ENDICOTT OUTSTANDING

Memorial Day Victory Marred
By Many Errors

In their last two games before the Exeter contest the Andover batsmen chalked up their ninth and tenth victories. Last Friday they overcame the Lawrence Academy team, 8-2, and on Monday they nosed out the Andover Town Team, 4-2. Endicott's flawless hurling and bingos from the bats of Peters, Murphy, O'Brien, and Harrison were the predominant factors in the Lawrence victory, while against the Town Team, although they got only four hits to the opponents' seven, they used to advantage all breaks to come out ahead.

On Friday the Blue rapped the opposing pitcher for eleven hits and an easy victory. Murphy and Endicott, each hit a two-bagger, Murphy getting a single besides. Peters, O'Brien and Captain Harrison, who rested from his pitching duties in this game, were also responsible for two hits apiece.

Endicott's Pitching Effective

Real credit for the victory goes to Endicott, who started his first game of the season in the box. In the six innings he pitched, although he struck out only three, he allowed only one hit. He had something on the ball that made the opposing batters pop up. In the six innings, six of the opponents flied to the outfield and five to the infield. Only three grounded out in this time. Because of a sore arm Endicott was relieved by Hazen in the seventh, and the latter did equally as well for two frames, but in the last inning he weakened a bit, allowing five hits before he could fan his fourth victim to end the game, the result being two runs for Lawrence.

In the second inning Murphy led off and got on base on an error, stealing second a minute later. Endicott followed him and flied out. Then Hazen went to first through another error, at the same time advancing Murphy to third. The latter came in when Anderson was thrown out at first. In the third Harrison led off with a hit, was ad-

Captain Crosby, Jackson, And Kingsley, Exeter Stars

Climaxing an already successful season that contains only two defeats, the Andover baseball team will invade Exeter tomorrow, a decided favorite over their traditional rivals. The Blue have won ten engagements so far, having lost only to the Yale and Boston College Freshmen, while Exeter's season has been precisely the opposite. For this reason if for no other, Coach Burdett's men are favored.

Starting on the mound for the Blue will be Captain Harrison, the winning pitcher of last year's 6-1 victory over the Red and Gray. Harrison has pitched effectively all season, having gone the route in four different games. Altogether he has hurled in ten of the twelve games, playing outfield and first base when not in the box. Also, he is a fair hitter, and his average is not far below the leading batsmen.

Behind the bat will be Woodward, who is a veteran of three years on the varsity squad. He played second base in the Exeter game last year, but was converted into a backstop this Spring, and has been doing very well all season. He is one of the leading hitters of the team.

Hazen To Play First

Hazen will be on the initial sack, which position, along with the pitching, he has shared with Harrison. On second will be Dudan, a Lower Middler who has starred on both the basketball and baseball teams this year. He has been hitting consistently all season, often for more than one base, and is a competent infielder. Sharing with him the duties at the keystone sack, will be veteran O'Brien, who has seen three years on the varsity. O'Brien was out for a while in the middle of the season, due to an operation. He has played in the last few games, however, having Hank Williams run the bases for him, but he will be perfectly all right tomorrow. Completing the infield, the hot corner will be guarded by Ray Anderson, who has already helped to beat Exeter twice this year, on the football and

With eight returning letter-men, the outlook at the start of the season was promising for Sim Murch, coach of the Exeter baseball team. However, at the present time with only one game to be played before the Andover contest, the Red and Gray team has a very poor record of three victories and nine losses.

After being defeated 7-4 in its initial start, the Academy nine dropped an 8-5 game to the Harvard Frosh in spite of a ninth inning rally which netted three runs. The next game resulted in a 7-3 victory for the home team over a weak

DONAHUE SETS RECORD

Broad Jump Swept By Blue As
Hurdle Marks Fall

Closing its season in a burst of triumph, Andover's track and field stars defeated the aggregation of its ancient rival, Exeter, by the decisive score of 87 1-3 to 38 2-3 last Saturday on the home oval. Following the example of the first team, the second team piled up the record score of 106-20 to make the day one of complete victory for the Blue.

To start the massacre, Donahue and Osborn placed first and second respectively in the 120-yard high hurdles. The winner, Donahue, set a new meet record of 15.4 seconds for this event, breaking that of 15.6 seconds made by Donovan of Exeter in 1934. Rodman of the Red and Gray placed third. Victor, Andover's star sprinter, then won the 100-yard dash, with his teammate, Robie, placing a close second, Sleeper of Exeter winning the remaining point. The winning time was 10 seconds, which equals the Interscholastic record.

Lena of the Blue raced to victory in the mile with a time of 4:41.4, closely contested for first place throughout the race by Falconer. Tweedy of the opposition eked out third place with a surprisingly strong finish. Co-captain Kiley, running the quarter for the first time this season, displayed remarkable form in staving off the rush of Russell, the Crimson's captain, for first place. Pierce of Andover finished in the third position, not far behind the winner, the time of this event being 52.2 seconds.

Donahue Breaks Record

Donahue completed a double for the Blue in the 220-yard low hurdles in the astonishing time of 24.4 seconds, shattering both the meet record of 24.6 seconds set by Brown of Andover in 1932, and the school record of 24.6 seconds set by H. W. Cole in 1922. This new record also bettered the time which Donahue set up as the Interscholastic record on May 22. He was closely followed by Osborn.

Extraordinary Incidents Feature Fifty-six Years Of Andover-Exeter Baseball Games

After many years of Andover-Exeter games, there have been quite a few outstanding events. During this time, Andover has had a large number of excellent baseball players, who, after graduating, have often become captains of college teams and set many records. Although the majority of the incidents which have happened in the Andover-Exeter games pertain to the actual playing, there are some that are very amusing.

First Prep School Nine

Andover has the distinction of being the first prep school in the country to have a baseball squad. This team, formed in the year 1867, was due to the efforts of Archie Bush, who became the captain of the Harvard team three years later. In the following year the Blue team played Yale and Harvard, but it was not until 1878 that they met an Exeter squad. Exeter won this game 10 to 8, but the Philo-Mirror explained the defeat in a few words. Their explanation was, "Owing to the gross ignorance of the umpire and the unevenness of the Exeter field, we were defeated." The two teams met a second time that year with Andover again the loser 12 to 1, but in the third game Andover won 10 to 2.

In 1881 Pi Yuk made his debut in the Andover-Exeter game. When he came to bat in the first inning, he

Bishop Francis McConnell To Lead Services Sunday

The visiting preacher next Sunday will be Bishop Francis J. McConnell, a distinguished clergyman and educator. Bishop McConnell held the office of President of DePauw University from 1909 to 1912, at which time he was elected a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He holds the degrees of Ph.D., D.D., and LL.D., and has written many books on religious topics.

Grantland Rice Discusses Modern Athletes And The Future In Princetonian Interview

"Louis, Schmeling or Braddock, —I suppose one of them will win, but you can't make a guess when you don't even know for sure who is going to fight," was Grantland Rice's answer to a query about the coming heavyweight bout. "It's certainly a queer situation."

"Here is something you might be interested in, though," he volunteered. "There is a young comer, Ralph Odell, who ought to be giving the winner plenty of trouble soon. Odell was an all-state half-back in Iowa two years ago and he has been taken in tow by a group of former college football stars, principally Eddie Hart who was in the Class of 1912 at Princeton and captain of the great team on which Sam White ran riot several times. Eddie knows the fight game and figures this boy for the championship within two years.

"Odell has had nine fights in the past three months, and eight of the nine were knockout victories, with the ninth a no-decision affair against a left-hander. He's a terrific puncher, so Eddie tells me, can take plenty of punishment and has an amazing ring spirit. What more can you ask for in a fighter still relatively inexperienced? With what he has he's due to go far."

Mr. Rice was asked what gave him his start as a sports writer.

in which Captain Russell was victorious, in the time of 2:02.8, beating out Main by about a foot. Campbell of Exeter took third.

Lacey of Exeter, the holder of the meet record of 189 feet in the javelin, repeated his victory of last year with a throw of 174 ft. 5 in. Second was Andover's Howard with 160 ft. 7 in., and third, Jackson, also of the Blue, with 155 ft. 7 in. Burnam won the hammer throw, hurling the weight 171 ft. 3 in., second place going to his teammate Davis, whose toss was 164 ft. 8 in. in length. Alexander, the leading Exeter candidate, captured third with a heave of 160 ft. 7 in.

Rendleman Sets Discus Record

Barker and Rendleman of the Red and Gray succeeded in placing one two in the shot put with throws of 50 ft. 11 1-2 in. and 47 ft. 6 1-2 in. respectively. Dempsey received third for his 47 ft. 4 1-2 in. heave. Rendleman added a much-needed 5 points to Exeter's total by winning the discus throw, with a toss of 139 ft. 8 in., which broke the meet record of 132 ft. 3 in. set by Johnson of Exeter in 1931. Herring took second place, also breaking the record with a throw of 135 ft. Third place was secured by Alexander of the Red and Gray with a heave of 119 ft. 8 in.

Pole Vault Thrilling

The pole vault brought forth exciting competition between Macomber of the Blue and Grimes of the opposition, the latter emerging victorious at the height of 11 ft. 4 in., his rival capturing second place four inches lower. Stevens of Andover placing third, cleared 10 ft. 8 in. successfully. Brunet and Gould, both of Andover, tied for first in the high jump at 5 ft. 10 in., while Co-captain Swihart was in a triple tie for third with Captain Russell and Boehm of Exeter at 5 ft. 6 in. Huling led Andover's sweep of the broad jump with a jump of 22 ft. 3 1-2 in. Co-captain Swihart was second with 20 ft. 5 7-8 in. followed by Jackson with 20 ft.

Second Team Wins

The second team demonstrated its superiority by allowing Exeter only 20 points. Koch and Pirnie finished first and second in the high hurdles in the time of 16.6 seconds, while Stevenson of Exeter placed third. Bowen and Heck repeated this feat in the 100-yard dash with the time of 10.8, third place going to Exeter's Black. Bowen, Dearborn, and Hill swept the 220-yard dash for the Blue with a 24.2 clocking. Shortly after, Pirnie and Underwood took eight points in the low hurdles with a time of 26.2. Sargent of the Red and Gray captured the remaining point.

Reed won the mile in 5:05.8 with Coughlin of Andover finishing a close second, followed by Richardson of the opposition. Price of Andover won the quarter, while Lowell, his teammate, finished second. Brundage of Exeter placed third. Eddy, in third place, was the only Andover man to score in the 880-yard run as Pfeifferberger and Wear of Exeter took the event in 2:07.4.

Kausel, Shepard, and Pike swept the javelin for the Blue, Kausel throwing the shaft 141 ft. 2 3-4 in. Day, Coxe, and Winternitz shut Exeter out in the hammer throw. Day received his major letter for setting a new second team record with a throw of 156 ft. Bump also broke the second team record in the shot put with a 45-foot heave, Hearne and Wearin of Exeter finishing in a tie for second place. Andover swept the discus as Guy Dempsey threw 101 ft. 1 in. to win, followed by Adam and Meech.

Victor and Robie run one two against Red and Gray in 220 to aid Andover in 87 1/2-38 3/4 defeat of traditional rival.

All-Club Routs Red In Baseball Contest

3-Hit, 9-Strikeout Pitching Of Davis A Large Factor In 7-1 Victory

Under a hot sun the Andover all-club baseball team defeated Exeter's all-class nine 7-1 on Wednesday afternoon. Coached by Messrs. Follansbee and Severance, the Blue was never threatened for supremacy, after establishing an early lead.

After scoreless first and second innings, the first run of the afternoon crossed the plate when Davis, Andover's pitcher, came home, driven in by Hyde and Liverance. The enemy was again shut out in the fourth while DeFelice's single and base-stealing ability brought in the second run of the game. The next tally was registered by Liverance who scored on a sacrifice.

Davis, who had for the first five innings pitched no-hit ball, let the first enemy clout go by when Johnson pounded out a single. However, the Exonians were soon retired one, two, three, while Davis again tallied on Hyde's hit, putting the count at 4-0 in favor of the Blue. Starting off the seventh for Exeter, Byer reached first on balls and was driven in on Wilkes's long triple for their first score. Nevertheless, the home team soon retaliated when Hart, who received a walk, came home on hits by DeFelice and Kranichfeld, the former also scoring before the side was retired. Despite two errors for the Blue, the Exeter nine went scoreless in the first half of the eighth. Hyde's hit put him in scoring position and he came in followed by Liverance. This was the last score of the game, as pitcher Davis came back in the first half of the ninth to strike out three Exeter players and remove need for a final half.

Outstanding in the encounter was the hurling of Davis who struck out nine of the enemy and walked only four. At the same time he allowed only three hits and one run, scoring twice himself. Hyde and DeFelice shared hitting honors with two hits each, while Wilkes of Exeter and Brady of P. A. both hit triples.

The line-up was as follows:
Davis, p. Johnson
Hyde, c. Klapp
Jameson, 1b. 1b. Wilke
Brady, 2b. 2b. Roy
Hart, 3b. 3b. Stuart
Blanchard, ss. Wright

Close Decisions Move Winners Ahead In Even Competition

Keeping up their good showing in the preceding track meets, in which they were continually victorious, the Saxons again won by a score of 65 to 52, this time over the Gauls. If the Orange team continues to win as they have in the past, they will undoubtedly emerge victors. Although the Greeks are not yet up to the standard of the Saxons, they are not lingering too far behind, beating their opponents the Romans in the last meet 65 to 51, missing

Stickmen Lose All-Club Contest To Red And Gray

Very Small Margin Determines The Final Outcome Of Wednesday's Game

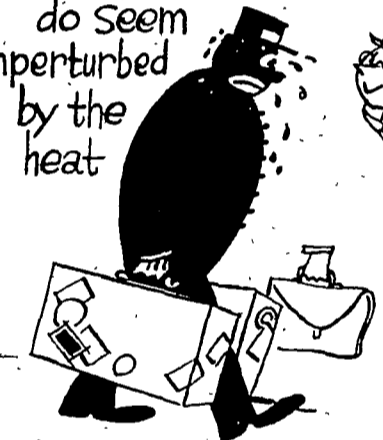

As a climax to this season's Club Lacrosse, an Exeter-Andover game was played on the varsity football field last Wednesday afternoon. In view of the fact that lacrosse is now one of the major sports of Exeter, the size of the visiting team's audience was almost as large as that of the track meet.

During the first quarter Exeter was playing mostly on the defensive and Andover on the offensive. While milling around their opponents goal the Andover stickmen were provided with several good scoring opportunities which they finally made the best of, scoring two quick goals in succession. The Exeter goal guard played his position skillfully and not only did he prevent a quantity of goals but he also played a part in the Exeter passing system leaving the sacred net to throw the ball to his teammates. Towards the end of the first quarter Exeter managed to play the ball down the field

Beanery Workers Hold Banquet; Addressed By Messrs. Fuess, Lynde, And Eccles

Attending the annual waiters' banquet in Sawyer Hall last night were all the student employees of the Commons. Many were the delicious courses served to them for the occasion. The dinner began at seven-thirty, and including the after-dinner speeches delivered by Dr. Fuess, Mr. Lynde, and Dr. Eccles, it lasted until half-past nine.

Seated at the head table were the above-mentioned speakers and the headwaiters: J. P. Lyford, T. H. Lena, R. E. Fagley, Edmund Ocum-paugh, and Gordon Kent. Mr. Fagley introduced the first speaker, Dr. Fuess, who gave a brief and interesting talk in his own inimitable way. He started by telling some of his experiences in the old "Beanery." One was especially humorous. It seems that the headmaster was taking a meal there one day, and was being waited upon by the captain of the football team. In bringing in the luscious steak that Dr. Fuess had ordered, the waiter accidentally dropped it on the floor. Dr. Fuess was thereupon no little amazed to see the waiter pick the steak up, dust it off, and then set it before him. Then Dr. Fuess explained that he himself had been brought up in a slightly different way, but he said, for fear of offending the football captain he ate the steak. The headmaster concluded his talk by congratulating the Commons workers for the excellent job they have been doing, and thanked them all for their co-operation.

Mr. Lyford introduced the next speaker, Mr. Lynde, who made another fine talk. He apologized for his lack of a funny story but substituted for it an amusing letter written him some years ago by an applicant for admission to Andover, which was much enjoyed by the listeners. Dr. Eccles, the third speaker, was introduced by Mr. Lena. He began by apologizing for the absence of Mr. Hopper, who was unable to come at the last minute, telling a story given him by Mr. Hopper to compensate for the latter's inability to appear. Dr. Eccles, the administrator of the interests of the scholarship boys, closed his speech by complimenting them for their good work.

Before the dinner was adjourned, Miss Langlois, the hostess, announced the headwaiters for next year. They are as follows: Stearns Hall: Charles Henry Dearborn of Great Neck, L. I.; Alger Hall: William May Pike of Derby Line, Vt.; Stevens Hall: Alonzo Earle Hearne of Medford, Mass.; Pantry No. 1: Gordon Kent of Woodstock, Vt.; Pantry No. 2: James Rider Donaldson of Princeton, Mass.

There was one bright spot in the defeat of our tennis forces at the hands of Choate. Captain Harry Thompson and Dave Wilhelm really went to town against the national interscholastic doubles champion team of Low and Daniels. This lone victory was very sweet.

Victory Rules

In order that there may be no misunderstanding about the special rules which apply for the Exeter baseball game, they are stated here-with:

Each boy, whether he goes to Exeter or not, must check in at George Washington Hall immediately after the arrival of the special train returning from Exeter and before dinner. It is important to note that this rule applies not only to those who leave the campus but also to those who remain in Andover. Be sure your name is properly checked. Town boys need not report.

Boys attending the game must travel both ways on the special train. No boy may go or come by automobile.

Disorder of any kind on the train, going or coming, is strictly forbidden. Offenders will be severely punished.

After the game, whether the team wins or loses, undergraduates must remain together in the stands under the direction of the cheer leaders, and march directly from the field to the station. The special train will start back immediately after the arrival of the student body at the station.

If there is a victory each boy must check in at George Washington Hall immediately after the celebration. The time will be announced by the cheer leaders. He must then go directly to the movies or else report immediately to his dormitory or house, where he will check the time

Sad Showing

When the Exeter track team journeyed to Andover last week, it was escorted and championed by a few half-hearted individuals who still had enough pride in their great school to have hope at least. Such a sad showing was almost worse than no turnout at all. These forlorn few did their best to lend an atmosphere of the ancient Andover-Exeter rivalry to the encounter, but in the light of past contests, their turnout was indeed unimpressive.

However, tomorrow Exeter is extending to us the opportunity of enjoying and cheering what may be one of the greatest ball games of the traditional rivalry. Unknown to many the Exeter team has shown a decided improvement over their bad start, and although they are strong, we are fortunate in having what we know to be a stronger team. Tomorrow is a great day at Exeter: the alumni are back, and they are anxious to see another Exeter victory and to feel once again the spirit which they left and which it is now our privilege to enjoy.

But if we, as well as they, are to revive once again this spirit, we must make up many times over the sad showing that Exeter made here. We shall not put it, as our contemporary, the Exonian, did, "those who have nothing better to do." Whether we have anything better to do or not, there are many men to be out-cheered at Exeter tomorrow and a great team to be upheld.

Mirror

As evidenced by both the fall and winter issues, there has been a marked development in the Mirror during the current school year. Increased art content as well as a deviation from the usual pen and ink drawing on the cover have proved enormously popular with the student body, and are in turn a credit to those who have produced a publication worthy of the praise it has received. Climaxing a successful year, the present board of officers will soon present the spring issue of the Mirror, which, from snatched previews, appears to satisfy the precedent set by earlier issues.

Once known as the Vagabond, the Mirror has a long and interesting history, but throughout many years of change, it has maintained the aim of presenting the literary and cultural side of Andover life. Toward this end the Mirror has worked this year, but rather than offering for approval the literary endeavors of a few, it has thrown open its pages to the work of the school at large. While doing this, however, the quality of its material has remained at a high level, and it is hoped that this reflects a trend toward better writing in secondary schools.

For a combination of reasons, namely its high literary standard and its definite value as a school publication, the Mirror is an organization which demands the enthusiastic interest of the students. When the final issue appears early next week, the opportunity will be afforded to offer support in its behalf and to encourage next year's staff to continue the fine policy that has been maintained throughout this year.

HERE and THERE

Hitherto there has been little probability that the civil strife in Spain might turn into another World War. This week, however, the peace of Europe was seriously threatened by the action of Germany, who for a long time has been flouting the non-intervention committee by openly carrying on war against the loyalists.

In return for a loyalist bombing raid on a German "pocket battleship," Nazi warships opened fire on the town of Almeria which is held by loyalist forces and contains about 80,000 people. Many inhabitants were killed, a great many more were injured, and a number of buildings were wrecked.

Soon after the attack on Almeria, Germany made the situation even more critical by increasing its fleet off Spain. Simultaneously with the shelling of Almeria, came the news that Germany was breaking off negotiations with the non-intervention committee, which is a gathering of representatives from the various powers of Europe who meet and regulate the actions of the various countries in Spain. Now the Germans will have no hand to restrain them and it will be very easy for them to spread the war all over Europe by some other outrageous act such as the shelling of Almeria.

Germany has also stirred up further alarm among the peace-loving nations by sending Von Blomberg, her War Minister, to Italy, whose policies are very much in common with those of Germany. It is very probable that Von Blomberg will talk over with Italian authorities certain strategic matters including possible military cooperation between the powers in case of war.

Successful in their attempt to organize the workers in the steel mills around Pittsburgh, the C I O has swung its attack westward, concentrating on the Youngstown region. Nearly all the large steel companies in this area have been hit by strikes, but only one, the Republic Steel Company, has attempted to operate in defiance of the C I O.

About 40% of the workers are still on the job inside this mill. The strikers have successfully thwarted attempts to get food to those inside, and from all indications, it seems that the non-strikers will be starved out. As for the other steel mills, their heads have refused to sign a truce with the C I O and have not allowed themselves to submit to the union's demands. Although they are putting up a bold front, it seems probable in view of the C I O's recent victories in Pittsburgh and Michigan, that they will eventually have to give in.

"THIS ANDOVER"

A certain comment we made in this column a week ago congratulating the "beanery" on improving the food, became bitter irony within a few hours. Perhaps we should not be quoted, but our guess is that at least 85 percent of the school was sick last Friday night. No need to go into the details about it. They are familiar enough to anybody who ate the "lamb croquettes" for Friday luncheon a week ago. Now we don't mean to take back exactly everything we said about the "beanery's" making an effort to improve, but, as so many have said, there certainly was something fishy somewhere—and we have a feeling it was the "lamb croquettes" (that's just a guess). Mistakes are made everywhere, though, and one must excuse a slip once in a while on the part of any institution. We were almost ready to forgive the "beanery" their mistake when the story was rumored that the "beanery" attributed the sicknesses to "bugs in the air" and "bad water." As for the first, we are willing to admit the rumor is a wild one; as for the possibility of there being bad water in Andover, we doubt it, for 100 percent drank water last Friday, and at least 15 percent were wise enough to abstain from "lamb croquettes." It is not our place exactly to say what should be done about such incidents, but we feel that it should go on record, in case the future should produce a generation of Andover men who are interested in improvement.

Just a little note here to remind those who do not choose to attend the baseball game tomorrow that we don't think much of them.

Long week-ends are an excellent thing; that's all there is to it. Dr. Fuess has pointed out the advantages of such and the school has proven them practical. One faculty member was heard to say, however, that an Exeter meet, a victory celebration, a movie, and a long week-end all in the same bunch is too big an order for a student to take care of. As far as we can see, there has been no trouble in taking care of this last week-end's time, and we don't think there was much of a slip in the school routine. Free time isn't what ruins the boy for the next week; it's Boston.

SPORT SHOTS

There is not much comment for us to make about the track meet, for the score tells the story. With six straight wins over the Red and Gray it is becoming monotonous. Still we must hand it to the Andover coaches because all but three of the place winners are strictly Andover products.

It was a perfect day for a new hurdle record and Don Donahue made the most of it. In spite of breaking one hurdle, he smashed the sixteen-year-old mark made by Fritz Avery in 1921. Tom Lacey of Exeter was fourteen and a half feet back of his last year's record with the javelin, tossing it 171 feet this trip, but he won with plenty to spare.

Almost everyone in the Andover section was ready to count out Exeter's Captain Bob Russell when he was going into the backstretch on the last lap of the 880. He came through, however, with an amazing finish which is typical of his style, according to reports. His attempted triple was pretty much of a wash-out due in part to the great work of Captain Jock Kiley in the 440.

This year has undoubtedly been one of the most successful in the history of Andover major sports. The Blue forces trampled over their football foes, the tracksters downed all except the Harvard Frosh, and the baseball nine faces its final game with only two defeats. Andover will have gone into each of the three major contests as the favorite over her ancient rival, and if the baseball team comes through Saturday, the old superstition about the favorite usually losing in Andover-Exeter games will have taken it on the chin thrice in succession, which in itself is probably some kind of a record.

Phil Peters has now installed himself as the leading slugger of the diamond crew with a mark of .409. He has been climbing steadily until he has supplanted Johnny Murphy who holds second place with .360. Peters is the only regular with a perfect fielding average, and he also leads in runs scored and stolen bases. He is tied with Pete Dudan for the most-hits leadership. In addition to this fine record Phil has shown plenty of fight which has had much to do with the team's success.

For the second time in a week the Blue team won a game on three hits. The local town team, a member of the Industrial League, fielded a surprisingly strong outfit and came very close to taking the home forces. A streak of wildness on the part of the visiting pitcher was all that marred a game that was unusually well played by both teams. The town team catcher really got hold of one of Endicott's offerings and sent it far enough to have cleared the left field fence if the direction had been a few feet to the north. As in the previous game, Junie O'Brien showed no effects of his illness and his smooth handling of hard-hit balls was a feature.

In their last two games our rivals from New Hampshire have hit their winning stride. Batting power crushed Tilton, while good pitching overcame Governor Dummer on Wednesday. Exeter used three pitchers in the last eight innings of the latter game and among them they did a one hit job.

According to reports, Exeter has abolished the distinction between major and minor sports, thus placing all branches on an equal basis. This innovation will probably materialize at Andover within a few years.

DIRT ON THE DISCS

When Andy Kirk and his boys recorded In The Groove they were really in the groove. That brass section gets off some terrific stuff, and Ben Thigpen's powerful drumming inspires the entire outfit. The most outstanding performances are delivered by Mary Lou Williams on piano and Dick Wilson on tenor sax, both of whom are the composers of this composition. Miss Williams, who is both a talented composer and a very solid orchestral pianist, has a style similar to Fats Waller, with an excellent left hand, which wanders all over the keyboard supplying wonderful harmonic backgrounds, not only for herself in her own solos, but for the rest of the band, both in soloing and unit work. Dick Wilson, although sometimes disappointing, delivers the goods on this one. His playing is very inspired and contains some interesting improvisation with a vibrato that is all right in small quantities. On the other side, Foolin' Myself, there are solos by Williams and Wilson again, and a good vocal by Pha Terrell. Decca 1261

Tommy Dorsey's newest commercial, Mountain Music and Good Mornin', has a couple of swell vocals by the one and only Edyth Wright, and the usual solos by Pee Wee Erwin, Johnny Mince, and Tommy. Not something that will last through the ages but good dance music and good Dorsey. Victor 25581

MOVIE PRE-VIEW

Wake Up and Live with Ben Bernie, Walter Winchell, Alice Faye, Jack Haley, Patsy Kelly, Walter Catlett, and Ned Sparks, heads the Phillips Academy movie bill for tomorrow night. Using the title of Dorothea Brande's best seller, Darryl Zanuck produced this picture to continue on the screen the friendly Winchell-Bernie hostilities begun in radio.

Eddie Kane (Jack Haley), a vaudeville performer, obtains a radio audition through the influence of his sister, Patsy (Patsy Kelly). He is so frightened that he is unable to sing until informed that he faces a "dead mike." He sings, and, as he is connected with the program featuring Ben Bernie's orchestra, attains fame as "the phantom troubadour." The rest of the picture shows the antics of Bernie and Winchell to be the first to discover his identity. Meanwhile, Eddie is persuaded by Alice Huntley (Alice Faye) to continue singing to what he thinks is a "dead mike." The two radio stars play under their own names. The songs are by Gordon and Revel.

The program will be completed by a news reel, a Walt Disney cartoon, a sports reel entitled Lucky Spills, and a Betty Boop cartoon.

into the enemy territory and to score a goal, but the Blue, quick on the return with their passing improving, likewise played the ball down the field to add another point to their score. At the end of the first quarter the score was 3 to 1 in favor of Andover.

Exeter Playing Skillful

The second quarter was not outstanding except that both teams were really beginning to play in earnest, Exeter trying to make up the points. Andover trying to retain her lead. The quick dodging of several of the Andover men brought them within scoring distance of the Exeter goal many times but it seemed that an impregnable mist surrounded the Exeter goal for all attempted shots were in some manner unsuccessful. There was much scrambling around for the ball behind and in the immediate vicinity of the goal, but the Red guard proved fairly strong and they held. Again the Exeter team managed to reverse the field and play to the Andover goal for another point, placing the score at Exeter 2, Andover 3.

Exeter Takes Lead

In the third quarter both teams strengthened their forwards and the playing was executed on a more even basis as Exeter and Andover both scored a point after much hard blocking and passing. In the fourth quarter, with the score Andover 4 and Exeter 3, the Red and Gray team pushed down towards the Andover goal and scored the two points which placed them in the lead. From then on the game became rapidly faster and funnier as both teams frantically batted down the opposing defense for an attempt at a goal only to lose the ball and have it rushed up the other end of the field by the opponents. In this quarter many penalties were placed on the Andover team but these restraints did not in any way hinder the maddened hopes of Le Roux and other determined lacrosse men. During the last few minutes of play Exeter stalled for time by keeping the ball as long as possible without passing and when the whistle sounded, the final score was Exeter 5, Andover 4.

Red And Gray Baseball Season. Unsuccessful, Losing 9 Games

Hyde Park nine. Howell and Howie pitched this game for Exeter.

Then began a string of six consecutive defeats for the Red and Gray team. Most of these losses resulted from poor fielding and a weak attack. The home nine lost to Cushing Academy 8-0, to Yale Freshmen 20-7, to Tufts Freshmen 13-5, to New Hampshire Freshmen, to New Hampton 11-7, and to Huntington School 12-5. They finally came out of the slump with a slugging victory over Tilton School 23-11. For the first time all season the Red and Gray batters really hit the ball. The preliminary games came to a close with a well-earned 4-3 victory over Gov. Dummer.

Although Exeter's record is poor, they have shown themselves capable of playing good baseball. Coach Sim Murch has never been beaten twice in a row by Andover, and tomorrow a fighting Red and Gray team will attempt to uphold this record.

the score of the Saxons by only one point. However, if the Romans, Gauls, and Greeks do well in the meet next Friday they can possibly move the Saxons down from first place.

In the weight throwing contests between the Saxons and the Gauls, all events were won by the Saxons, Page winning the javelin and shot, C. Stoddart the discus, and Somerville the hammer. However, the Gauls retaliated by winning both the jumps, Anderson the broad and Quinby the high. The running events were divided evenly between the two clubs, Heck winning the 100 and 440 and Curtis the 220, for the Saxons; while the 120-yard low hurdles was won by Bishop, the 70-yard by Ewing, and the half mile run by Campbell, for the Gauls.

In the Roman vs. Greek meet the Greeks won three out of the four weight events, Marsh winning the discus and the shot, Wareham the hammer, while Cooper of the Romans took first in the javelin. In the jumping events, however, the Romans were more fortunate and managed to break even, the Romans winning the high jump with O'Brien and the Greeks the broad jump with Flournoy. In the running events again the two clubs broke even. For the Greeks Moffet took the 70-yard hurdle, and Underwood won both the 120 low hurdles and the 220-yard run. For the Romans Finely won the one hundred yard dash, Donaldson the 440, and Grinnel the 880.

Andover Favored Over Exeter For Annual Baseball Clash

was undoubtedly one of the most exciting games of the whole season, each team fighting for the lead that was not determined until the last inning. The third victory came in the next game which saw the Blue opposing Milton Academy on their field. It was a shutout, 10-0, and credit for silencing the enemy's bats went to Hazen and Harrison, who continued to share the pitching assignments.

Yale Scores First Defeat

The Blue first tasted defeat in the next engagement, at the hands of Ex-Andover Captain Harry Holt's Yale Freshmen. Eurenius, last year's Blue third baseman, and Bus Burdett, last year's backstop, also played against their former teammates. Burdett, incidentally, hit a triple, which was a prominent factor in this heartbreaking 5-4 defeat. It was the first time Captain Harrison went the route, and he deserved to win in view of the excellent performance he turned in, striking out eleven and yielding only six hits. It was at this time that the team first suffered the loss of Anderson and O'Brien, both of whom were out for the next three or four games.

Defeated By Boston College

Harrison had more bad luck when, through no fault of his, the team bowed for the second time, 10-6, to Boston College '40. The Blue found the yearling pitcher for thirteen hits, including Murphy's homer, but they also made three errors, the real reason for the defeat. After this contest the team came back into the winning column, beating the New Hampshire Freshmen, 5-1. Phelan started his first game on the mound then and held the visitors hitless for the five innings he occupied the mound. Hazen finished the game.

Governor Dummer was the next to fall before the Blue. Harrison and Hazen again pitched and won 9-7, on the opponents' diamond. The Harvard Freshmen were subdued after that, 9-5, in a long, drawn out contest, marked by the use of four Andover pitchers, among whom was Endicott, who pitched for the first time this season. MacDonald, this year's captain-elect played again in his former right field position on Brothers Field, but against his old teammates. After the Harvard game followed the unimportant Tufts '40 engagement, in which the Blue easily won, 11-2, but following that came the game with Worcester

Academy, a previously undefeated team, who were expected to give the Blue its third shellacking. However, helped by the breaks, the team won 5-1, despite the fact that they got only four hits to the seven allowed by Harrison who went the route and turned in probably his best performance of the year, striking out twelve.

The last two games with Lawrence Academy last Friday and the Andover Town Team last Monday, were won 8-2 and 4-2 respectively.

vanced by Dudan's sacrifice, and came home on Peters's single.

Sixth Frame Score-Studded

In the sixth Woodward led off with a hit and scored on Murphy's double. Endicott then hit another double, scoring Murphy, and moved on when Hazen grounded to second. Although Anderson struck out, O'Brien and Harrison each pounded out a single before Dudan popped up for the third out, and Endicott tallied. In the seventh the Blue scored three more runs, but although Peters, Murphy, and O'Brien all hit, the score was chiefly due to two errors by Lawrence, and two walks given by their pitcher.

Andover Victorious Monday

On Monday the Blue again won. They hit less than their opponents, the Andover Town Team, but managed to get five bases on balls in one inning, which gave them the game, 4-2. Endicott started on the mound again, and turned in another creditable job, allowing only five hits in five innings.

To have another turn in the box before Saturday, Captain Harrison relieved him in the sixth. Endicott also did his share at the plate, pounding out two hits, one at a very opportune moment in the sixth frame. Woodward and Hazen were each responsible for one of the other two hits the team made.

Andover scored once in the fifth on hits by Endicott and Hazen, but the big inning was the sixth, when with only one hit, they tallied three times. This was because the opposing pitcher blew up and walked five men. Dudan led off and was the first to receive a pass. Peters followed and got another walk. Woodward then struck out and Murphy fled out to center. With two outs and men on first and second, Endicott hit a single, sending Dudan home and Peters to third. Peters did not score until two more men had been walked, forcing him home and filling the bags. A new pitcher was then sent in for the opponents, but the first man to face him, O'Brien, also walked, forcing in Endicott for another run. Although Harrison fanned for the third out, Andover had batted round.

Throughout the rest of the game the score remained the same, and so ended the last game before the invasion of Exeter tomorrow. The team will go into the climax engagement with a record of ten victories against only two defeats for the season.

basketball teams. He was also out of play at one point of the season with a leg injury.

In the outfield are Peters in left, Johnny Murphy in center, and Endicott in right. Murphy is regarded as the team's best hitter. His average is the highest and he bats in clean-up position. Peters also does well with the willow, and may find the opposing pitcher for so re bingo. Endicott hits well, too, but his main function, together with Hazen, will be relief for Harrison if the latter needs it. Among the substitutes who may see action are Cobb, Williams, Pergfors, Hornblower, and Furber. All these men have seen action before, and have proved themselves valuable as relief for the regulars.

It is quite obvious that the predominant factor in the disastrous Exeter season is the lack of good pitchers. It may be that the Red and Gray will divide their pitching assignments among three or four pitchers instead of using one the whole game. This may prove confusing to our hitters. However, Exeter has some good hitters themselves in the personages of Captain Crosby, an outfielder, Jackson, the fast man who got away so often in the football game last fall, on first, and Kingsley, the man who scored the Exeter touchdown in the football game, at short.

Grantland Rice Augurs Unhappy Future For American Athletes

"Just an insatiable interest in athletics, I guess," he replied. "I played four years of football, four of basketball and four of baseball, with a little track thrown in, while I was at Vanderbilt. That's an asset for any sports writer. If he knows the game first hand, he isn't liable to pan a player because he knows the complexity of the quick decisions which the boy is forced to make."

"What about track? Is there anybody to take the place of Owens and the others who have turned professional?"

"There aren't any real sprinters, but this fellow Archie San Romani is going places as a miler," he answered. "His race at Princeton last fall was a promising performance, and he seems ready to step into the shoes of the men who have been dominating the distance events for the last three or four years."

"Do you agree with the theory that stamina for long distance running such as marathons is a matter of race?"

"Races, not race. I should say. In spite of the predominance of the great Scandinavian runners in the past, I don't believe that race has anything to do with it. Look at Zabala the Argentine and the Jap boy who won the Olympic marathon last summer. It's purely a matter of training. Paavo Nurmi used to run 12 miles to school every day and back in the afternoon, but the great American youth hops into his car to run around the corner and get a soda. While that goes on there can hardly be great American distance stars."

Queer Incidents The Feature Of Past Andover-Exeter Games

was met with cries of "Washee, washee, chinkee go back to benchee," from the Exeter rooters. Undismayed by the comments, he hit a three-bagger and later in the game a double. The Blue team took the hint from him and won the game 13 to 5.

There has been only one serious complaint on the fairness of the umpire, and that was in the 1880 game. The Blue rooters claimed that the score was 9 to 0, while the Exonians said it was 2 to 1 in their favor. As the umpire agreed with Andover, all the Red and Gray team and rooters left, declaring that they had been cheated.

Because of a disagreement in rules, there were no contests from 1893 to 1896 between the old rivals. After games with Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, and Boston College varieties, Andover easily beat Exeter in 1897, 8 to 2.

One of the most outstanding players that Andover has ever had was Johnny Broaca. After graduating from here, he became the star pitcher at Yale and is now playing for the Yankees. He holds the record for strikeouts on the fewest number of balls. In the 1930 game he struck out three men on nine balls in the ninth inning. "Al" Stearns, Headmaster Emeritus, was also an excellent pitcher. Despite a sore arm he struck out three men in the second inning of a game with the New Hampshire Freshmen on only ten pitches.
