ANDOVER-YALE VARSITY

Andover Defeated in a Close and Interesting Game. Score 7-6.

The game yesterday with Yale Varsity was a great success and the team is to be congratulated on its good work. Every man played well and the team work as a whole was excellent.

A feature of the game was a remarkable stop and throw by Phillips in the second inning. He fielded a man out at first on what appeared to be an ordinary hit. Barnwell's throw from centre field to the plate in the fourth inning was another feature. In the field these two men easily led. Waddell and Chapman also played exceedingly well. Stephenson played his position in fine shape and handled clearly every ball that came near him.

At the bat Phillips led with two hits and a total of three bases. Gilpatrick also made two hits.

Hazen, Greenway, Letton and Goodwin represented Andover on the Yale team. All played well in the field and Goodwin led the Yale batting by making two hits with a total of four bases.

Andover outfielded Yale but was beaten because of heavier and more opportune hitting. Stephenson pitched a fine game. He gave but three bases on balls and allowed only seven hits.

Andover was unable to score in the first inning but in the second made one run. Barnwell reached first on Greenway's error and Phillips sent him home by a neat two bagger over second base. In the third three men crossed the rubber. Jones received his base on balls. Gilpatrick made first on Camp's error. French got his base. Pingree forced Gilpatrick at third but Jones scored, aided by a passed ball, an error by Goodwin and a fumble by Camp. French and Pingree crossed the plate. In the fifth inning Barnwell got his base Phillips advanced him by a clear hit, and Gilpatrick sent him in by a single to left field. Andover failed to score again until the seventh, when the last of the six runs was made. Pingree hit safely on Stephenson's grounder, Hamlin threw over second, Waddell hit safely and Pingree scored.

Yale made three runs in the first. Hazen got his base, Reed sacrificed. Letton was retired at first and then Hazen came in on a passed ball.

Greenway got his base, French made a single and Camp hit safely sending in both. In the second Yale scored three runs. The first two men were retired, then Goodwin hit safely for three bases and then stole home. Hazen drew a base on balls, went to second on French's error, to third on Gilpatrick's error and scored on an error by Phillips. Reed also scored. These were the only errors made by Andover throughout the game. Yale was shut out in the third and in the fourth scored its last run. Hamlin hit safely stole second and scored on Goodwin's single. In the remaining four innings Yale was put out in one, two, three order.

Fincke, Letton, Hazen and Wallace played the best game for Yale.

Pot Pourri.

The Pot Pourri for 1897 will be issued this noon. The delivery will be made in Society Hall, and the subscribers are requested to bring their receipts with them.

'98 Captain.

At the meeting of the '98 baseball squad on Friday, Withington was elected permanent captain. The team will play the Lawrence High School nine this afternoon at Glen Forest.

Means Speaking.

The thirtieth annual speaking of original compositions for the Means Prizes took place last evening in the Chapel. The hall was well filled and the success of the evening reflects great credit upon the speakers and those in charge, for their able management.

With fitting remarks Dr. Bancroft introduced the speakers, announcing in turn the name and subject of each competitor. The opening essay on "Popular Sentimentalism as an Accomplice of Crime," was by W. E. Day '97, who showed a thorough understanding of the subject, and to this and his excellent form of delivery may be attributed his winning second prize. The essay by R. Morris '97, on "Bacon and Essex," was noticeable for good thought and elegant diction. F. H. Lehman '97 followed ably on "The College Hero." On "Popular Sentimentalism as an accomplice to Crime" F. A. Lucas '99 spoke clearly and with emphasis, his points being well made and developed.

The judges awarded third prize to W. T. Townsend '97, whose essay on the subject "Is the Artistic Temperament a Blessing to its Possessor?" was of high literary merit, while his delivery was graceful as well as natural. O. F. Gardner '98 spoke with considerable earnestness on "Is Culture an Elective?" "Are Courtesy and Sincerity Incongruous?" was well answered in the negative by C. N. Kimball '99.

The highest honor of the evening, that of first prize, was won by J. R. Irvine 1900, who treated his subject, "Is the Artistic Temperament a Blessing to its Possessor?" in a highly ingenious and original manner. J. L. Fisko '97 spoke very creditably on "Popular Sentimentalism as an Accomplice of Crime." The closing essay on "Bacon and Essex" was given by S. H. E. Freund '97 with excellent delivery and directness.

The committee of award consisted of John L. Brewster, M. A., Rev. Geo. R. Dickinson, B. A., and Bernard G. Mattison, Ph. B.

The ushers of the evening were, Clark, Keppelman, Winterbotham, Childs, Jameson, Curtis, Satterlee, Newton and Howard.

A bill making it a misdemeanor to play football has been introduced to the Pennsylvania legislature.

Philo-Forum Debate.

The fifth annual debate between the two literary societies of the school occurred in the Chapel Thursday evening. R. H. Edwards, President of Philo, and N. R. Roberts, President of Forum, presided and introduced the speakers.

The debate, "Resolved, That the United States government should own and operate the Steam Railways of United States," was opened on the affirmative by J. H. A. Symonds of Forum. The speaker advanced the argument that as steam railways were public highways, they should not be controlled for private interests, but for the benefit of the public at large, and that under government ownership the rights of the people would be recognized and all trusts would be abolished.

A. H. Richardson of Philo opened the debate on the negative side. He refuted many points brought forward by the leader of the affirmative, and showed that the cost of the railways of the United States made government ownership impracticable. He also argued that to put the railways under the control of the Government would do much toward increasing the number of political "bosses" and professional office seekers; and that the many changes which would follow, in spite of Civil Service Reform, every change of administration would greatly increase the death rate and number of accidents on the railways.

J. W. Holley made a very strong speech for the affirmative. He attributed to the present railway system a great many of the financial panics and labor strikes that have taken place. The United States Postal Service was cited as a precedent for the government control of the steam railways.

S. H. E. Freund continuing the debate on the negative compared the United States with those Governments which control railways and showed that the magnitude of the Railroad property in the United States was too great for such an undertaking.

He stated that the reason of remedying abuses was not a strong enough one, to cause the government to run the risk of the financial and social evils which would result from government ownership and operation. He recommended that a commission composed of ten disinterested men be appointed to have general supervision of the railways throughout the country.

POST-OFFICE.

SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1897.

We regret the omission in the last issue of the name of F. A. Lucas '99 among those of the newly elected members of the PHILLIPIAN Board.

The fact that an election to the PHILLIPIAN Board has just been held should not cause the fellows especially in '98 to stop trying. More underclassmen are needed on the board and we would strongly urge the middlers and junior middlers to keep up their work. Another election will probably be held in the last week of June so that all who desire to be candidates at that time should continue their contributions. '98 has not enough members on the board and the men of that class should do their best for the remainder of the year in order to insure the success of the paper in '97-'98.

This afternoon the annual spring meet takes place on the Upper Campus. The interest in Track Athletics has been on the increase during the past year, as the formation of the National Inter-Scholastic Association shows. This season, too, the interest at Andover is very large. A large number of men have been training faithfully for the past three months and some school records will certainly be broken this afternoon. We meet both Worcester and Exeter on the track this year and the team that meets them will be decided by the outcome of this afternoon's events. The school owes it to Capt Richardson and his men to attend as a body this afternoon and lend encouragement both by their presence and their cheering to the men who have been training diligently to uphold Andover's reputation on the track.

Communication.

[Members of the school are invited to contribute to this department, but the editors do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions here expressed.]

Editors of the Phillipian:

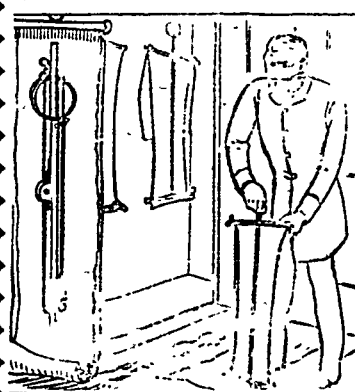

Thus far the managers of the different street teams have been quite remiss in arranging schedules for the different games. Attention is called to the fact that the base-ball season is half over so that if these games are to be successful, schedules ought to be made at once in order to avoid rushing them off during the last week of school. and through this commission the present abuses could be remedied.

Symonds and Richardson made the rebuttals for their respective sides.

The judges after remaining out about fifteen minutes returned with the unanimous decision that the weight of the argument lay with the negative.
