Dempsey, And Fine Star In Second Set Of Games

ROMANS DO NOT USE THE HUDDLE SYSTEM

The hard-fought Gaul vs. Greek football game ended in a scoreless tie. Haviland did fine work for the Greeks, both offensively and defensively. Mullen was the Gaul's outstanding player on the offense, and Quigley, for the Gauls, played the best defensive game.

The Greeks kicked off and kept the ball in Gaul territory for most of the first half. In the last few minutes of the first quarter the Greeks seriously threatened the green team's goal. Ballard caught a fifteen-yard pass by Haviland and carried it ten yards more. Haviland and Smith made several long gains and brought the ball to the Gaul's three-yard line. The gray team then lost ten yards on a fumble and lost the ball on downs. The Gauls retaliated by starting a march up the field. Their advance was stopped by the end of the half. In the early part of the second

MOVIE PRE-VIEW

Tonight's movie, which was to have been Be Mine Tonight, has been changed to Elmer the Great, a comedy. Joe E. Brown, in the second filming of the picture, slightly alters the character of the protagonist to fit his own particular brand of extravaganza, but succeeds, nevertheless, in leaving him a mirth-provoking figure.

Unerringly dumb, but with perfect and withal well-merited confidence in his highly touted batting eye, Elmer is the typical Lardner small-town baseball player, who talks an even better game than he plays. Left to himself, he would be perfectly content to remain in the sticks, dividing his time and interest equally between his simple and unaffected girl and his mother's superlative home-cooking. Against his will, however, and by what might be termed underhand machinations, he is induced to sign a contract with the Chicago Cubs. From this point on, things begin to happen, complications arise, the plot thickens. An authority on professional baseball might be tempted to question the verisimilitude of the climax, but it is all good, sound melodrama. In fairness to the author of the play, it should be pointed out that almost all the weakness and technical inaccuracy have crept into the story in the process of being rewritten for the movies. Mr. Lardner's knowledge of the game was too thorough to have allowed

BUDGET DRIVE WILL BE LAUNCHED TUESDAY

Full Co-operation Of Student Body Essential; Many Canvassers Enlisted

PROGRAM IS ENLARGED

Dr. Grenfel's Mission, Band And Many Other Causes To Be Aided

On Tuesday night, October 17th, the annual drive for the fulfillment of the Society of Inquiry's Service Budget for the year 1933-34 will be launched. This year, even more than in former years, the Society must have the complete and whole-hearted co-operation of the student body. As a result of the enlargement and improvement of the yearly program, the budget now reaches a total of two thousand dollars. Several formerly independent school organizations have been included, and an attempt has been made to aid charities which appeal directly to the students themselves.

This expansion means that there will be no other demands made on the school for financial assistance for the different school groups or

MR. AND MRS. A. V. HEELY TOUR AMERICA IN AUTO

Both Are Enthusiastic About The World's Fair In Chicago

Mr. Allan V. Heely, accompanied by Mrs. Heely, left here on a four-thousand mile motor trip in the United States early last July. They first went to the Exposition at Chicago, where they spent three days. Then they made several visits, which included Wisconsin, Minneapolis, Canada, and Lake George, finally arriving home about the first of August.

They are very enthusiastic about the Fair, and found the exhibits extraordinarily interesting. Mr. Heely says that, in his mind, there are three different aspects to the Fair. First, there are the exhibits; second, the architecture; and third, the amusement places and the side shows. He thinks that the architecture is, at its best, very striking and effective, and that at its worst, it is merely eccentric. It is the opinion of Mr. Heely that it will need considerable modification in order to be practical. He believes that, although it is extremely interesting to see the bizarre designs of this modernistic style for the first time, people will very easily become tired of it after a while. Mr. Heely also remarked about how extremely tired he became after a day at the Fair, both mentally and physically.

Representation From Eight States Gives Phillips Academy Eleven National Tinge

(Editor's Note: In a recent article by Caswell Adams attention is drawn to Andover's representative football team.)

Andover's reputation as a "national" school is borne out this fall and a glance at the football line-up reveals that there are players from eight states among the eleven regulars. But this, according to historians, is not a record. Dr. Claude Fuess, headmaster and historian of Andover, remembers a year when all eleven men on the team were from eleven different states.

New York leads this fall with three representatives and Michigan has two. Other states represented on the Blue eleven are California, New Jersey, Illinois, Connecticut,

HEADMASTER ENTHUSIASTIC

Donation Recalls Establishment In 1928 Of The Alfred E. Stearns Memorial Foundation

On the eve of its annual budget drive the Society of Inquiry has announced an important and unique addition to its list of budgetary items. This year the Society will provide for two Society of Inquiry scholarships of two hundred dollars each, these to be included in the regular financial estimate. Many changes and improvements have been effected in this year's budget, but this, we believe, is the outstanding one, and the one which is of the most direct benefit to the school. It is a progressive, wholly worthwhile innovation, and it has received the enthusiastic approval of the headmaster. It is squarely in line with Inquiry's traditional policy of rendering service to the student body.

For several years Exeter's Christian Association has offered a similar scholarship, and this fact is partly responsible for the creation of Andover's two new scholarships. Dr. Fuess will select the two men who have attended the school for at least one year and who, from the standpoint of character, intellectual ability, and personal needs are most deserving of assistance, and who best exemplify the ideals for which the Society of Inquiry stands. The recipients will remain unknown except to Dr. Fuess.

The present scholarship donation calls to mind the memorable

SUNDAY'S PREACHER DR. T. A. GREENE

Graduate And Former Religious Advisor Of Amherst College; Has Aided Dr. Grenfel

A great friend of Doctor Fuess, Doctor Theodore A. Greene, is going to preach at the Sunday Chapel Service. He graduated from Amherst in 1913 and was for two years the religious adviser there. He was a member of Alpha Delta Phi. He studied at the Union Theological Seminary to become a minister and is the preacher of the First Christ Church (Center Congregational) of New Britain, Connecticut. His father was pastor of the West Parish Church in Andover. Doctor Greene has worked with Doctor Grenfel who is a missionary to the Eskimos. He preaches at many schools and colleges and is very popular with the students.

Wanted—A Columnist

THE PHILLIPIAN wants a columnist. THE PHILLIPIAN wants a columnist and is willing to pay for one.

In spite of the "New Era of Economics" the basic law of supply and demand is still at work. The popular approval with which "Sport Shots" has been greeted by the student body has created a demand for an additional column which will deal in an individual and idiomatic way with the wider scope of school activities and with the various personalities that people the Hill. The editors of THE PHILLIPIAN, therefore, have decided to meet this increase in demand by an increase in supply. They are going to revive the popular "In Passing" column.

In order that the best man may be secured for the job—a man with an eye for bits and a flair for writing them—THE PHILLIPIAN editors will make their selection by means of an "In Passing" Contest. All those interested, therefore, will hand in to THE PHILLIPIAN office or to Frank Rounds at Paul Revere 26, a trial "In Passing" column of three to seven hundred words on or before Monday, October 23, at 8 p. m. The best three of all these will be picked to write "In Passing" for the following three weeks. At the end of that time one of them will be chosen as permanent columnist.

The rewards accompanying the honor are rich. The columnist will attend all Academy movies, entertainments, dances, and athletic contests at the expense of THE PHILLIPIAN. This will include games at Exeter, and the hockey game and relay race in Boston. He will automatically become a member of the board of associate editors of THE PHILLIPIAN.

The contest is open to all students—new or old—and including those at present heeling for THE PHILLIPIAN. All papers submitted should be titled, "In Passing," and should have on the outside the name and the Andover address of the writer.

A Worthy Cause

It has been interesting to watch the changes that have taken place at Phillips Academy during the past year or so. It would be impossible to do justice to each change in itself, but we do feel that Dr. Fuess, the Trustees, and the Faculty with their modern, progressive ideas have put a new life and enthusiasm into the student body. Last spring the Senior Council, the Advisory Board, and the Society of Inquiry revised their respective constitutions. The Open Door Committee, under the direction of Mr. Boyle, has been reorganized. The new men were royally treated this year at the much reformed Society of Inquiry reception.

The Society of Inquiry has also completely rearranged its budget, in an effort to make a more direct appeal to the student body and to more accurately represent the school activities. The band for the first time in its brief history will receive complete financial backing under this revamped budget, and Toe II and the Loan Library will also benefit. These facts mean that, outside of the regular budget drive of the Society, there will be no demands made on the students by the individual organizations. Inquiry has, in fact, taken the form of a "Community Chest" in Andover, fulfilling under one broad head the needs of all branches of school life.

Now there is only one catch. These items have all been included in the budget, but this budget, which has very naturally been increased in size, must be met by the money contributed by the undergraduate body. The annual drive for this purpose will soon get underway. We all want a respectable band, we are all interested to some extent in the other school activities, and we all approve of such work as Dr. Grenfel's, and we therefore must give. There are obviously some who cannot give as much as others, but if everyone does his full part we should have no trouble in beating Exeter's corresponding budget of $2400.

half there was a great deal of fumbling. The Gauls fumbled to the Greeks, and the Greeks soon lost the ball to their opponents by the same method.

ROMANS VS. SAXONS

The Romans and the Saxons battled to a 0-0 finish in a hard-fought football game last Wednesday afternoon. Both teams showed marked improvement in playing over the week before.

side berth, but in all probability the latter will start in that position on Wednesday. Swiehart, a new man, who has a reputation of being a good player, will try out at center forward. If he shows up well in the Tufts game, he may secure that position regularly and ought to be a great asset to the team. Simpson, who started the Tabor game at center halfback, will most likely be at one of the fullback stations in the starting line-up against Tufts.

Coach Ryley reports that Rand and Bagg have shown a remarkable improvement in this week's practice.

The squad now consists of approximately twenty-two men, and there will be no more cuts. The coach very soon is going to look over the various club teams and pick out for the varsity squad the men who seem most promising, especially Juniors and Lower Middlers. This will assure an abundance of experienced material for the teams of the next two or three years.

The probable line-up for the Tufts Freshman game is as follows:

occasion in 1928, the year of Andover's Sesquicentennial celebration, when the Society of Inquiry, in the name of the student body, started the Alfred E. Stearns Memorial Fund. This Fund was instituted in "deep appreciation of the service and leadership of Dr.

Stearns, the Headmaster, on the 25th anniversary of his successful administration". The Society presented to the Trustees the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, to serve as a basis for the Fund. This amount was placed on interest and will be held in trust by the officials of Phillips Academy for one hundred and fifty years. Then, on the 300th anniversary of the school, it will be withdrawn and used for some worthy purpose at Andover. The fund is unrestricted and may be added to at any time from any source.

The Society of Inquiry itself inaugurated the foundation with a check for one hundred dollars as a direct gift to form the nucleus for future additions. The trustees gratefully accepted the entire proposal, and the Alfred E. Stearns Fund is now well established, a tribute to Dr. Stearns's great ability and devotion, and an expression of the admiration of the students.

It is just such movements as these, the Stearns Foundation and the S. of I. scholarships, that strengthen the contacts between student and faculty, and give each fellow a more intimately personal relation with the school and with his classmates. Society's latest action is in all respects a highly commendable one, and we can only hope that the future will reveal more developments of the same nature.

Budget Drive Will Be Launched Tuesday

movements. The Society of Inquiry now has a sort of blanket effect, incorporating many units into one. Each fellow will be asked to pledge five dollars, a sum which must be given if the budget is to be met. Since Exeter, with approximately the same enrollment, meets an even larger budget, the Executive Board feels confident of success here.

The Budget follows with a few words in explanation of some of the less familiar items.

Dr. Grenfel's Mission, $100.
Student Division of Y. M. C. A., $200: the organized student movement in the United States; promotes mid-winter school conferences and the June Blairstown Conference.

Hampton Institute, $100.
Local:
Visiting Speakers, Guests, etc., $300.

Band, $300. This contribution entirely supports the band, which it is understood will remain organized throughout the year, and will function more often than in the past.

Two S. of I. Scholarships, $400. Explained in today's PHILLIPIAN.
Emergency Fund, $150.

Andover Guild, $100. Provides for year-round vocational training for Andover needy children, and for local social work.

Loan Library Fund, $100. Used to extend facilities and scope of the now inadequate Loan Library.

Toe II, $75—a school organization devoted to making war impossible and to aiding the needy in Andover and Lawrence.

Salvation Army (local division), $75.

Conferences, $75. Used to send interested Andover students to the Prep school conferences.

Prep Reception, $30.
Total, $2000.

The pledges this year will be payable up until the Christmas vacation. An unusually large group of forty-five men will serve as canvassers, working in pairs and covering every dormitory and private house on the campus, as well as the library. The men will meet in Pearson Hall about a half hour before the drive begins, where Mr. Heely will speak to them concerning its conduct and purposes. The canvassers, comprising the Executive Board of the Society of Inquiry and prominent and interested students, are as follows: Fletcher, Wolf, Chamberlain, Heller, Sides, Wickwire, Cross, Kellogg, Campion, Henry, Kitchel, Wingate, Coe, R. Porter, Little, Thompson, Cooper, N. Brown, Burdick, Fine, Stratton, Castle, McLean, Woolsey, Mudge, Platt, Ellis, Jennings, West, Moyer, J. strument is urgently requested to report. There are at present about a dozen members of last year's band who have failed to report,
and it is presumably these whom
Mr. Ives had in mind when he made his statement.

the inclusion of anything unrealistic.

One of the most fascinating features of the picture is the sight of Mr. Brown piling enough food into his mouth to feed the whole baseball club. His aptitude for this branch of living, as well as his experience as a ball player, must have been instrumental in securing him the part. The remainder of the cast is negligible; Patricia Ellis is little more than adequate as the rustic sweetheart back home.

dominal strength. In this a student must hang on a bar, with his feet off the ground and then must lift his feet up to touch the bar on which he is swinging. This movement must be repeated twelve times for a perfect score and three times to score. The half-mile must be run in two minutes fifty seconds for the maximum score. This is a test of a student's endurance, leg power, and stability. The 100-yard swim does not necessarily have to be done in any certain time, but each man must have completed this test perfectly before he can leave the swimming class.

Do you remember

... all of the claims that have been made about smoking tobacco—how it was that one was this and that one was that?

After all, what you want to know when you get a thing for a certain purpose is . . .

"Was it made for that?"

Granger is made of White Burley—the kind of leaf tobacco that's best for pipes.

And old man Wellman, who taught us how to make Granger, knew how.

Granger is made to smoke in a pipe—and folks seem to like it.
