As there was not the required number present, the men stated above will have to be ratified at the first meeting of the fall term. The Club talked over the possibilities of securing a room, and urged every member to keep up the interest in the Club.

Public Speaking Contest

The Junior Public Speaking contest was held Monday evening in the lecture room of the Archaeology building at 7.30 o'clock. Each class in Public Speaking selects two members at every meeting, and from these groups the six speakers were chosen. Ten days ago they selected the subjects on which to speak and prepared these with almost no assistance. The speeches were not committed to memory and were not declamations or orations, but merely informal talks. As a whole these speeches were well constructed and the delivery was free and natural. Mr. Stott presided, and Messrs. Leonard, Keep, and Fuess acted as judges.

The first prize, a handsome cup, went to Roger M. Woolley; the second prize, a smaller cup, was

THE "HOW" OF FILENE STRAWS

All straws this year will be different—narrower brim, higher crown—but Filene straws will be even more different.

First we insisted on light-weight hats, head comfort demands it—

Then we hit on a method by which only the smooth surface of the straw forms the outside shell—that means a natural

protection against dust—

And then we eliminated the surface glue that makes straws sticky in damp weather.

So you see they are different—different in the small things that make them worth while.
