YALE DEFEATS ANDOVER

Yale Defeats Andover in the Best Game of the Season by the Score of 5-4.

Yesterday afternoon on Brothers' Field Andover was defeated by Yale by the score of 5-4. The game was clean and exciting, and was anybody's game till the last man was out. Both pitchers were batted somewhat freely, though the hits were, for the most part, scattered. The two teams fought hard and took advantage of every opening. The fielding on the whole was clean though not brilliant, Clough's stop of a low throw being about the best play of the game. Andover's main weakness was in the base running where there was a clear lack of system and co-operation. Jones caught a steady game and his throwing was good although too much time was lost in getting his throws started. On the Yale team were several old Andover men, O'Brien, Kinney, Huiskamp and Chapin, all of whom did well. Chapin's injury in the sixth inning was most unfortunate but was clearly unavoidable, Chapin becoming confused when he saw the play.

Several disagreeable features characterized the game and it is evident that Yale's professional coaching has not improved Yale's game, from the stand point of the spectators at least or from that of clean amateur sport.

Barnes, who started the game for Yale, reached first on a hit to short and stole second. He was caught napping off second, however and retired by Reilly. O'Brien struck out but Kinney hit safely to left field and reached second when Coté hit to the same place. He stole third and scored when Reilly threw high to Jones. Huiskamp, the next man up, failed to reach first. Schildmiller started for Andover by flying out to center field. Clough hit safely to right and by some good base running stole third and scored on Camp's error. Payette walked but was retired while trying to steal second. Reilly struck out, retiring the side.

In the second inning the sides went out in order, Bowman being the only man to reach first.

In the third, Yale added a run to her score. Barnes flied out to Schildmiller, but O'Brien hit safely and stole second. Kinney struck out, but Coté hit to right field, bringing in O'Brien. He was retired while trying to steal second on the next play. Andover failed to score in her half, the men going out in order.

Andover shut Yale out in the fourth, and tied the score by good hitting. With two down Reilly hit to right field, reaching third on Huiskamp's error. He scored on Williams' hit. Fels and Williams were left on bases as Jones failed to reach first.

Neither side scored in the fifth, but in the sixth Yale took a lead by three runs. Coté reached first on Williams' error and advanced to second as Huiskamp bunted safely. With two men on bases Bowman drove a three-bagger to left field, bringing in both Coté and Huiskamp and scored on Camp's hit. Both Chapin and Jackson failed to reach first and Barnes also was retired at first. Clough was the first man up for Andover and drove a three-bagger to right field. Payette struck out but Clough made a dash for the plate and Jackson threw wild, hitting Chapin in the head. He was compelled to retire in favor of Erwin. Andover was unable to score again in this inning.

Neither side scored in the seventh but in the eighth Schildmiller crossed the plate for Andover. He got to first on four balls and stole both second and third and scored when Clough was fielded out at first. Andover failed to score again.

Spring Track Meet.

The annual spring track meet will take place on Saturday afternoon, May 20. The object of the meet is to select men to represent Andover in the dual meet with Exeter, which will be held here not long after. Those who win first, second or third places in any event get an AAA track suit and are entitled to compete with Exeter.

Everyone who has the slightest ability on the track should enter, as unexpected results are often obtained. There is an entrance fee of 25 cents for one event, and 15 for every event after that. All entries must be made with T. A. Cushman, Marland house, by Saturday, May 13.

Senior Prom.

At a recent meeting of the Senior Prom committee, Allan Douglas Parker of Lowell, Mass., was elected chairman. The date for the Prom was set for June 21, the last day of school.

Golf Notice.

The following team will play at Reading today: Ramsey, Sweeney, Walker, Eames, Waite.

Draper Prizes.

The trials for the Draper Prize Speakers will be held Monday, May 15th, in the lecture room of the Archaeological building. Every year ten men are selected by the committee to take part in the contest for these prizes, which is held usually the Saturday before commencement. The selection preferably should be one that has been learned before, and should take about two or three minutes to be spoken. Every man in school is eligible to try in the contest and anyone, who has any abilities as a speaker is urged to take part in the trials.

Means Speaking.

The final contest for the Means prizes will take place in the Chapel at eight p. m. Monday. The following ten men have qualified to speak: L. B. Parks, Gilbert, Farnsworth, Seabury, Kitchel, Childs, Franchot, J. M. Howard, T. A. Smith and Frost. These men submitted original essays on March 1 and were chosen on the merits of the essays. The first prize is twenty dollars, the second is twelve, and the third is eight dollars. Three of the professors of the Theological Seminary will act as judges.

The speakers are asked to report at one o'clock this afternoon at Sherman's studio to have their pictures taken.

Forum.

Forum held its usual meeting last evening in Society hall. The following program was rendered.

- Address—J. Brown.
- Extempore—S. W. Rowley.
- Debate, Resolved, that the only qualification of an immigrant should be a property qualification.
- Affirmative — Betteredge and H. Gemmer.
- Negative — Hollowell and Brunson.
- The negative won after an interesting debate.

Afternoon Study Hours.

There seems to be some misunderstanding with regard to the recent action taken by the Faculty in allowing those who have no recitation the last hour in the afternoon to exercise on the school grounds during that period. This applies only to the last hour, and those who take advantage of this rule must keep away from the recitation buildings. All the tennis courts may be used at this time except the two back of the main Academy building.

Golf Team Captain.

At a meeting of the Golf team yesterday noon, Herbert Hartley Ramsay '05 of Lake Charles, La., was elected captain for the term.

Scholarship Rating.

The mid-term rating will be announced the seventeenth of this month.

Communications.

NOTICE—The Editors cordially welcome the expression of opinion in these columns but will not hold themselves responsible for what is said. All such communications must be signed by the writer's name.

To the Editor of the Phillipian:

There seems to be some misunderstanding about the payment of foot ball subscriptions. The fellows seem to think they can go on without paying just as well as not. These subscriptions must be paid immediately and the management requests the fellows to attend to this matter and pay their subscriptions when the collectors come around.

MANAGEMENT.

Haverford College Scholarship.

The editor of the PHILLIPIAN has on file in his office a circular from Haverford College, announcing for the first time the Alfred Smith Scholarship, consisting of $400 a year for four years at Haverford College, and of $500 for one year in the Harvard graduate department. Any fellow wishing to read this circular can do so by calling at the PHILLIPIAN office.

Gun Club.

At a meeting of the Gun Club held Friday noon, it was voted to appropriate twenty-five dollars to build a new shed for the trap. A week from Saturday the trials for a team to compete with Exeter some time this term will be held. There will also be a handicap cup shoot before long. Forbes and P. M. Hall were appointed as a committee to arrange the different shooting contests.

1908 Baseball Game.

The 1908 baseball team has a game with a Lawrence team this afternoon. It is not definitely decided where the game will be played.

Notice.

The 1905 baseball team will practice this afternoon at one o'clock on the old campus. Everybody trying for the team must come out.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

Saturday, May 6, 1905.

The captains of the class baseball teams are finding difficulty in getting enough candidates to come out regularly for practice. This applies especially to the upper classes. Most of the fellows seem to think that if they come out once or twice a week that is sufficient, but often the captains, on the contrary, have trouble in getting up two nines. Class baseball is intended for those who are not good enough to be first string men, but who have some ability. Many men come out for class baseball who know little about the game but who by steady practice are enabled to become first rate players. The class teams have played some very good games in recent years, last year's 2-2 sixteen inning game between 1904 and 1905 being one of these, and we see no reason why they should be allowed to deteriorate this year.

Baseball Coach.

Mr. Bartlett H. Hayes, Harvard '98, has very kindly offered his services to Captain Clough as a baseball coach for the remainder of the year. Mr. Hayes prepared for Harvard at the Roxbury Latin School. He was a very prominent man in college and pitched on the Varsity nine. He is an experienced ball player and his valuable assistance will be highly appreciated by the management and also by the entire school.

1906 Baseball Game.

The 1906 baseball team will play a strong Ballardvale nine in Ballardvale this afternoon. The following men are asked to be at the station in time for the 1.55 train: Regan, Kirkpatrick, Eames, Ballou, Lynch, Woodford, Holden, Chapin, O. E. Wood, Barnes, K. Kissam, Austin, Gibbs, Holton, Pierce and Taggart.

Basketball Picture.

A picture of the Academy Basketball team will be taken Monday at 1.15. The whole team must report, dressed at Sherman's, at that time, as that will be the only picture taken.

The Harvard-Andover English Prizes.

The competitive examination for the English prizes offered by the Harvard-Andover club, will occur during the third week in May. The competition is open to all members of classes 1905 and 1906, and also to any members of lower classes who are taking Middle or Senior English. It is, of course, not limited to men who are going to Harvard.

The examination covers in general the work done in the English courses preparatory to the college entrance examinations; i. e., it tests the competitor's understanding of the more practical principles of rhetoric and composition, and his ability to write on themes from the books required for college. There is considerable range for options in selecting these subjects, and the aim is to test the competitor's general grasp and appreciation of a book rather than its minute details.

Specimen examination papers for past competitions will be found posted on the bulletin board in Science 2.

College Entrance Examinations in English.

A change in part of the list of books set for the entrance examinations in English goes into effect in 1906; and some of the colleges, particularly Yale, put the change into effect in the preliminary examinations this year. Each fellow who intends taking an English examination for any college should look up the catalogue of the institution to which he goes to make sure what books are required there for this year. Looking the matter up carefully now may save trouble later.

Archaeology Notes.

A call bell has been put on the second floor of the Archaeology building and fellows can now be called to the phone. Formerly only messages could be sent and none received.

Ward's Natural History Establishment of Rochester, N. Y., is making a model of the famous earthwork of Fort Ancient for the museum.

A small collection of stone implements were received from Mr. Milo Curts of Frankfort, Ind.

Mr. F. W. Stearns is making a card index of all the books in the library. This has been needed for years and is a very important work and will be appreciated by the fellows.

Dr. Peabody and Mr. Moorehead will leave for Cavetown Thursday morning. Some two weeks ago the Doctor had written to Mr. Bushey, owner of the cavern where the explorations are to be conducted, and asked him to excavate in the floor in order that the formation might be ascertained. As the floor is of solid limestone, Mr. Bushey reported that he was compelled to use dynamite and to make blasts. At a depth of two or three feet in the solid limestone floor, charcoal and ashes and human bones were found. The formation is not of stalagmites as was found at Jacobs Cavern, but is true limestone floor. Anything found in it or under it must necessarily be very old.

The Harvard Interscholastic Tennis Championship.

The fifth annual tournament for the Harvard Interscholastic lawn tennis championship in singles will be held on Davis field, Cambridge, Saturday, May 6, and Monday, May 8, 1905.

First and runner-up prizes will be given; also a championship shield to the school-winning the greatest number of points, each match actually counting as one point.

The winner of the tournament will also have the right as Harvard Interscholastic champion for 1905 to play at Newport in August, for the Interscholastic championship of the United States.

The following fellows have entered for Andover: L. G. Hall, H. Carter, Hincks, Loomis, Beinecke, Shannon.

Chapel Speaker.

Prof. Ryder of the Theological seminary will occupy the pulpit in the Academy Chapel tomorrow morning.

Carlisle Game.

Saturday morning word was received by the management from the Carlisle Indian school that their game with Andover scheduled for May 15th would have to be cancelled. No definite reason was given for this change except that it was something in which their baseball manager had no power to act.

Golf Team Notice.

In the trials for last place on the golf team held Thursday afternoon, Walsh was defeated by French with but one up. This afternoon the team will go to Reading and play a team from the Meadowbrook Golf club of that place. The teams will play five men each.

Photographs of any Andover teams or groups from 1895 up to the present year may be had at the Sherman Studio or orders may be left with Driver for same.
