BRILLIANT VICTORY

Andover Defeats Yale 5-3 in a Highly Exciting Game.

Yale lost to Andover yesterday in the most interesting and exciting game ever witnessed in Andover. Every inning was characterized by fast snappy playing, and there was not one instant in the entire game when the interest of the spectators was not keyed to the highest pitch. Although Andover was not looked upon as a winner, still her victory is highly deserved and well merited. It was not due to a fluke or a series of errors by Yale, but to the ability shown by her men to hit at the critical moment. The team made a number of glaring errors, but on the whole the men kept their heads and played a steady game. Yale did not earn a run, her three runs being due to Andover's errors. Jackson was not in good form and this seemed to have a demoralizing effect on the entire Yale team.

The whole game was an uphill fight for Andover, and the team deserves great credit for the fighting spirit which it displayed.

Andover had two series of bad errors but she settled down quickly on each occasion and with these two exceptions played a very steady game. Her battery work was exceptionally fine, the pitching of R. W. Brown being as good as has ever been seen in Andover. He was steady and cool throughout the entire game and struck out Yale's last two batters. He was well supported behind the bat by R. C. Brown, who caught an errorless game. Clough played a perfect game at first base, but Dillon at second, and Kinney at third, were not sure of their plays. Reilly was erratic at short stop and did not play his usual game. The outfield played without an error. Cushman, who was in the game for the first time this season, made two very difficult catches and also did good work at the bat.

Yale was the first to score. In the second inning Miller singled to centre, stole second and third, and scored on Reilly's error. Smith struck out and Winslow walked. Cote reached first on fielder's choice and on Metcalf's scratch hit to third, Winslow came home. Jackson was out on strikes and O'Brien flied out to Schildmiller.

Andover got one run in the third. Cushman was out at first. R. W. Brown hit to center for two bases and scored on Clough's scratch hit to second. Schildmiller was out at first and Kinney fanned. In the sixth inning Andover secured two more runs which gave her a lead of one over Yale. Kinney singled to right and went to second on Murphy's scratch hit to first. Dillon struck out and Reilly walked. R. C. Brown hit to left and scored Kinney and scored Kinney and Murphy. Cushman was thrown out at first and Smith caught R. W. Brown's fly. Yale tied the score in the eighth inning. Bowman, second man up, made a beautiful drive to center for three bases and came home on an error by Kinney. Andover won the game in her half of this inning. Reilly and R. C. Brown both got to base on ball and Cushman went to first on a scratch hit. On fielder's choice, R. W. Brown got to base, but Reilly was forced out at home. Schildmiller followed with a pretty single to center which scored R. C. Brown and Cushman. Clough flied out to Jackson and Kinney was thrown out at first. Yale did not score in the ninth inning.

Final score—Andover 5, Yale 3.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

Saturday, May 7, 1904.

Andover has played baseball with Yale for many years past but yesterday is the first time that she has sent the Elis home with a defeat. Our victory is something that every fellow in school may well be proud of, for the team won its game fairly and squarely on its merits. It played a fine game and it deserved to win.

We all know, however, that to win a game from Yale is not the main ambition of our team. The game played with Yale yesterday is merely one step towards attaining that perfection which we will most certainly need to defeat our rivals from Exeter in June. And this, after all, is what we most desire.

A victory over a team such as Yale has is most gratifying and pleasing, but still it has its faults. It tends to give the team over-confidence and it causes the school to let up in its support. Over-confidence, we all know, is something that will ruin any team, no matter how good it may be. We had a very forcible and distasteful example of this last fall. Our football team, in the early part of the season, won many hard and important games. It even defeated by a very large score, a team that Exeter could not even score on. But these early victories brought about the inevitable results—over-confidence and defeat at the end of the season.

We are now in a similar position to that in which we were placed last fall. We have started out well and have won one of the hardest games on our schedule. But let us not count too much upon this victory, for the more we do, the less certain we are to come out victorious at the end of the season. The team has got to work, and work hard, and the school, too, has got to do its share. The support which the school has given the team so far this season has been fine, but from now on it must be even better than it has been.

Archaeology Notes.

Prof. Harlan Smith delivered an illustrated lecture before the class in Archaeology yesterday. Prof. Smith has explored the Yukon and other valleys of the far North-west coast in the interests of the Jessup Expedition, sent out by the American Museum of Natural History, New York. He is considered an authority upon the ancient tribes of Alaska and British Columbia.

The gold miners have caused much suffering among the Indians by destroying their game, etc. They have introduced consumption and other diseases. Intemperance and gambling is now common among the natives, and taken as a whole their condition is worse than before the opening of the new gold fields.

Prof. Smith was sent to trace the migrations and cultures of these northern tribes. It was thought possible by Mr. Jessup, to prove that America was peopled in prehistoric times by way of Behring Strait. The question has not yet been fully settled either pro or con.

Last Tuesday Harvard defeated Exeter by the score of 6 to 3.

Communication.

Notice—The editors cordially welcome the expression of opinion in these columns but do not hold themselves responsible for any communication.

Editor of the Phillipian:

It seems as if there should be some rule made regarding the length of time a tennis court could be kept by one person, as there are by no means enough courts to accommodate all the fellows who wish to use them. A few fellows get possession of the courts directly after school in the afternoon and keep them practically up to dinner. In this way a lot of fellows who wish to play are not able to do so, on account of not being able to get a court. It has always been an unwritten law that a fellow should not keep a court for longer than two sets if there is anyone waiting to use the court. This custom is either unknown or deliberately disregarded by the fellows for sometimes one will have to wait until someone else has played four or five sets before he can get a court. I think that if the fellows were aware of this custom they would respect it.
