Col. J. L. Walsh To Be Phillips Club Lecturer

Expert On Logistics Will Talk To Students At Assembly, Tuesday

Next Monday evening, May 3, Col. James L. Walsh, U. S. Army, retired, Director of the Army Ordnance Association and Chairman of the National Defense Committee of the American Association of Mechanical Engineers, will speak to the Phillips Club in Peabody House. The student body will have a chance to hear him at assembly, Tuesday morning. The subject of Col. Walsh's talk will be logistics.

Logistics includes everything in the transport, quartering, and supply of troops. Col. Walsh, although he is not in the Army now on account of physical disability, knows this subject thoroughly through his close connection with the Army Ordnance Association.

After his graduation with honors from West Point in 1909, Col. Walsh won quick promotion. He was one of the youngest colonels during the last war. He took part in the Mexican campaign and was a member of the AEF. He returned from Europe to assume the post of assistant to the Chief of Ordnance which he held for the rest of the war. Afterwards he held a post at the Army Proving Grounds in Aberdeen, Maryland.

Col. Walsh resigned from the Army in the early nineteen twenties and has since been connected with the Bankers' Trust Co. in New York, and with the Guardian Trust Co. in Detroit.

Camouflage Course To Start Tomorrow Latest Supplement To War Program

Tomorrow, April 29, there will be an opportunity for boys to start the camouflage course under the direction of Mr. Morgan. No artistic ability or training is necessary for this study. The course will be given on Mondays and Thursdays during the activities hour in the gallery. As the work takes only six or eight hours, Mr. Morgan plans to conclude the program well before the end of the term.

Because the whole field of camouflage is so vast, it will be taken up in outline form. This will give the boy an understanding of the terms and theory used in this science of war. After completing it, the boy will be able to read and understand books and government publications on this subject.

The plan of study will deal with the two principal phases of camouflage, the concealment of permanent installations such as factories, and the concealment of the man, his tank, his gun and whatever must be moved. The camouflage department is a part of the engineers. Here the sensitive, artistic man would be of little use.

Toward the end of the course Mr. Morgan will give some demonstrations. There will also be consideration of specific problems. Because of the limited time, it is doubtful whether any work will be done with models. However, if some boys are interested, Mr. Morgan will give them a longer and more complete study of camouflage.

EDMUND SCHUBERT REPLACES CY CARLSON IN SPORTS DEPT.

New Athletic Trainer Comes To Phillips Academy; Taught Physical Training To Air Corps At Yale

In an interview last Saturday with the newly appointed master, Mr. Edmund Schubert, he revealed that he has come to Andover in the capacity of Associate in Physical Education in the Health Department. Working in the Health Department under Dr. Gallagher and in the Athletic Department under Mr. Shepard, his duties include the following: athletic trainer for the Andover sports teams and instructor in posture work, body-building, and functional swimming.

He was born in New York City April 16, 1910. In 1929 he graduated from Guilford High school and, after working for a year on a freighter, entered Arnold College where he majored in physical education. While there, he played guard on the football team and in his junior and senior years (1933 and 1934) he captained the Arnold Varsity baseball team. At Arnold, he met Mr. Johnson, who was mainly responsible for Mr. Schubert's coming to Andover.

After leaving Arnold, he worked for a year as the head of the Physical Education and Recreation Department at the Nemo-Psychic Institute, Hartford Retreat, Hartford, Connecticut.

He went to Yale in 1936 as an instructor of physical education where he remained until his arrival at Andover this Spring. Since Pearl Harbor, Mr. Schubert taught, besides physical fitness, commando training and war swimming at Yale. Since January of this year, he had also been civilian instructor in physical education for the Army Air Corps Technical Training Command at Yale. Also, for the three Summers of 1939, '40, and '41, he was swimming coach at the Havana Yacht Club in Havana, Cuba.

School Band Plays For Student Body

Concert Well Accepted By Entire Audience

In G. W. Hall last Saturday night, before the movies, the P. A. band played a well-rounded program of music. The entire band opened the concert with "Soldier's Chorus" from "Faust" by Gounod. Then, the Euphonic Brass Quartet consisting of three trombone players—Dick Starke, Bill Graham, and Jim Moore, and a bass horn player, Al Burgess, played two numbers. They were "Integer Vitae" and the Cornell Alma Mater. The entire band followed with "Merry Swiss Boy", "American Patriots", "At the Animal Fair", and "The Golden Bears". The program was ended with a surprise piece, "Der Fuehrer's Face".

The band will now take a vacation for a few weeks. Future plans indicate that it will play at the Exeter baseball game.

PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY DRAMATIC CLUB

On Class Day, Thursday, June 10, the P. A. Dramatic Club will present a one-act play, "Happy Journey," by the noted playwright, Thornton Wilder. The popular Broadway play, "The Skin of Our Teeth," is another of Mr. Wilder's works.

The play will be part of an evening's entertainment for the parents and alumni. Following the play, selections from the "Mikado," which was put on by the Dramatic Club recently, will be sung.

Tryouts for parts in the play will be given on Monday noon at one o'clock in George Washington Hall. All those interested are urged to attend this important meeting.

Room Applications

Blanks for application for rooms for next year will be distributed in the near future. For the first time in many years, there will be no distinction between scholarship and non-scholarship rooms.

Scholarship boys may therefore room with non-scholarship boys without any restriction. A complete notice will be published in next week's Phillippian.

Soviet Battle Films To Be Shown May 14

Proceeds Of Tickets Will Aid War Relief

On Friday, May 14, at 8:30 in the meeting room of George Washington Hall, two Russian war films, "A Day in Soviet Russia" and "The Siege of Leningrad," will be presented for the benefit of Russian War Relief. Tickets, which are to go on sale at the Commons soon, will be 33c for reserved seats and 55c for general admission. No-excusé boys will be allowed to go.

These two films have been taken in actual combat at the risk, and often death, of the photographers. A large group of Soviet cameramen supervised the editing of the movies which have been designed to illustrate Russia's united war effort and the heroism of her defense against the German armies. It is hoped that a better understanding of Russia and her people will be derived from the pictures.

"A Day in Soviet Russia" is a composite sequence of scenes recorded by 160 cameramen, 38 of whom lost their lives. Pictures of the actual battlefronts are complemented by shots of defense factories producing the war munitions,

JOINT CONCERT WITH BRADORD

Orchestra, Singers To Entertain Girls

On Saturday the Andover Glee Club and Orchestra will join with Bradord Junior College in their annual concert. Two weeks from Saturday the musical clubs travel to Boston to sing with Beaver Country Day School in the New England Mutual Hall. These two are the last concerts of the season.

The program on Saturday consists of a number by the orchestra, several songs by the glee clubs of each school, and some four-part numbers with both groups. The orchestra will play the first movement of Haydn's 7th Symphony. Among the Glee Club's songs will be Four Chorales from "Jesu, Priceless Treasure", by Bach; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring"; Handel's "When His Loud Voice"; and Bach's "Come and Thank Him". Bradford will sing both alone and with our club.

At 6:30 Sunday morning, six members of the orchestra, with trumpets, trombones, a tuba, and a French horn, played anthems in the Memorial Tower. The early-morning session was partly for the benefit of the religious gathering on Rabbits Pond, and partly for the student body, or at least that part of it which woke up. After the brasses' numbers, Dr. Pfatteicher played the chimes.

In the Easter service at the Cochran Chapel, the choir did its usual part with the well-known anthems and hymns of the holiday. The brass section of the orchestra accompanied the choir in the opening anthem, "Jerusalem, Thou City Fair and High", with an impressive fanfare. Other songs sung were "Gloria Patri", and "This Joyful Easter Tide". The postlude of the service was the appropriate "Hallelujah Chorus" by Handel. At the Baccalaureate service in June the choir will again sing special numbers, to conclude the singing for the school year.

Junior Promenade To Be June 9; Minimum of 200 Couples Needed

This year the Junior Promenade will be held on June 9th. More than ever before, a large attendance is necessary to insure success. A full representation from all the classes is desired, and the committee is stressing the fact that members of the two lower classes are invited, as are stags. The selection of the band will depend on the number of boys that plan to attend and the greater the group the better the orchestra.

Since this is undoubtedly the last big prom that any of the Seniors will be able to attend before they enter the army, the officers in charge want to make this the most eventful prom that Andover has ever had, in order to give the Seniors a rousing send-off. To do this, a minimum of 200 couples should attend. This is not the full complement or the maximum number that can be handled, however, and, "the more the merrier."

P. A. Students Battle Fire In West Andover

250 Volunteers Help Put Out Four Alarm Forest Holocaust

Last Monday afternoon 250 P. A. students turned out to help the fire departments of Andover, North Andover, Lawrence, and North Reading put out one of the three serious fires that occurred in this vicinity on that day. About 150 to 200 soldiers from nearby Camp Andover and some students from Punchard, were also called upon to help.

The smoke from the fire, which was so dense in some sections that traffic had to be halted, drifted over the athletic fields during body building. At two-fifteen the Fire department called Mr. Byers, the local head of the Civilian Defense Committee, and asked for help. Mr. Byers relayed the call and the academy trucks and several private cars were made available to transport volunteers to the site of the fire in West Andover.

The school trucks and some of the private cars began picking up volunteers from in front of the Gym, lacrosse field, the tennis courts, and other places on the campus. There was a long line in front of the Gym of boys who wanted to go. They were signed out as the trucks came for them, but because of the lack of equipment not all of them could be taken.

Large Area Involved

As the truckloads arrived at the fire they were directed to the sectors where they were needed. Equipment was hard to transport to the right place because of the size of the area involved. Those who had no hose or pumps picked up shovels or cut pine branches to beat the fire out.

The fire that the boys helped put out was believed to have started on High Plain road. Matches and cigarette butts were found there and were evidently the cause of the fire. The strong wind helped the fire to spread. The area burned was between five and six hundred acres. A barn on the Powell farm was the only building that caught fire. Fortunately there was sufficient equipment nearby to save the building and prevent the fire from spreading to others.

Method of Fire-Fighting

The method of fighting a fire of this kind is to find the front and prevent the flames from spreading. The interior of the fire is allowed to burn until the situation is brought under control. Then the remaining fires are systematically put out.

One of the main functions of the boys who went over was to carry the hose through the woods. After the blaze in one section has been put out the only way that the hose can be moved is to uncouple it, and recouple it in the new location. Their difficulties can be understood from the fact that they used as much as two thousand feet of hose. In some sections, however, the hose was not long enough to reach from the nearest water supply to the fire. Hand pumps that can be carried on the back, and beaters were used.

Controlling A Fire

One group of beaters, armed with shovels, brooms, and pine boughs found one of the fronts of the fire. The flames were just coming over a stone wall. They were not able to prevent the fire from getting across the wall and retired to a nearby dirt road. This they dug up to prevent the flames from crossing it. They used the

Choosing Roommates

At this time of year students' minds are pre-occupied with the filling out of their room application blanks for next year. Too often they spend more time pondering over the merits or faults of each dormitory and its several rooms than they do about the one with whom they plan to share their existence for the coming nine months. Sometimes, as the deadline draws near, two boys will decide to room together for no better reason than neither of them has been successful in finding someone else.

We cannot urge you too strongly to consider thoughtfully before you choose your next roommate. It is unavoidable that the person with whom you live will have a profound influence over your career here at Andover. So think twice before you "pop the question."

Speaking of next year's room applications, we should like to congratulate the administration for adopting their new policy of making no discrimination between scholarship and non-scholarship boys. This is a stride forward towards a truly democratic institution.

Saturday's Film

In "For Me and My Gal," which comes to George Washington Hall this Saturday, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has reached into its bag of tricks for the familiar plot about the city boy who meets the homespun farm girl from Clifton Junction, Iowa, tells her of his dreams for success in vaudeville, persuades her to be his partner in a new act, and sets out with her for Broadway and fame. Of course, the usual assortment of headaches and heartaches are there, but in the end they reach the top.

Were it not for the fact that "For Me and My Gal" has had a generally well production on the lavish side, a bunch of good songs and a pretty good cast to boot, this film would be nothing out of the ordinary. But the spirit of the Broadway of 1916-18, when the Mecca of every vaudevillian was the old Palace Theatre, is on the whole well-aught and the lives of the stage troupes of that era is sympathetically and humorously reproduced by Busby Berkeley, the director, and a small but enthusiastic group of actors.

Adding to its currently growing list of show-folk recruited from the Broadway and European stage, Hollywood introduces in "For Me and My Gal" Gene Kelly, the sensation of such recent New York hits as "The Time of Your Life" and "Pal Joey," and the Austrian musical-comedy star, Marta Eggerth. They help round out a cast which includes George Murphy, Ben Blue, and Keenan Wynn, son of Comedian Ed Wynn. In the starring role is Judy Garland. Although Miss Garland sings such songs as "After You're Gone," "Smiles," and "Oh! You Beautiful Doll" in her usual robust style, she is an absolute flop when it comes to dramatic acting, and she is called upon to weep and sob a lot in this picture. With that notable exception, "For Me and My Gal" is a good show generally, only just shut your eyes when Garland turns on the drahmah.

Communication

(Ed. Note: Saturday, March 6 was designated as "Cy" Carlson Night at the movies, on which date the student body contributed enough money to procure a handsome watch for the veteran wrestling coach. This was presented to him on April 3 before he left for Tabor Academy. We have received the following letter from "Cy" Carlson.)

Andover, April 24, 1943

To the Student Body of Phillips Academy:

Please accept my great appreciation and thanks for the generous gift with which you have honored me on the occasion of my leaving old P. A. after so many years.

There will be a thousand incidents of Andover courage and spirit over the last twenty-five to thirty years made fresher in my memory by this token. I wish Andover the greatest good luck in the future years.

Very Sincerely Yours,
JOHN A. CARLSON

To The Editor of The Phillippian:

The student council in a school such as Andover is an important body. Student interest in it should be considerable. It is more important now, than ever, to learn how a democratic society functions. And what better place than here? As things are now, however, not many people are even aware the Council exists.

This is not due, as some would have us believe, to a basic disinterest on the part of the students, but may rather be attributed to the fact that it is now quite a job to find out what the Council does. If the students have a way to find, without difficulty, what the Council is considering, their interest will be increased.

One step in this direction would be the posting of brief minutes of each meeting on the bulletin boards, or preerably printing them in the Phillippian. If this were done many more people would know what problems faced the Council and would be likely to express their approval or disapproval, thereby making the Council more representative of the student body as a whole.

Moreover, if the elections for the Council are held as the class elections have been, they will be unannounced and haphazard. The results would surely be more representative of the wishes of the school if the date for the nominations were announced ahead of time and the results of the nominations posted before the actual election takes place. This would allow the students to consider their votes more carefully and they would feel more confidence in their representatives when they had been elected.

In conclusion: what the Council does, and why, is not only of interest to most of us but effects us. It seems, therefore, right that this information should be easily available to us. It is obvious that a more serious attitude toward the elections is desirable also.

J. C. F., '44

Splatter

We understand that at a recent prize examination, one of those competing got so excited about the whole affair that when it came time to leave, he tore up his exam and handed in his scrap-paper booklet.

Two Phillippian heelers were glancing at the assignment sheet the other night. One of them noticed that Col. I. T. Walsh was slated to address the Phillips Club next Saturday. "Say! Who is this guy Walsh?" he asked.

"Oh," replied the other, "Doesn't he play third base for the Gauls?"

We have it from a reliable source that when it comes to getting movies, Phillips Academy is classified in the same group as "workhouses, orphanages, poorhouses, and prisons."

A friend of ours in the Euphonic Brass Quartet that played before the movies last Saturday night, has confided in us that the tootin' foursome were unaccompanied by a drum. He insists it was his knees.

And speaking of the band, they have received the following telegram:
Roses are Red
Violets Blue,
No more Birthdays for me,
And no more tributes from you.

(Signed) A. Hitler

Question of the week: "What's going to happen at Abbot on May 8 from 4 to 6 o'clock?" As if no one could guess what happens at Abbot once a year from 4 to 6 o'clock!

We don't like to go around throwing wet blankets on everything, but when the Boston papers reported that Phillips Academy responded magnificently to the request for aid at the forest-fire last Monday, they omitted the fact that all who went were excused from their afternoon classes. Wonder if everyone would have come a-runnin' if the ancient Borden Gym were ablaze?

P. A. BATSMEN SUBDUE YALE JAYVEES, 5-2; TWO ENCOUNTERS WITH HARVARD TODAY

NETMEN MEET HARVARD VARSITY TEAM TODAY

Squad Faces Harvard Graduates Saturday; Group To Be Cut Soon

On the Brothers Field tennis courts, at 2:30 this afternoon, the varsity tennis squad will face the Harvard Varsity for the Blue's first match of the year. Last Wednesday's encounter, also against the Crimson, was cancelled because of rain. The three red courts and the first three ordinary ones are not to be used until after the varsity match, to insure their being in good condition.

With the arrival of good weather the team has finally gotten some practice. Monday's wind and the fire were no aid, however. The team will probably be about the same as the one picked for last Wednesday. Bill Schock, Frank Strout, Phil Drake, Charlie Arnold, Bob Jordan, and Vic Kiam composing a possible starting lineup. Jim Rains is also a "possible probability."

Doubles Teams Uncertain

Mr. Kelley is not at all sure of his doubles teams as yet. There has been little chance to experiment with various combinations, and no definite selections have been made. Among the possibilities are Schock and Drake as the first team, and Strout and Arnold for the second, but even this is subject to change.

Either tomorrow or Friday Mr. Kelley expects to begin the elimination tournament, which will end in the dropping of all but about twenty-five of the contestants, and twelve "permanent" men from the squad. The tournament will probably last about two weeks (if the weather is good), and will be played on Wednesdays and Saturdays as well as the other weekdays.

Harvard Grads Play Saturday

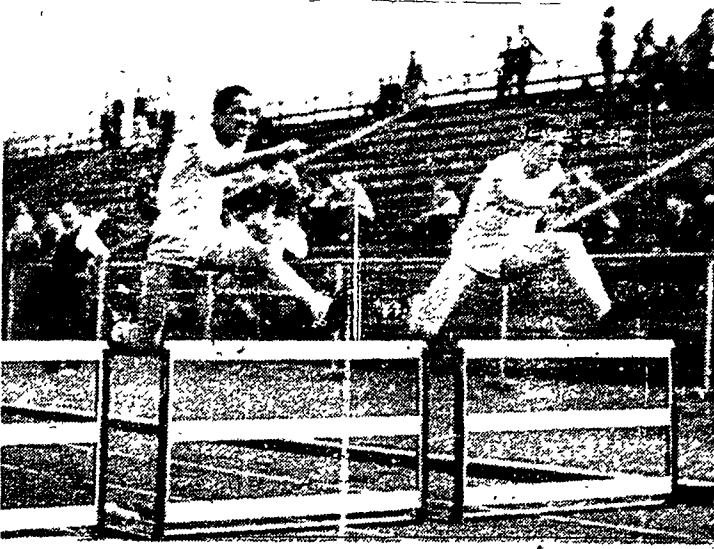

Next Saturday the Blue faces the Harvard Graduates here. As the name implies, the Graduates are alumni of Harvard who play school and college teams in tennis. Their head, Harrison Rowbotham is a ranking New England player, and George Owen, another member, gathered nine major "H's" in his stay at Harvard.

P. A. Lacrosse Men To Tangle With Crimson

This afternoon on the Old Campus at 2:30, the P. A. lacrosse team will seek its first victory of the season over the Harvard Varsity. Last Saturday brought the squad its second disappointment of the year as it lost to a superior Gov. Dummer aggregation, 7-3, at South Byfield.

In the first five minutes of the game, before our players had shaken themselves free from the stupefying effect of the hot sun, the opposition sank three goals. Andover settled down somewhat after this calamity, but Governor Dummer managed to score again in the last minute of the first period. In the first minute of the second period, Captain Johnson did the only tallying for either team when he scored for the Blue. The climax came at the end of the third period when the score stood 3-5 in favor of the opposition. Twombly of Dummer had managed to slip the ball past Jack Lemmon, who was doing a good job of goal stopping. Johnson, once aided by Ted Heckel, and once aided only by his ability to pivot and shoot, had placed Andover in a position to bid for a win.

J. V. Baseball A's Lose, 6-2; B's Win Visitors' 2nd Squad Defeated, 4-3, By B's

On Saturday the Jayvee baseball squad faced their first opposition of the year. The A squad lost to the Central Catholic High of Lawrence 6-2; while the B squad came out victors 4-3, against the Catholic seconds.

Brothers Field was the scene of the A squad tilt with Bob Slocum allowing the visitors only six hits. However, these hits, sandwiched with a few walks and three errors, were enough to provide the margin of victory. All their runs were scored in the early innings and Bob Slocum got stronger as the game wore on. Burns, Morrissey and McGurn, the latter pitching three-hit ball, were the big guns for Central Catholic. Andover's runs came all in the 6th.

The lineup: Upton, Jordan, lf; Boyce, rf; McCracken, 2b; Slocum, p; Welch, 3b; Wright, Nourse, lb; Zonino, c; Reynolds, Harshman, cf; Budd, ss.

Down on the old campus a diamond was set up and the Jayvee B's took the field against the Central Catholic 2nds. Larry Dalley was on the mound for Andover and came up with his first victory of the year, 4-3. The B squad, coached by Mr. Leete, turned on the power

P. A. WINS AT NEW HAVEN, FACES THAYER HERE TODAY

Zonino, Bierer Lead Teammates; Play Deerfield Next Wednesday

Andover's Varsity nine made it three in a row last Saturday with a well-earned victory over the Yale Jayvees at New Haven. With Gene Bierer pitching four-hit ball, and Freddy Zonino providing the power at the plate, the Blue had little difficulty setting back the Elis.

Easier competition against Marblehead last Wednesday gave the team more trouble before they finally emerged from the fray on the long end of a 12-9 count. To keep the ball rolling, Andover will have to vanquish Thayer today and Deerfield next Wednesday—both games here on Brothers Field.

Cindermen Bow To Tufts, 64-53, In First Contest

Last Saturday, Andover's track team bowed to Tufts Varsity, 64-53, in a meet cut to 13 events instead of 14 because Tufts did not bring up any hammer men. Today, Andover faces Lawrence High in a handicap meet.

Against Tufts, Andover showed marked superiority in the pole vault, discus, and shot put, but was decidedly inferior in the half-mile, quarter-mile, 220 low hurdles, and the broad jump.

"Diz" Bensley, Dwight Rockwell, and Tom Howard, vaulting 11 feet, 10½ feet, and 10 feet, respectively, swept the pole vault for Andover. A clean sweep was also registered for Andover as Steve McKee, "Moose" Herron, and Carrington Bidgood threw the discus 121 feet 8½ inches, 121 feet 6 inches and 115 feet 8 inches, respectively. In the shot put, Andover took first and second as "Moose" Herron tossed it 52 feet, 2 inches,

Wednesday's game against Marblehead did not feature the best type of baseball seen here on the hill. In spite of the fact that the opposition had collected but one bingle, Andover found itself trailing 6-3 going into the third and was forced to punch across nine more runs in the remaining frames to assure itself a hard-earned victory. Highlight of the afternoon was Tuck Asbury's tremendous round tripper to right field in the first inning.

ASK THE SOLDIER IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC

"BOY, THE HEAT AND WORK DOWN HERE ARE SOMETHIN', AREN'T THEY?"

"WHAT LUCK... COKE! IT'S GOOD FOR THE OLD MORALE."

"That's based on a real letter. 'Gimme a Coca-Cola' is the watchword for refreshment with every branch of the service. It's the soldier's buy-word wherever they gather... and they get together where they can get Coca-Cola. Distinctive, delicious taste. Quality you can count on. Thirst-satisfaction plus refreshment. Any way you look at it,—the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself."

dirt from the road to throw on the fire and had succeeded in confining it to a small area when it started to move into a grove of young pine trees. They managed to put it out before it could get going in this wooded area.

Those who worked at beating the fire out received special praise because the short handles of the shovels and brooms they used made it necessary for them to work very close to the flames.

Others who were not employed with the hoses went into the woods and pulled down smoldering trees and kept the fire from starting again where it had been stopped. After the hoses or the beaters had put out the fire in one section they left one or two boys behind to make sure that the flames were not rekindled in that section.

The fire was brought under control in the late afternoon and most of the boys were back at the Gym by 5:30. After a shower they seemed to be little the worse for wear.

P. A. Praised

P. A. was praised by all those concerned, for doing a good job. The fire chief, Mr. Buchan, and Deputy Chief Hilton thanked the boys for the great help they rendered. Special mention was made of the speed with which the volunteers got organized and the remarkable efficiency they achieved as soon as they understood what they were to do.

Since this Spring has been exceptionally dry there may be other fires in this neighborhood. Dr. Fuess spoke in assembly Tuesday morning of the possibility of organizing a group later in the Spring to meet just such emergencies.

It is impossible to mention all the names of students who went over and did excellent jobs. Among the faculty members who transported volunteers over to the fire and helped direct them when they arrived were Mr. Byers, Dr. Eccles, Mr. Fred Johnson, Mr. Dake, Mr. James, Mr. Staples, and Mr. Leavitt.

Test Preliminary

The "screen test" which was presented to V-12 candidates on April 2, was designed to reveal the general knowledge of each applicant regardless of his curriculum. The passing of this examination is only the first step towards ultimate acceptance and should be considered as preliminary.

grades, efforts, discipline record, and extra-curricular activities, and to appraise personal qualities such as attitude, co-operation, application, personality, leadership and responsibility. Following this, there will be an exacting physical examination for fitness.

To Go To College

The successful applicant will be permitted to continue here at Andover until graduation, after which he will be inducted into the Navy and sent to college for at least four terms under Navy discipline. There he will receive a semi-technical training designed to acquaint the officer with Navy procedure and to equip him with the knowledge and self-confidence necessary for leading men.

Upon the conclusion of these interviews and further tests, it is doubtful whether any applicant will know definitely of his acceptance before late Spring or early summer. The written, personal, and physical examinations are intentionally exhaustive and demanding so that officers may be provided who are outstanding in every respect. Tentative plans are being formed for a second presentation of tests for those interested about December of this year.

mines, railroads and steel mills providing the raw materials, and the farms which supply food to the whole population. The movie provides a well-rounded illustration of a typical day's war effort.

"The Siege of Leningrad" depicts the heroic defense of that city which successfully resisted all German assaults for 515 days until the Russian armies were able to bring relief. Excerpts from the film show the sniping and hand-to-hand street fighting which became a part of everyday life, and the privations undergone by the civilian population. Bosley Crowther of the New York Times comments, "The heroic defense and endurance of the city of Leningrad has been put into vivid picture symbols" to make "a unique historical document as well as a harrowing illustration of facts."

Proceeds from the ticket sale will be contributed to the Russian War Relief, an organization which buys medicine, bandages, and drugs for Russian wounded and provides food, medical care, and shelter for the homeless. The national society is headed in this country by Mr. Edward Clark Carter, P. A., '96.

The Yale encounter, on the other hand, proved to be a first-class ball game. Andover started capitalizing on every advantage by picking up a starting tally in the first inning, due to Captain Benjie Hammer's heads-up ball playing. With two away the "Rab" singled, stole second, then with a long lead, started toward third as Yale's Set-right stood counting the daffodils out on the pitcher's mound. As the bewildered hurler threw wild to third, Hammer romped home with the first run of the ball game.

Both the Eli's tallies were unearned and erased Andover's lead in the second. After two were down, the sacks were loaded by dint of two walks and a Blue error. Captain Shull then singled sharply to left, scoring two, while the other runner was nabbed coming into third. For the rest of the afternoon, however, the Bull Dogs were not able to decipher Bierer's offerings enough to even push a runner around as far as third base.

P. A. came back to win the ball game in the third frame. With three ducks on the pond, Freddy Zonino connected solidly with a double along the left field line to clear the sacks—Moher, Asbury, and Duden all scoring standing up. The Zo turned the trick again in the seventh when he shoved the last Andover run across the plate with a sharp single.
