Ten Cents

Noted Speaker, Author To Give Lecture In G. W.

Dorothy Thompson Will Be Presented By The Phillips Club

Dorothy Thompson, noted commentator and publicist, has been requested by The Phillips Club to speak on current affairs. Her lecture is scheduled for Tuesday, February 22, at 8:30 P.M. in George Washington Hall.

Whatever phase of the domestic or international situation Miss Thompson has chosen to speak on should surely be most interesting, for her past life has been spent traveling, writing, and speaking. She is one of the leading women newspaper columnists in America today, and, through her extensive travels in Europe and in this country, she has led an eventful and momentous life. The Phillips Club under Mr. Gould has chosen a celebrity whom many will desire to hear. A large number of townspeople have been invited, and, since indications seem to point to a large audience, boys wishing to attend the lecture are urged to arrive early. Of course, excuses will be quired.

Son Attended P. A.

Wells Lewis, her son, attended Andover between 1930 and 1934. In his Senior year he won first prize in the Means Essay Contest and made the First Honor Roll for one term. Also, he was on the Literary Board of the Mirror. Being classed as one of the most original members of the Class of '34, we can see why he followed the occupation of his prominent father, Sinclair Lewis, after his graduation from Harvard.

Miss Thompson was born in Lancaster, New York, as the daughter of a Methodist minister, and she was first educated after High School at the Lewis Institute. Here her dynamic character brought her into the position as one of the social leaders. Entering Syracuse University in 1910, she showed remarkable ability as an orator and also was well informed concerning politics and economics. After receiving her B.A. from Syracuse, Miss Thompson did graduate work at six prominent universities, including Columbia and Dartmouth, where she received an honorary L.H.D.

During the first World War and the Post-War period, she did suffrage work, advertising-copy writing, and social service, until finally, in 1920, she became foreign correspondent of the New York Evening Post and the Philadelphia Public Ledger in Vienna. Five years later she was appointed chief of the Central European Service in Berlin, where she interviewed, among others, Adolf Hitler. She grew to love the German scene and people, but now three-fifths of her column is concerned with attacking the regime. In Berlin, Miss Thompson married the noted author, Sinclair Lewis.

Columnist with Herald Tribune

On returning to America, the vigorous and enthusiastic journalist read and wrote in both New York and Vermont on foreign and domestic affairs, but it was not until 1936 that she was syndicated through the Herald Tribune Syndicate and later through the Bell Syndicate. Through her thrice-weekly column, "On the Record," broadcasting over N.B.C., and writing editorials for the Ladies Home Journal, Miss Thompson has

VARGA EXHIBIT AT ART GALLERY

Show Contrasts Old, New Nude Paintings

In accordance with the news item in the "Little PHILLIPPIAN" last Saturday, the exhibition at the Addison Gallery of paintings by Petty and Varga, which began yesterday, will continue on display for about one week. It includes a cross section of the recent works of the two artists, as well as some from older editions of "Esquire".

Besides these modern paintings, several classic nudes are represented, including one by Mr. Morgan, which, while accepted as good art, are much more revealing than the creations of Petty and Varga. The older works paintings have been given added significance by the humorous captions, cut from current magazines such as "Hit", which have been applied to them. The whole show is intended less as a "Varga Exhibit", however, than as a collection of a certain type of art, which has been popular with painters and sculptors for hundreds of years.

The Varga exhibition will be found on the first floor of the Gallery.

Phillipian Notice

The PHILLIPPIAN will not appear next Wednesday, Feb. 23. Instead, a special graduation issue will be distributed to all Plan A Seniors and subscribers at the conclusion of the Accelerated Commencement exercises, which will be held on Friday, February 25.

Mailing Privileges Of 'Esquire' Is Topic Debated By Philo Today

"Resolved, That the government is justified in revoking the second class mailing privileges of 'Esquire'" is the topic for debate in Philo this afternoon at one o'clock. The affirmative will be upheld by Roderick Browning and negative by Frank Castagnet. Before the regular debate last week Philo members adopted the seal designed by Richard Morrison.

Library Exhibit

In connection with this afternoon's debate on "Esquire" the society has had on display in the Library an exhibition of "Esquire" pictures. Pringle has made some posters, which have been posted in George Washington Hall and the Commons, to try to interest students in this debate.

Philo is going to try to have subjects of greater interest to the students debated at meetings, such as this afternoon's topic. The policy of having exhibitions and posters to advertise each debate is going to be continued.

Last week's debate, "Resolved, That the school should include in the tuition subscriptions for all students to the school publications

Posselt To Play Comprehensive Program Friday

Concert Will Feature Bach, Grieg Sonatas, Satire, "Jitteroptera"

With the coming of Ruth Posselt to George Washington Hall next Friday evening, students and faculty of Phillips Academy, and nearby residents, will have the opportunity of hearing an internationally famed violinist. The recital, which is the featured musical event of the year, will begin at 8:15. Miss Posselt will be accompanied in her performance by the pianist, Lukas Foss.

For her concert Miss Posselt has chosen works ranging from Bach to such contemporaries as Ernest Bloch, Dmitri Shostakovitch, and Robert Russell Bennett. The opening composition on the program will be the Sonata Number Two in A Major for violin and piano by Johann Sebastian Bach. The work is written in four movements: Andante, Allegro assai, Andante un poco, and Presto; the two slow sections are among the Leipzig master's most beautiful creations, while the allegro contains a remarkable fugue, carried over a long pedal point.

Ernest Bloch's popular Nigun-Improvisation, really the second movement of the "Baal Shem" Suite, will be the second piece on the program. The first half of the recital will conclude with three Shostakovitch Preludes, and the Tango Espagnole by Arbos.

Grieg Sonata Featured

Besides the Bach Sonata, the other featured work on Friday's program will be Grieg's C Minor Sonata for Violin and Piano, Opus 45. It is very melodious, like most of that composer's works, and thoroughly enjoyable. The Sonata will be followed by a Capriccio composed by Oscar Levant, better known as a pianist and one of the "Information Please" trio of "experts".

Robert Russell Bennett's contribution to the program will no doubt be of special interest to many

BLUE WINS WAR LOAN; P. A., P. E. A. RAISE $43,744

A PT-19 Fairchild "Cornell" Primary Trainer Which $15,000 of Andover's War Loan Sales Have Bought for Uncle Sam. It Has a Single Ranger 175 h.p. Engine and a Wing Span of 35 ft. 11 in.

Andover's $22,328 Will Buy Trainer, Ambulance, Jeep

Army To Exhibit Jeep On Campus

The tolling of the Chapel bells at 9:45 last Monday night announced to the school that the Royal Blue had won the 14-day Andover-Exeter War Loan. In the course of the sales competition, the two schools raised a total of $43,743.95 in War Bonds and Stamps, of which Andover's share was $22,328 and Exeter's contribution $21,415.95. Counting P. A.'s bond purchases at issue price, she raised $17,930.75, which will buy for Uncle Sam a PT-19 Fairchild "Cornell" Primary Trainer, a field ambulance, and a jeep.

A plaque, a copy of which appears on page 4 of today's PHILLIPPIAN, will be installed in the plane and a duplicate will be presented to the school by the Treasury Department. Metal plaques indicating that they were bought with Phillips Academy's Bond and Stamp purchases will also be installed in the field ambulance and the jeep. Copies of all three plaques will be on exhibit in a prominent place as soon as they have been made up by the Treasury Department.

$26 Average Per Student

Although Andover's total in the War Loan Drive was computed by counting Bonds at maturity value, the State War Finance Committee can only recognize the sales at issue price. Therefore, as far as Uncle Sam is concerned, Andover's 636 students achieved an average of $26.14 a piece in Bond and Stamp purchases.

In recognition of this fact, the War Finance Committee has awarded the school with a citation which reads: "In observance of patriotic service in attaining 100% of its quota of Fourth War Loan bond sales, this citation is awarded to Phillips Academy, Andover. (Signed) Henry Morgenthau, Jr." Every school in the country that achieved an average of over $18.75 per pupil has received one of these citations. Andover's citation will be framed and put on exhibition.

Jeep Coming To P. A.

In recognition of Andover's purchase of a jeep, which costs $1150, the Army will send a life-size copy of one to Andover for the inspection of the student body. It is not yet known just when the jeep will arrive, but it will probably come during the coming week. The field ambulance, which costs $1780, cannot be put on exhibition. This is the second U. S. ambulance for which P. A. has subscribed during this war.

The purchase of the training plane, ambulance, and jeep came more or less as an unexpected result of the Andover-Exeter bond drive, the primary purpose of which was to raise as much money in Bonds and Stamps as possible in connection with the Fourth War Loan, and the secondary purpose of which was to see which of the two ancient rivals could make the most substantial contribution to the War effort.

Andover Wins By $903

As the last day, Monday, of the A-E War Loan dawned, Andover

Singers To Travel to Walnut Hill School

To Present "Requiem"; Orchestra To Play

The members of the P. A. Glee Club and Orchestra will travel to Walnut Hill School to give the second concert of the year this Saturday, February 19. The Glee Club will attempt the Faure "Requiem", and the orchestra will play the "Concerto Grosso" by Handel.

A group of 65 students will leave from Andover on the 12:47 train for Walnut Hill School in Natick, Mass. Upon their arrival they will have lunch, after which the Walnut Hill and the P. A. Glee Clubs will immediately rehearse for their joint rendition of the "Requiem".

After supper, the concert will take place at 7:30 o'clock. The P. A. Glee Club will start it off with renditions of "Then Round About the Starry Throne" by Handel, "Once I Loved a Maiden Fair", an old 17th century ballad, and two pieces from the Beggar's Opera, "Fill Every Glass", and "Let Us Take the Road". This group will probably be concluded by excerpts from Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Pirates of Penzance".

The Walnut Hill Glee Club will then render a group of songs. Following that, the Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. McDonald, will play the Handel Concerto. There will also be a solo by Munroe, who will play the "Romanza Concerto" by Wieniawski.

The highlight of the evening will come when both glee clubs will present the famous "Requiem" by Faure. They will be accompanied on the piano by Miss Seifert, director of music at Walnut Hill, and Mr. Albert Fillmore of Andover. The concert will be followed by a dance.

Later, concert dances are scheduled with Dana Hall here, where the "Requiem" will again be presented, with Bradford Junior College, when the Bach Cantata "Sleepers Wake" will be given, and with Beaver Country Day School, when "Spring" from Hydn's "Seasons" will be attempted.

Rehearsals for "The Pirates of Penzance" are now in full swing. Joint rehearsals with Abbot Academy are slated to resume today after a week's interruption because of examinations. The leads have now been announced from Abbot: Alva Huston as Mabel, Gretchen Fuller as Kate, Betty Colson as Edith, Janet Mitchcock as Isabel, Pamela Clark as Ruth.

Film Club To Show "Lost Horizon"

Group's Last Picture Ends Set of Eight

The Film Society is showing its last movie "Lost Horizon," tonight. This brings to a successful conclusion a program of eight shows of past films.

"Lost Horizon," taken from the novel by James Hilton, is not entirely like the book, although the main ideas are preserved. A party of five, consisting of Robert Conway (Ronald Coleman), idealistic diplomat, his rebellious younger brother, an absconding stock promoter, a disillusioned girl, and a witless paleontologist, are kidnapped in their airplane, and taken to Tibet. The ruling Lama of Shangri-La, as this place is called, wants to make Conway his successor, since Conway has ideas on international friendship and peace with which the Lama heartily agrees.

Although undecided as to whether to take up the Lama's offer or not, the party lead useful lives in the valley. Finally Conway agrees to remain, and the rest of the party also decide to stay. Conway's brother, however, dies in an attempt to escape.

The movie is excellent from the point of view of production and acting. Columbia pictures put $2,000,000 into "Lost Horizon" and spent two years making it. Ronald Coleman is supported by Jane Wyatt, Edward E. Horton, Sam Jaffe, Thomas Mitchell, and Isabella Jewell. All these make a fantastic idea very real. "Lost Horizon" is one of the best movies of all time.

This picture is the last of the Film Society series, which started last December. The society was a revival of a similar organization in the Summer School. Shown this year were "A Fool There Was," with Theda Bara; Max Sennet's "The Clever Dummy"; "Anous La Liberte," a French comedy; Buster Keaton's "The Navigator"; "The Three Little Pigs," a Walt Disney short; "The Sex Life of a Polyp," by Robert Benchly; "The Informer," with Victor McLaglen, directed by John Ford; "The Grand Illusion," a French film; and last week, Erich Remarque's "All Quiet on the Western Front."

These films were shown to illustrate the various types of movie, and the development of plot, acting, comedy, photography, and so on. All this was discussed in lectures by Mr. Morgan, and applied as well to the Saturday night movies.

Philo

THE QUESTION of the Government's right to revoke "Esquire's" mailing privileges is the topic for discussion at Philo's meeting today. This subject was chosen for debate in conformity with Philo's policy of gaining student interest by picking timely and popular questions to debate.

One of the oldest organizations on the Hill, Philo was founded as an organ through which the students could express their opinions and also learn the fine art of debating. Years ago, it was good entertainment to go and listen to the opinions of another, as someone tried his hand at the ancient art of the Abeldard School. It still should be. This is the aim of Philo's new policy.

Most students show an admirable curiosity and interest when something goes amiss at some school function or when the Commons tries a new dish. Seemingly, the school is not unaware nor indifferent to what goes on about the Hill.

Possibly, there is a vague hint of something distasteful to the average person in the idea of exercising the intellect. Of course, apart from the point that there is really nothing shameful in such exercise, it should be evident that a serious debate is not run simply for the arguing, but to sharpen our understanding of what is going on around us, to make us aware of the problems and difficulties of government, society, and all the bodies our civilization has conceived.

Moreover, Philo does not discourage questions from the floor. Each member of the audience is permitted to fire questions so that all sides of an important issue can be brought out.

There is not one reason why a P. A. student can not find some enjoyment in expressing his personal opinions on a

Information About The PT-19

Here is some general information about the PT-19 Fairchild "Cornell" Training plane, Andover's gift to Uncle Sam:

This two-place, open cockpit, low-wing monoplane is the most widely used primary trainer today.

The PT-19 is piloted by a single Ranger Engine of 175 h.p. It has a wing span of 35 ft. 11 in., its length is 27 ft. 8 in., and its height is 7 ft. 9 in. Maximum speed is 135 m.p.h., cruising range 500 miles and the weight 2,450 lbs.

In the design of the PT-19, special consideration was given to the stalling characteristics so that the ship would not behave like other low-wings at reduced speed. A tapered airfoil with just the right dihedral and angle of incidence makes it possible to stall the Fairchild wing at the fuselage before it is stalled at the tip. This means that aileron control continues effective until all flying speed is lost when the tip is completely stalled. Most low-wing airplanes stall first at the tip, which renders the aileron ineffective almost immediately after the stall has begun.

A primary trainer must be made of non-strategic materials to release aluminum and steel for tactical airplanes. In 1939, the Fairchild Trainer was designed to use as much wood as possible. No major changes in materials have been necessary since its origin. The entire wing structure is wood. The wing covering is of three-ply plywood, which, when finished in its shiny synthetic aluminum paint, looks like aluminum sheet. The steel tubing fuselage frame is fabric covered, and fixed tail surfaces are plywood covered with wood frames beneath.

This trainer has wing flaps to slow it down when approaching for a landing. These flaps are also made of wood, and, thanks to them, aviation cadets can now learn the "feel" of a ship with flaps while in primary training.

The United Nations use more Fairchild trainers for primary stages than any other make.

subject which interests him, or in hearing opinions which differ from his own. Certainly much time is spent by P. A. students in pointless arguments over topics entirely trivial. The familiar "dick session" is an example.

Philo's topic for today certainly has appeal for almost every student in P. A. It is true that interest in Philo has revived considerably the last few years, but there is no reason why it should not be much greater.

Thank You

AS DR. FUESS said in assembly yesterday, the students of Phillips Academy are to be congratulated on their magnificent response to the Andover-Exeter War Loan. That our total would ever exceed $22,000 was never expected by any means. Witness the poster in the Commons, which recorded an original arbitrary goal of $2600, and was then revised to accommodate $10,000. That we as a student body have contributed an average of $26.14 apiece in actual purchases of Bonds and Stamps is as significant as the fact that we have beaten our traditional rival, which, incidentally, lost by such a slim margin that no one dare point a finger at Exeter and say, "For shame."

Since the War Loan was sponsored on the Hill by THE PHILLIPIAN, we wish to supplement Dr. Fuess's congratulations with a personal note of thanks to the student body at large, both to those who bought and those who helped to sell, either directly or indirectly. We should also like to express our gratitude to the staff of the Treasurer's office for their tireless help in selling and computing totals of every conceivable nature. Our thanks also to Mr. Hooper, Mr. Morgan, and Mrs. Richardson and all the other members of the Library staff.

Communication

To the Editor of the PHILLIPIAN:

What's the story on the final exam schedule for this term? At the end of the Fall term the question of revising the schedule so as not to have any exams late in the afternoon on the last day of the term was discussed in your columns. This seemed to me an excellent suggestion. I have a Math 4 exam that gets out at 5:30, which leaves me terrible train connections, and, as a result, I arrive home in the wee hours of the morning.

The schedule recently posted on the bulletin boards is the same as last term's in this respect. Why has nothing been done about this? There are probably very good reasons, but I should like to know what they are.

Sincerely yours,
P.A. '44

To the Editor of the PHILLIPIAN:

What was the name of the selection Dr. Pfatteicher played at the conclusion of assembly Monday morning? Nobody seems to know.

Yours truly,
MUSIC LOVER

Movie Preview

Saturday's movie is "Sahara," starring Humphrey Bogart and Lulubelle, a 28-ton General Grant tank, and the only "femininity" in the picture. "Sahara" is one of the better war movies, having most of the advantages of the better ones and lacking many of the faults of the others.

The action begins as Tobruk falls to Rommel on his last long push eastward. Lulubelle and her crew set off blindly across the desert to try to establish contact with the British. They pick up several lost British soldiers, a Sudanese soldier and his Italian prisoner, and a German pilot. The Sudanese (Rex Ingram) guides them from water-hole to waterhole. They find a well which is still trickling, and decide to defend it from a thirst-crazed German battalion.

The picture is remarkable for the generally fine acting of the entire cast. Humphrey Bogart does a good job in another hard-boiled role as the tank captain. J. Carrol Naish is excellent as the bewildered Italian prisoner. The battle scenes, though improbable from a factual standpoint, are done with frankness, producing thoroughly good entertainment.

listeners. It is entitled Hexapoda (Four Studies in Jitteroptera), and is an extremely amusing satirical piece. The four sections are entitled: "Gut-Bucket Gus", "Jane Shakes Her Hair", "Betty and Harold Close Their Eyes", and "Jim Jives". Another section, "Til Dawn Sunday", is apparently being omitted. The recital will conclude with Ghost Dance, composed by Ellis Levy.

Gave Boston Recital in January

On January 30 Ruth Posselt gave a Concert in Jordan Hall, Boston. As it contained the Bach Sonata, "Nigun", the Shostakovitch Preludes, "Hexapoda", and the "Ghost Dance", it is appropriate to quote from Rudolph Elie, Jr.'s criticism of it in the Boston Herald, the next day. "Of all the events in the Celebrity Series so far, yesterday's recital by Ruth Posselt was by far the most nearly perfect", said Mr. Elie. "It is increasingly evident that Miss Posselt is one of the really great violinists of the day... Miss Posselt is the ideal performer. She has great personal attractiveness... wonderfully sensitive bow... and a glorious tone. It must be stated that hers was the most beautiful traversal of the Bach A Major Sonata that anyone is ever likely to hear. Moreover, it must be said that Lukas Foss' accompaniments throughout were incredibly good, and were a notable contribution to the distinction of the recital".

In Carnegie Hall, on January 6, Miss Posselt, with Artur Rodzinski and the New York Philharmonic, gave the world premiere of the Violin Concerto by Vladimir Dukelsky. Of her performance, Olin Downes wrote as follows in the New York Times: "The concerto of Vladimir Dukelsky Miss Posselt played superbly... (Her) mastery as a violinist grows from year to year. She triumphed... in spite of the marked inferiority of the music. Her tone is richer, and has more color and individuality than ever before. Her technique is astonishing, and her intonation in octaves or double stops, as in simple cantilena, one of its finest attributes. She was called back repeatedly to the stage". Music critics, however, are not the only ones who have lavished praise on her. Serge Koussevitsky called her "One of the greatest violinists of our time".

Made Debut at Age of Six

Ruth Posselt was born in Medford, Mass., and at the age of three studied violin with her sister, Marjorie. When only six years old she played in Jordan Hall, Boston, and was recognized as a prodigy. Her real concert career began three years later with appearances at Carnegie, and Symphony Halls, after which, many recitals were given in New York and Boston. Miss Posselt soon gained several violin prizes, including the Shubert Memorial Prize, in which she competed against 165 aspirants.

During 1930-31 she made a continental tour of the United States, and received much critical acclaim. In the same year she went to Europe to study under the famed French violinist, Jacques Thibaud, and in 1932 made her continental debut, later appearing with the major orchestras throughout Europe. She is the first American-born woman violinist to have toured Russia. In the United States, Miss Posselt has appeared with the New York Philharmonic, and the Boston, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit Symphony Orchestras.

LECTURES HELD BY CAMERA CLUB

Though they have difficulty in procuring the necessary equipment, a small informal group of about fifteen boys supervised by Mr. Minard still keep the Camera Club alive. At present a series of nine lectures sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company are being held during the meetings. Also the organization cooperates with the PHILLIPIAN and the "Pot Pourri".

Since the club has held only three of the lectures, six more are planned for the future, the next one scheduled for March 2. Each of the lectures is accompanied by slides which are furnished by the Kodak company. The first one was called "Seeing Things". It made many valuable suggestions on the spotting of the best scenes for pictures. The second one, as the title, "Night Photography" hints, explained the details of taking pictures during the night. "Snap That Picture", the name of the third, gave the basic fundamentals of photography.

By far the most active member in the last four years is Lebehthal. Besides calling the meetings and making the arrangements concerning the lectures with Kodak, he is the Photographic Editor of the PHILLIPIAN and a board member of the "Pot Pourri".

Because the club has no regularly scheduled meetings, one can get in contact with the club only through Mr. Minard or Lebehthal. When there is a meeting (there is one about every other week), it is held during the activities period in the small lecture room in the basement of the Addison Art Gallery.

Service Act To Be Discussed on Radio

Tomorrow evening there will be another round table discussion in which P. A. students will participate. At that time, Heath Allen, Tom McGowan, and Don Sterling, all veterans of former round table discussions, and Dave Baty will openly discuss the National Service Act, which seeks universal participation in the war effort. Mr. McCarthy will serve as moderator on this program. For the past week, he has coached these boys, who are all members of the Philomathean Society.

Last week's broadcast, also a round table discussion, was proclaimed a great success by many outside radio listeners. John Kellert, Tom Wyman, Ed Donovan, and Tony Hardy held an open forum on books. With Mrs. Richardson as moderator, these students briefly discussed books which they enjoyed reading.

The next two programs, on February 24 and March 2, will be faculty broadcasts. At the first date, a discussion will be led by Dr. Grew concerning the impact of war upon language. Then, on March 2, Professor Richards, famous as the originator of Basic English, and Mr. Fabers of Groton will speak. On this program will also be Dr. Fuess, Dr. Grew, and Mr. Gierasch, who will serve as moderator.

was far behind its ancient rivals in Bond sales. At that time, Exeter's score was well over $10,000, Andover's just over $6,000. But by the time the drive ended that night, both schools had put on a spectacular buying spurge, the Red and Grey doubling its score, the Royal Blue almost quadrupling its total. Several $1,000 and a $5,000 were bought in the Treasurer's office that day, and by the time the drive was over, more than $15,000 in Bonds alone had been purchased within eight hours of the drive's conclusion. Andover managed to out-buy its New Hampshire competitor by $908, as the final totals showed.

BLUE QUINTET CRUSHES WEAK WORCESTER TEAM; BEATS SALEM

Lansill Leads Andover Attack, Scores 33 Points; Capt. Whitney, Bishop Do Terrific Work on Defense

Piling up its fifth and sixth wins of the season, the Andover basketball team last week crushed an overpowered Worcester Academy team by a score of 53-37 and came from behind in the closing minutes of play to nose out a strong Tufts "B" squad, 37-33. Offensive star of both games was forward Jack Lansill who tallied 33 points in the two games. "Brot" Bishop did excellent defensive work, and the same may be said for Capt. "Whee" Whitney, who also made 12 points in the two games. Bill Abbott and Tom Raleigh played their usual good games, doing better, however, on the defensive, especially in Abbott's case. Frank Zagorski, recently playing forward for the Blue, scored 12 points in the two games and showed a lot of fight and spirit as always.

Today the Blue play the Boston University Theology School which has produced many fine athletes in recent years, of whom one of the best known at the present is runner Gil Dodds. Saturday the team meets Squantum Air Base. Both games will be in the Borden gymnasium. These two contests will be the last of the season for the team

Saxons Lead Field In Club Basketball

Have Won 7, Lost 3; Gauls, Romans Follow

As the Club Basketball season swings into the home stretch, the leading Saxons look almost sure to end up the winner. These boys, with a record of seven wins and three losses, boast an aggressive and smooth team, composed of Hughes and Dan Lackey at the forward posts, Pryor at center, and Jones and Bowen at guards.

The Gauls, sparked by Bill Bramwell and Mike Housmann, hold down second place with six victories and four set-backs, the last a 17-16 game defeat at the hands of the Saxons. The Romans, led by the league's leading scorer, Bill Rosenau, and a good guard, Ben Johns, stand third at present. The Greek's poor record of only three wins out of ten games leaves them in last place. Their failure to show more ability can be attributed to a lack of good teamwork, although individually they have capable players, among them Fred McCann, the captain, and Mort Dunn, an aggressive guard.

Last week, the Saxons notched two victories, one over the Gauls, and the other over the Greeks. The Gauls broke even by virtue of a decisive win over the Romans, who also broke even in their week's work by trouncing the Greeks. The latter, in turn, ran up against tough opposition and were taken twice.

This season, the brand of ball shown has been for the most part sloppy. The Saxons appear to form the only exception. They have exhibited excellent passing and accurate shooting all year. Lackey and Hughes lead the offense, while Bowen has shown ability as a play maker. Bill Pryor's height helps to dominate the boards. The others, however, fail to display consistency in any department. Lackey, Rosenau, and Sousemann, three promising Juniors, seem likely to earn a position on the varsity in future years.

before the final game against Exeter on the 27th February.

Worcester Game

The game against Worcester started off fast. In the first few minutes, Lansill tallied two baskets and Raleigh made 3 points. Kenneth of Worcester hooped two and the score was Andover 7, Worcester 4. However, the Red and Black came back strong and, paced by Kenneth, who made 6 more points, took a 13-7 lead; Zagorski sunk two free throws and the quarter ended with Worcester ahead by a 13-9 count.

The second period found the scoring intermittent. Lansill again made 4 points and Raleigh 3. Zagorski and Abbott each made a basket, and Bishop's free throw rounded out the Andover scoring. For Worcester, Parnes, the left guard, swished three beautiful long shots, while Kenneth and Hartwell each made one. Score at the half: Worcester 23, Andover 21.

Second Half

In the third quarter, the Royal Blue really turned on the pressure, scoring 16 points to Worcester's 5. Whitney opened the scoring with a beautiful shot which tied the score. Lansill followed with a nice lay-up and after three minutes of play Andover led by 2 points. Then the points began to pile up for the Blue—Lansill scored 6 more points, Abbott made 4, and Bishop 2. Finally, after being held scoreless for 9 minutes, Worcester broke through for 5 points, Kenneth scoring 4 and Parnes 1. Score at the end of the third quarter, Andover 37, Worcester 27.

In the last period, the Blue again turned on their power, making 16 points against 9 for Worcester. Lansill scored 4 points, Whitney 4, Bishop, Abbott, Zagorski, and Petter each 2 points. After 6 minutes of play, Andover had a 47-33 lead which they held until the game ended. Final score—Andover 53, Worcester 37.

Blue Take Salem

In a terrifically fast and hard-fought game, the Royal Blue last Saturday defeated a potent Salem Coast Guard team, taking the long end of a 37-33 count. Jack Lansill paced the Andover scoring with 13 points, followed by Raleigh with 10. Capt. Whitney and "Brot" Bishop did excellent work at guard, especially during that very close last quarter.

The Andover team started off in its usual slow way, and was trailing 5-4 after 8 minutes of play in the first quarter. Salem was continually in Andover territory, displaying excellent ball-handling and passing. Most of their shots were long ones, and they were very good. Up to this point, Raleigh and Whitney had each made a basket, and that was all the scoring done for the Blue. The last two minutes of the first quarter, however, saw Andover get hot—Raleigh sank two nice lay-

Anderson, McKinley, Cook, Wilbur Score; Gov. Dummer Next

Perkins Institute defeated the Andover Wrestling Team last Saturday, February 12, by a score of 14-11 here at the Andover Gymnasium. Anderson, Cook, Wilbur, and McKinley scored for Andover.

The meet started with the 116-lb. class. Berube of Perkins gained an 8-0 decision over Baker. He scored on a take-down, a near fall, a switch and two points for time advantage.

In the next match, the 121-lb. class Cordeau of Perkins won a 4-0 decision over Thomas of Andover with a switch and two point time advantage. The next bout was in the 128-lb. class. Anderson defeated Flynn of Perkins with a 3-0 decision. This brought the score to 6-3.

Capt. Cook Wins

Captain Cook gained a 6-0 decision over Gallagher of Perkins in the 136-lb. class. He took his points on a tackle, take-down, a reversal,

RELAY TEAM DEFEATS RED AND GRAY AT B.A.A. GAMES

Weak Varsity Team Bows to Tufts At Medford, 54-27, on Saturday

Lacking power in the distances and the 300-yd. run, a weak Andover team succumbed to the might of the Jumbos at Medford last Saturday. But while the team at Tufts was being beaten, 54-27, another P. A. team at the B. A. A. meet was passing a victorious baton against a mile relay team from Exeter.

In no event were we up to par in the Tufts meet. Beach was able to grasp only a second in a slow 40 while Lawlor and Strong captured second and third in the high hurdles. The fact that the squad had sacrificed its distance strength to the B. A. A. can be seen in the result of the 300, 600 and 1000 yard runs, in which we took only three out of a possible 27 points.

In the field we proved stronger than in the runs, although the Jumbos swept the high jump, the winning height being 5' 10". Hatch and Howard tied for a first in the pole vault and Strong broke 19' 6" to win the broad jump.

Summary

40-yd. Dash—Won by Nay (T); second, Beach (A); third, Southwick (T). Time: 4.7 sec.
 40-yd. High Hurdles — Won by Nelson (T); second, Lawlor (A); third, Strong (A). Time: 5.9 sec.
 300-yd. Run — Won by Kennedy (T); second, Seamans (T); third, Torrance (A). Time: 35.5 sec.
 600-yd. Run—Won by King (T); second, Southwick (T); third, Hunting (A). Time: 1 min. 21.2 sec.
 1000-yd. Run — Won by Kennedy (T); second, Vogel (T); third, Morrison (A). Time: 2 min. 26.2 sec.
 Pole Vault—Tie between Hatch (A), Howard (A), Haywood (T). Height: 10' 4".

Andover Skaters Defeat Stoneham

Lose Close Contest To Medford High, 6-5

Last week the Andover hockey team completed its season with a victory over Stoneham 6-4 and an overtime loss to Medford High 5-5. Their last game was by far the most exciting of the whole season and by reason of its closeness, kept the spectators on edge throughout the entire contest. A return game with Medford will be played this afternoon at 3 p.m. at Rabbits.

On Wednesday Captain Art Moher led his forces against Stoneham High school. Dick Welch with three goals led the Andover scoring followed by Moher, Dalley and Jack Lynch who each tallied once. The first period was a see-saw battle in which each team scored once. Dick Welch started the Blue's scoring on a pass from Moher. The Stoneham team, small, but aggressive, made many scoring thrusts, only to be turned back by Craig Shealy who played very well in the goal. In the second period Andover took a 3-2 lead on Larry Dalley's tally on a pass from Moher, and Moher's unassisted goal. Stoneham scored once and almost added another when Larry Dalley was off for a tripping penalty. In the third period Andover came into its own scoring three goals to sew up the game. Lynch sank one on Edman's rebound and Dick Welch added two more on passes from ups. and Bishop potted a beautiful shot from the middle of the court to give the Blue a 10-5 lead at the quarter's end.

The Coast Guard came from behind in the second period and, paced by their All-South center, Bullard, ex-Mississippi State University star, they made 15 points to the Blue's 10. For Andover, Lansill scored 6 points and Raleigh 2 on lay-ups, and Raleigh also made a free throw. "Zag" Zagorski maintained his terrific free-throw average, scoring 1. Score at the half—Andover 20, Salem Coast Guard 20.

The game slowed down considerably in the third period, and, although they outscored the Blue, 7 points to 6, it became apparent that the Coast Guard were not in as good condition as our boys. Cochran and Bullard each made a basket to give Salem a 4 point lead after 3 minutes of play. Schneider of the Coast Guard, a little fellow, was doing a beautiful job of getting rebounds off the Andover backboard. Salem was getting very ragged, however, and Zagorski scored 3 points, Whitney 2, and Raleigh 1 just as the quarter ended. Score, Salem 27, Andover 26.

The last quarter was perhaps the most hard-fought period played by the Blue in Borden gymnasium this year. For the first few minutes, the scoring was intermittent. Lansill scored 5 points while Salem scored 4 to make a 31-31 tie. Cochran of the Coast Guard broke this tie on a beautiful pot-shot from the side of the court. Zagorski, sunk one to even the score again, and with only seconds remaining, Lansill and Whitney each scored to give the Blue another victory. Final score—Andover 37, Salem 33.

Again should be mentioned the excellent defensive jobs done by Cap't. "Whee" Whitney and "Brot" Bishop. These boys, although not high scorers, have done more than their share in accounting for the many Andover victories. Their terrific ability for taking the ball off the back-boards, bringing it up the court, and setting up scores has been one of the outstanding features of the team to date

Dalley and Moher. Stoneham scored twice in the final frame in a desperate effort to catch the Blue but failed and Andover won 6-4.

Lineup: Goal, Shealy; R.D., Roome; L.D., Zorino; C., Moher; R.W., Dalley; L.W., Welch.

Spares: McCracken, Ward, Farrington, Demerig, Edman, Lynch, Gale, Warren.

Goals: Welch 3, Moher, Dalley, Lynch. Penalties: Dalley (tripping), Zorino (tripping).

The Medford game on Saturday was the best of the season. Medford, current High School champions of Boston, had an excellent team and defeated the Royal Blue 6-5 in an overtime.

Medford jumped to the lead in the first moments of the game on Garrity's solo dash. Showing great speed and deft passing the Medford team jumped the lead to 3-0 in the first period before the bewildered Blue got under way. At the end of the second period it was 5-1, Andover having scored on Art Moher's close-up shot. Two other Andover goals in this period were nullified by the referee. In the third period Andover really got under way. Art Moher got another on a beautiful pass from Welch. Larry Dalley sank Art Moher's pass and then Art got his third of the day to bring the score to 4-5. Here a tripping penalty to Moher threatened Andover's chances. For in the argument that followed Moher received a misconduct penalty. Medford pressed hard but good defensive work by Roome and Zorino with aid from forwards Ward and McCracken held the opponents at bay. On Moher's return to the ice, and with but a few seconds to go, Dick Welch sunk the tying goal. At the end of the regulation time the score was 5-5. In the 10 minute overtime both teams had chances to score. A penalty to Zorino gave Medford its chance but they were unable to score. Then a Medford penalty gave Andover its chance but the Royal Blue failed to tally. Then with the period half gone McCracken sank what appeared to be the tie-breaking goal, only to have it called back because the horn was just blowing for the teams to change ends of the rink. Then with a little less than two minutes to go, Jack Garrity poked through the winning goal and Medford led 6-5.

High Jump — Tie between Dunning (T), Dugan (T), Neilson (T), Nelson (T). Height: 5' 10".

Relay Team Victorious

The relay team composed of Paradise, Chute, Chittick, and Dixon sprinted the mile in 3 min., 37.4 sec. at the B. A. A. to win over a team from Exeter. The victory was sealed from the first when Paradise and Chute sprinted ahead of the Exeter men and the lead was maintained by both Chittick and Dixon.

Paradise had the pole at the starting gun and got off to a good start, steadily increasing his lead over Clark of Exeter. Chute, taking the baton from Paradise, quickly pulled away from Exeter's Foster to secure the lead which Paradise had taken. His time of 52 sec. was the best of any who sprinted the 440 yards. Chittick received from Chute and contented himself with merely maintaining the lead. Dixon followed Chittick's lead and gained only a few yards on Zortman, but crossed the finish line well ahead of the Exeter man.

NEW TECHNIQUE USED IN POSTURE

A group of 250 boys meet at various times of the day in Graves Hall for twenty minutes every week to improve their posture. Mr. Johnson, who is supervising the instruction teaches the boys to form a habit of good posture. This technique has been proved far better than the exercise method.

When one attends the class for the first time, Mr. Johnson explains in extreme detail what good posture is, what its advantages are, and what one's mistakes are. On this instruction one is aided by mirrors. Therefore one can see the effects of good posture. Then Mr. Johnson suggests that one practice walking properly at certain times of the day. Each week you will increase the periods of correct posture. Thereby you will gradually make a habit of good posture.

"If you walk properly, you will walk into success". That is the motto of the class. One, having good posture, is usually very healthy and has a strong feeling of self-respect. Moreover, he makes an excellent first impression. Therefore he is more likely to be a success.

and two points for time advantage.

In the first string 145-lb. class Sabin of Perkins defeated Caldwell by a 2-0 decision, gaining his points in a near-fall. In the second string 145-lb. class, Wilbur of Andover defeated by decision Delaney of Perkins. This tied the score 9-9.

The next bout was the first team 155-lb. class. McKinley of Andover and Haymer of Perkins battled to a draw, with neither getting any points. This brought the score to 11-11.

The last match of the afternoon was the second string 155-lb. Snithdas of Perkins defeated Hood by 12-2. He had Hood in a pinning hold for 1 minute and 30 seconds, but was handicapped by being unable to see the position of Hood's shoulders. The decision going to Perkins brought the final score to Perkins 14, Andover 11.

The team will meet Governor Dummer here this Saturday, and the next Saturday, February 26, will have its final meet with Exeter
