Tournament at Exeter.

The Spring Tennis Tournament with Exeter was played on her grounds last Wednesday afternoon. Play was called at three o'clock. A. C. Clark, P.A., was agreed upon as referee, and R. Eaton, P.A., as scorer. S. Farwell was the judge for P.A.; and Duane for P.E. As usual, the singles were played first. Lockett and Spaulding were the contestants. Lockett won the toss, and chose the south court. The first three games were quickly played, Spaulding setting such a speedy gait that Lockett was practically powerless. The serving of Spaulding was exceptionally good. After the fourth game, the great exertion commenced to tell upon Spaulding, while Lockett braced up and played the rest of the set in fine form.

The fourth game was the most hotly contested of the set. The fine serving and volleying of Spaulding were well met by the splendid receiving and accurate placing of Lockett. Spaulding won the fifth after a hard fight. Lockett, by good placing, won the next and the two following. Spaulding played pluckily, but was finally beaten, Lockett winning the two necessary games and the set. Score, Lockett 6, Spaulding 4.

The next set opened rather tamely, Spaulding seeming tired and worn out. The first two games were easily won by Lockett. After some sharp playing, Spaulding won the third. From the opening of the set, Lockett at every opportunity played his balls very high. The result was disastrous to Spaulding. Time after time he netted seemingly easy balls. He returned the swift serves of Lockett much easier than his easy, though high-played balls. However, he played a plucky game, and compelled Lockett to work hard for the fourth game. In the fifth and sixth he braced up wonderfully, and played a much stronger game than at the opening of the set. He won the fifth, and barely lost the sixth game. Lockett won the seventh and eighth, winning the set and the championship in singles. Score, 6-2. Spaulding placed his balls well, but both were about even in serving. Lockett was good at all points, and Spaulding was overmatched.

Next the doubles were played. Mc-

Clung and Lockett represented Exeter, and Farwell and Anderson Andover. Exeter won the toss, and chose the shady court. They quickly won the first game. Andover won the second, which was very close. Exeter won the third and fourth. The playing of Anderson in the fourth was especially good; by his brilliant playing the game was rendered the best of the whole contest. Andover won the fifth and sixth, Farwell playing well. Exeter won the seventh and eighth by the good placing and volleying of Lockett. Andover won the ninth and three following games. Score, Andover 7, Exeter 5. Andover played the best game throughout the set.

In the next set Exeter opened by winning the first three games. In the third Anderson and McClung played very well. Andover won the fourth game, and Exeter the fifth. At this point, and frequently throughout the remainder of the contest, Farwell seemed inclined to trust too much to Anderson, and to cause him to cover much more than his share of the court. By the good serving of Anderson, Andover won the sixth. Exeter won the seventh and eighth and the set. Score, Exeter 6, Andover 2.

During the last set the contestants changed courts at the end of every two games. Andover won the first and third games, Exeter winning the second. It was in the fourth game, which Exeter won, that Andover made the best play of the day. A ball was played by Lockett, falling in the extreme corner of the opposite court. After a hard run Anderson managed to reach it, and returned it just over the heads of the opposing players. Exeter won all the remaining games and the set. Score, Exeter 6, Andover 2.

Considering that he played in both singles and doubles, the playing of Lockett was the best of the day. All, however, played well. The contest was an exciting one throughout.

Latin Commons Nine.

The Latin Commons ball team has been chosen as follows.

W. S. Haskell, catcher and captain; Hall, Pitcher; Speer, 1st b.; Cartwright, 2d b.; Malone, ss.; Holmes, 3d b.; Shoen, rf.; Sears, cf.; Wilson, lf.

Challenge.

We, the undersigned, hereby challenge any two men weighing together 440 pounds to a tennis contest for the extra heavy-weight championship of the school. One week's time must be given for preliminary practise and training. This challenge to remain open two weeks.

Inquiry.

The subject for the meeting Sunday evening will be: "Drifting." - Acts xxiv. 24-27; Heb. ii. 1-4. All are invited.

Salem Street Nine.

The [Salem Street nine has entered the boarding-house championship arena, and has thus far been victorious; defeating the Blunt House nine, also the Latin Commons team, by a score of 17-11. Manager Barbour will be happy to arrange games with any aspiring nine.

Base Ball.

Last Friday evening an exciting game of ball was played on Graves field between the Brick and Cheever houses. The Brick House were victorious by a score of 7-5. Beeson pitched for the Cheever House, and Kent for the Brick. The Cheever House outbatted their opponents, but costly errors at critical points lost them the game. The feature of the game was a three base hit by G. A. Campbell of the Cheever House. Pettibone umpired to the satisfaction of all.

An interesting game of ball was played on the Seminary grounds last Monday evening between the Green Street and Berry House nines. The former won by a score of 14-8. Five home runs were made by the Green Street team. The playing of Day, of the Green Streets, was especially good. Seven balls were used and six bats broken before the game was called on account of darkness.

A picked team from the school played the Athletics of Andover, last Monday evening, on the latter's grounds. At the end of the fifth inning the game was called on account of darkness. Score, Athletics, 4; Picked Team, 0.

THE ANDOVER PRESS, PRINTERS.

The notice served on bicyclists to keep from the sidewalk is probably one of those orders which are so often issued more for the purpose of cautioning against careless riding than a declaration of the intention to enforce the law; but a little judgment on the part of riders would remove all cause for anxiety, and probably leave them with tacit permission to use the sidewalks whenever it was possible. The town authorities are by no means vindictive towards the Academy students; but it is no more than can be expected that they should take such steps as are necessary toward securing the safety of pedestrians.

The managers of the Tennis Association have had a surplus on their hands for a long time, and have been asking what they should do with it. An effort was made in these columns, at the first of the season, to persuade them to lay out some dirt courts; and, as an argument in favor of this, it was urged that, as we should have to play Exeter on dirt courts, our men would be at a great disadvantage if they were obliged to do all their practice work on turf courts. No notice, however, was taken of this suggestion, and the turf courts are still the only ones we have. How much this contributed to our defeat at Exeter cannot be told; but it is very certain that it heavily handicapped our men. It is now too late to do anything in this respect towards retrieving our fortune for the present season, and the only hope we have for the next game in the doubles is that the men will practise on the courts they have as much as possible; but it is clearly the duty of the managers to lay out at least two dirt courts so that they may be in readiness for next year. There is a good situation for this in front of the reading-room, and the ground could be prepared with but little labor or expense. If we expect to win in athletics, we must be on the alert to see that our men get every advantage they possibly can; and certainly it looks like negligence to let a thing go undone that was perfectly evident ought to have been done to every tennis player in the school.

A combination concert will be given, about the first of June, by the glee, banjo and mandolin clubs, in company with the orchestra, which is expected to be the event of the year. The glee club has been hard at work preparing an entirely new programme, and every exertion will be made to give a successful entertainment. The funds will largely be devoted toward removing the debt with which the foot-ball committee of last fall are encumbered; and it is hoped that by this means they will be able to pay off everything. Of course, the concert will depend principally on the fellows of the Academy for financial support; and every one, besides availing himself of the pleasure of hearing a good entertainment, will gladly seize the opportunity to give his assistance in such a cause. We also hope that the authorities of Abbot Academy will give full permission to the students there to attend it. This, in connection with the large number of townspeople who will undoubtedly attend, will render it a complete success, and help close up the year in a satisfactory manner.

If the present Senior class wish to distinguish themselves in the school history, let them contribute a handsome fund towards a running track around our campus, or thoroughly refitting the gymnasium. Both of these things are very badly needed, and unless we do have them it will be impossible to compete with other schools on anything like an even footing; and it looks now as though we should be in just about as bad a situation next year as we have been all this year. Action was taken once on the gymnasium, and a committee was appointed to confer with the Faculty in regard to it; but what it ever amounted to no one has been able to discover; and the gymnasium to-day is in the same condition as it was a year ago, with the exception that it is a little more dilapidated. With the campus, however, we have had a little better success, and it is now possible to play base-ball on it; but the whole field is coursed by streams of water, which wash out trenches several inches deep after every rain, and during the driest time we have yet had the side next the Latin Commons has been no better than a swamp. This will have to be thoroughly drained before a good field can be procured, and until that has been done the work of improving the campus will be far from completed. In view of the active way in which work was commenced on the campus this spring, we do not like to be too ready to call the attention of the Faculty to this matter; but unless something is done soon we must conclude that the promise made at Amherst has been forgotten, or that the last dollar has been spent—a thing to be very much regretted in either case.

Alumnorum.

B. L. Winters, ex-P.A. '87, was admitted to the bar in New York city May 17, and will graduate from the Columbia Law School June 13.

Prof. Charles Sprague Smith, P.A. '66, of Columbia College, sailed last week, with his wife, for a summer sojourn in Iceland. He gives courses in Norse, Icelandic and the kindred tongues.

Prof. A. L. Ripley of Yale, P.A. '73, has resigned his professorship, and will enter the banking business in Boston.

Mr. C. U. Lloyd, teacher here last year, will speak at the Harvard Commencement for the graduate department, and Charles T. Sempers, Jr., P.A. '84, from '88.

George C. Woodruff, P.A. '81, was ordained at Litchfield, Ct., May 10, and will be Superintendent of the Congregational Sunday-School and Publishing Society for the State of Colorado.

E. L. Hamilton, P.S. '86, has been chosen treasurer of the Tech. Athletic Association.

Rev. Lawrence Phelps, P.A. '70, brother of Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, has been called to the Second Congregational church, Bennington, Vt.

Trip of the Senior Class to Lawrence.

Friday afternoon, through the kindness of Mr. Alden, chemist at the Pacific mills at Lawrence, the Senior class in chemistry enjoyed the privilege of thoroughly examining the various processes in the departments under Mr. Alden's care. The party enjoyed a very pleasant and profitable trip, and were highly pleased with the courtesy shown them.

The Beacons this afternoon on the campus.

Two games will be played Decoration Day—one in the morning, with the Lawrence Stars, and one in the afternoon with the Niotus Club of Andover.

Colege Items.

The feeling at Yale College between the students and the Faculty is at present a little strained, partly on account of the celebrated fence, and partly on account of the celebration last Saturday night over the Yale-Harvard victory.

J. H. Ropes, P.A. '85, has been elected president of the Y.M.C.A. at Harvard. His term of office will extend over the first half of the next college year.

It is said that $20,000 will be given for Yale's new building, which is to stand on the site of the "fence." The structure will be two stories high, and will have a costly porch with a tower on each side of the main entrance.

Stagg will have charge of the athletics at Moody's summer school at Northfield next summer.

Andover, 6; Boston College, 0.

Boston College met with a complete defeat on our campus last Wednesday afternoon, being sent home without making a score. The home team played in excellent form, the battery doing particularly fine work. The game was begun a little after four, with Andover's first inning. White, Preston and Dickerman led at the bat. Smith's catch of Preston's long fly to centre and McGrath's of Stearns's in right field were the chief events in fielding.

The game opened with Andover at the bat. Dickerman got his base on balls, stole 2d, and was put out trying for 3d; had he only delayed, would have scored on White's two base hit. White reached third on wild throw by Sheehan, and scored on Smith's error. Stearns was sent to 1st on balls, got 2d on Brainard's sacrifice to Williams, and was left there as Merrill flied to McLaughlin. McLaughlin out. Stearns to Brainard. O'Neil flied to Merrill, and Sheehan did the same to White.

Second inning. Upton flied to McGrath. Mowry struck out. Gorman 1st on balls, and scored on Preston's home run, the first of the season. Dickerman made a two base hit, but was left as White was retired. McGrath to Williams.

Third inning. Stearns 1st on error; 2d on balked ball, and 3d on Brainard's out. Merrill flied to McGrath. Stearns, thinking there was a balked ball, came off his base, and was put out, as umpire would not allow the balk that Andover claimed. For Boston College. Kelly, Galligan and Murphy struck out.

Fourth inning. Upton flied to Kelly, Mowry to O'Neil, and Gorman struck out. McLaughlin made base hit, 2d on a wild pitch. O'Neil fouled to Gorman. Sheehan flied to Upton, and McGrath struck out.

Fifth inning. Preston flied to McGrath. Dickerman out. O'Neil to Williams. White made a two bagger and took 3d. While Stearns was safe at 1st on McGrath's error, a passed ball allowed White to cross the plate, and Stearns scored on error by Sheehan. Brainard got 1st on muffed 3d strike, while Merrill flied to Murphy. Williams out. White to Brainard. Smith got 1st on error by Upton; out, while attempting 2d, by Gorman's good throw. Kelly got his base on Balls, but it did no good as Galligan was retired. White to Brainard. Neither side scored in the sixth and and seventh innings.

Eighth inning. Merrill 1st on error by McGrath, and was put out trying for 2d. Upton fouled to Sheehan. Mowry made a base hit, stole 2d, got 3d on passed ball, and scored on O'Neil's error. Gorman secured a base hit and stole 2d. Preston out. McGrath to Williams. Kelly base on balls, and was forced out at 2d by Galligan, who took 3d on McLaughlin's hit. Murphy struck out. O'Neil tried hard to send in the two men on bases, but was retired. White to Brainard.

Ninth inning. Dickerman made base hit, but in attempting to take 2d was out. Smith to McGrath. White flied to O'Neil. Stearns flied to McGrath, who made a long running catch in the territory of the right fielder. Sheehan made base hit, and stole 2d and 3d bases. McGrath sent a long fly to Preston and was out. Williams got 1st on Dickerman's error of a muffed fly. Then Smith came to the bat. There was only one man out and there were two on bases; and Boston College did all it possibly could to prevent a whitewash, but Stearns struck both Smith and Kelly out. The following is the official score:

DRESS SUITS LOANED FOR OCCASIONS.

COMFORT vs. CUSTOM. FELT vs. BRISTLES.

[From New York Home Journal.]

No one who has for some time used the recently invented felt tooth-brush, as has the writer of this paragraph, will ever consent to return to the use of bristles. An impatient man, long habituated to the rasping sensation of the bristles, may on the first trial of the felt brush be inclined to discard it; but soon the comfort, and the sweetness and sensation of utter cleanliness which it brings are so pronounced that the very thought of returning to bristles awakens a sense of discomfort. The felt, with its soft, clinging filaments, takes hold of the teeth, and not only cleanses, but serves a secondary purpose as a polisher of the enamel. This is very important as a preventive of decay." etc.

Davis, P.A. '89, who was obliged to go home in the early part of the term through sickness, was in town Wednesday. He is yet unable to begin work, and shows unmistakable signs of the illness he has undergone. He expects, however, to resume work with his class in two or three weeks.

The bicycle club made its first run of the season on Wednesday afternoon, going to Lowell and back—a distance of sixteen miles. The distance going was made in an hour and five minutes, which, considering the difficulties of the road, is good time. Those who went were Morgan, Field, Wheeler, Curtis, Keen, Gilmore, Holmes and Andrews.

Wells, '88, Stearns, '91, Wheeler, '88, and Kimball, '88, walked to Salem on Wednesday afternoon,—a distance of seventeen miles,—returning by rail.

The Latin Commons glee club gave a short open-air concert Thursday evening.

The English Commons men were having a little time Thursday evening with a fire, but were interrupted in their festivities and speedily dispersed.

Anderson, '91, sails for Europe the latter part of June.

Junior Middle base-ball men practise every evening at 4.30 on the Seminary grounds.

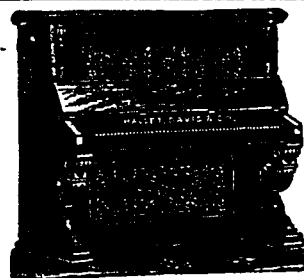

The younger fellows have already commenced visiting Pomp's Pond.

Dr. Bancroft exhibited in chapel last Wednesday morning an envelope used by the Emperor of Germany. Mr. Bierwirth sent it from Germany.

Base-ball has been forbidden on the triangle in front of the Cheever House.

Midders had an examination in trigonometry last Wednesday.

The Junior Middle class in botany are engaged in analyzing and classifying all spring flowers found about Andover.
