BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS HAVERHILL HIGH

Hard-fought Contest Played Yesterday Results in 3 to 2 Victory for Blue

EARLY STARS AT THE BAT; STEVENS GOOD IN THE BOX

Andover won its first baseball game yesterday afternoon against the Haverhill High School team. Although the weather conditions were very unfavorable, and the game lasted only six innings, the team showed considerable improvement and won, 3 to 2. Early was the star of the game, contributing all three runs, and Stevens also did some very good pitching. For Haverhill Spalding played a fine game and succeeded in striking out nine of the Andover batters.

The first run was made by Early, who hit safely to centerfield, reached second on Kent's hit, and stole third. He later came home when Dodd fanned and the catcher fumbled the last strike. No more runs were made until the third inning when Haverhill scored their two runs. Currier, the first man up, hit a single to shortstop. He was followed by Finn, who did the same. The next man up hit to Gallagher, who threw home and put out Currier. Spalding then came to bat and hit a grounder to Stevens who fumbled the ball and allowed the two men to score. In the last of this inning Early was passed and, because of a wild pitch, reached third. Kent made the needed hit and Early tied the score. He hit safely to center field in the fifth inning, and, after stealing second and third, came home on another wild pitch. Haverhill did not score again, and the score remained 3 to 2 in favor of Andover.

Exeter Notes

The Exeter Four Oared Crew defeated the Huntington and Brook line oarsmen Saturday. A strong north wind hampered all three crews but Exeter, who had a great advantage in weight.

The track team gained a victory over the Harvard Freshmen last Saturday. The final score was 67-39.

By hard hitting the baseball team defeated Cushing Academy 9 to 0 Saturday.

In the meet in which Yale '21 gained a victory over Princeton '21 by one point "Bob" Shedden '17 scored two firsts by winning both the high and low hurdles.

INSIGNIA AWARDED TO TRACK MEN

At the Advisory Board meeting last Monday, the following men were awarded their AAA insignia: Kennedy, G. F. Callahan, F. M. Smith, J. Coakley, C. E. Bailey, J. W. Wheeler, R. Wason, N. C. Robinson.

The following were also awarded hockey numerals: Fletcher, R. M. Clough, F. W. Dowling, M. W. Fletcher, J. W. Wheeler, G. B. Wells, D. C. Starr.

PHILO HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The Congress Philomathean Society held its annual banquet last Saturday evening in Peabody House. The affair was very successful and was attended by about thirty-five members. Mr. Allen, of the faculty, Major Davy, and Mr. Sanborn, superintendent of the Andover Board of Education, gave after dinner talks.

After telling of the past history of Philo and the success of the new Congress, Speaker Schaeffer introduced Mr. Allen, who told some very interesting stories of Philo in the days of '88 when he was a member of the society. He said that all the meetings were then held in the Main Academy buildings, and every week various subjects were discussed very vigorously by the members. Mr. Allen said that he considered the formation of Congress a successful undertaking and hoped that it would revive the interest in Philo.

Major Davy, who was next introduced, told of a society similar to Congress to which he belonged when in college. He said that he always was glad he belonged to such a society. In later life one is constantly called upon to speak, and if he has had a little training while in college, he never regrets it. Mr. Sanborn then spoke of the great need there would be in the future of men who could think and speak on their feet. Men of this type will be the ones who will be called upon, when this war is over, to solve its many problems. By belonging to a debating society such as Congress, one has the finest opportunity of obtaining this art of speaking.

An informal gathering was later held around the fireplace, while Major Davy told some interesting stories of the war.

College Notes

Yale defeated Harvard in the first diamond contest held between the Crimson and the Blue since 1916, by a score of 5 to 0.

Boston College won from Dartmouth at Dartmouth last Saturday. Dartmouth let in three runs in the first inning and was shut out after one run.

Holy Cross defeated Amherst for the second time by a score of 4 to 0.

M. I. T.'s tennis team won from Bowdoin 6 to 0.

Yale's undefeated tennis team defeated Fordham college 6 to 0 on Saturday.

The Pennsylvania crew won a victory over Yale varsity by four lengths at Philadelphia on Saturday.

SCHOLASTIC TOURNEY WON BY TENNIS TEAM

Kaltenbach and Captain Carleton Contest in Finals, the Former Winning

In the 27th Harvard Interscholastic Tennis Tournament held last Friday and Saturday at Cambridge the Varsity Tennis Team for the fourth consecutive time by hard fighting and all-around good playing defeated Exeter, Newton High School, Milton Academy, Poston Latin, and St. Mark's, thereby winning the shield offered by the Harvard Athletic Association. Andover took the lead in the first day of the tournament by winning nine out of the ten matches played, scoring nine points. Exeter followed with a score of six points. Kaltenbach was the individual star of the tournament, finally defeating Capt. Carleton in the finals in an exciting and close match, 7-5, 3-6, 7-5. This was an exact repetition of the 1916 tournament, as two Andover men then, too, competed in the finals. Kaltenbach and Carleton were awarded cups by the Harvard Athletic Association as individual winner and runner-up respectively, thus gaining for Andover all the trophies of the tournament.

The first of Andover's points was secured in the first round of the preliminaries by Kaltenbach, who easily defeated Dana of Boston Latin, 6-1, 6-0. The second point was secured by Wheeler, who won an easy victory over W. Holmes of Newton High, 6-1, 6-2. Another point was recorded for the home team when J. Houk beat Crosby of Newton High, 6-3, 6-1. Capt. Carleton won his match by defeating Vaughn of Newton High, 6-3, 6-2. The only match which Andover lost was the one between G. Houk and Capt. Knox of Milton Academy. Both players played a good, clean game, the sets ending 6-4, 6-2.

In the second round Kaltenbach without much apparent trouble beat Marshall of Exeter, 6-3, 6-2. Wheeler won his second victory by defeating Gorham of Milton Academy 6-0, 6-4. J. Houk disposed of Murphy of Exeter 6-0, 6-3. Capt. Carleton in a close match beat Clark of Boston Latin 8-6, 7-5.

The third round began Saturday morning when Kaltenbach won his match from Moore of Exeter, 6-3, 6-2. Scott of Newton High, who had been playing a strong game throughout the tournament, was able to defeat Wheeler, 6-3, 6-3. J. Houk was put out at this point of the tournament by Hurtwitz from Boston Latin, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. Capt. Carleton in the next match easily defeated Knox of Milton Academy, 6-2, 6-2, leaving two Andover men in the semi-finals.

Kaltenbach started the semi-finals in the best match of the two days' tournament, defeating Capt. Scott of Newton High, who was forced to play a defensive game, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5. Capt. Carleton also won his match over Hurtwitz of Boston Latin, 7-5, 6-4.

The finals, played on the Divinity Field Courts Saturday afternoon, between Kaltenbach and Capt. Carleton ended the tournament. Kaltenbach managed to win the first set 7-5. Capt. Carle-

MR. QUINBY ARRIVES SAFELY IN FRANCE

A telegram which was received last Saturday morning, stated that Mr. Frank L. Quinby, Andover's former coach, had reached France safely. Mr. Quinby sailed from New York, in the latter part of April, but owing to the submarine menace, the transport on which he made the voyage was obliged to take a longer route, and he was more than three weeks on the sea. He will in all probability remain in Paris a few days and there will receive orders as to where he will be stationed in the future. Mr. Quinby still is very much interested in the old nine he left behind him at Andover, and asked to have the results of last Saturday's game sent to him.

BASEBALL TEAM LOSES TO HARVARD FRESHMEN

The baseball team again met defeat last Saturday in a game with the Harvard Freshmen, the final score being 19 to 3.

Although improvement was made in batting, the men were not able to compete with the heavy slugging done by the Crimson nine.

Harvard started the game by making a large tally in the first inning. Every man but two made a run in this round, and when the inning finally closed, the opposing team was seven runs to the good.

In the Andover half the team made a brave try to catch up, and Scott and Dodd succeeded in crossing the plate. No one else, however, was able to score.

The Freshmen were nearly as successful in the next inning, adding six more runs to their tally and shutting out the home team.

In the third inning the Andover defense stiffened and succeeded in preventing their opponents from running up any such score as they had done in the first two innings. One run only was added to the score. The home team, however, was unable to make a run in its own half.

The fourth and fifth innings passed without either team making further scores, but in the sixth the Freshmen again pounded in two runs, while they were still able to shut out the home team completely when their turn came to bat.

In the seventh Andover again made a hard attempt to rally, but the attempt was unfruitful.

When both teams had played an uneventful eighth, the Freshmen clinched their sure victory by totalling three more runs in the last round, thus making the final score 19 to 3.

M. I. T. FRESH LOSE TO BLUE AGGREGATION

Track Team Wins Close Meet, 49 1-2 to 46 1-2. Dwyer Heavy Scorer

CAPTAIN BAILEY, MORGAN AND DAVIS ALSO SHINE

The track team won its first victory this season when it defeated the Technology Freshmen Saturday afternoon by the very close score of 49½ to 46½. Since the last meet many good men, both in the track and field events, have been released from the non-execute and probation lists, and the team was, therefore, considerably stronger than it was in the first meet of the season. The two teams were most evenly matched and in every event there was close competition.

The high hurdles was the first event. It was won by Hayes, of M. I. T., in 18 1-5 seconds, while Smith and Coakley took second and third places respectively, for Andover.

In the 100-yard dash, which followed, Dwyer secured first place in 10 4-5 seconds. He was closely followed by Kennedy, while Junod held the last place for the Freshmen. In both meets this season Dwyer has taken a first place in the 100 yard dash.

The next event was the quarter-mile. Stevenson forged into the lead at the first turn and put some fifteen yards between himself and the rest. On nearing the last bend, however, Bowden of Technology began to gain rapidly, and crossed the line a fraction of a second before him, in 53 1-5 seconds. The Freshmen also took third place in this race.

The mile came next in the schedule of events. Callahan took the lead by several yards and held it for the greater part of the first two laps. Toward the end of the second lap, however, Stove of the opposing team, began to gain on him slowly. At the end of the third lap Stove pulled ahead for nearly a yard, but Callahan dogged his heels stubbornly and made a brave attempt to sprint on the last turn, coming in only a few feet behind Stove, who completed the run in 4 minutes and 45 seconds. Atwood took third place for the Freshmen, closely followed by Winchester.

Captain Bailey then gained a first in the low hurdles, making a time of 29 3-5 seconds. Wilson followed him closely, and Andover took the last place through Smith.

The score was now tied, 20 to 20, and Andover was placed in the lead in the following event when Dwyer took another first place in the 200 yard dash, making the sprint in 23 1-5 seconds. Kennedy added another two points in securing second place, followed by Newton of Technology.

The next and last of the races was the half mile. As in the quarter, Bowden starred for the opponents by crossing the line a fraction of a foot ahead of Chittick, in 2 minutes 7 3-5 seconds. They also secured the remaining place through Hennessy, and the score now stood 27 to 21 in Andover's favor.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1918

A great deal has been accomplished this term in the construction of the trenches in which the regiment will carry on war manoeuvres during the ensuing weeks of the school year. From time to time Major Davy and Lieut. Wyatt have called for volunteers for that work. As a whole the response by the regiment has been very quick indeed. The trenches thus far built certainly are an example of what we can accomplish in that line if we will but get at the job and tackle it in the right way. Those who have contributed their good time that they might push this work forward may justly feel proud. The entire school feels proud of the keen interest and patriotic spirit with which they have cheerfully worked.

But there is still more work—and a great deal of it to be done, if those trenches are to be what our superiors have planned them to be. We have started the job well. We must finish it in just as good shape as we started it. When Major Davy or Lieut. Wyatt makes a call at afternoon drills for a definite number of men for trench work that evening, there sometimes has to be a lot of urging and coaxing before the allotted number is obtained. There are a certain number in the regiment, it seems, who volunteer much more frequently than their neighbors. It does not seem quite fair for one fellow to do one-fourth as much work as the fellow next to him, yet, this is happening every week in this trench digging work. It is realized that many have other important appointments that tend to keep them from this work, and they, of course, can hardly be expected to do all that the fellows who are free do. But there are a good number of these "free" fellows who could put in an hour now and then in good, honest work behind Brothers Field. Let's "get together" so that we can complete our task in a well worth while manner—a task, which we must inevitably learn to do and to do well.

A few weeks ago an appeal was made in chapel that the students should obey the "smoking rules" of the grill, which were made by the trustees of the Academy when the building was first given over to the school. To comply with these rules, the basement only must be used for smoking, and, not the two upper halls. Furthermore, fellows under sixteen years of age are prohibited from using tobacco in any form in that building.

The majority of the student body has complied with these regulations and have appreciated the full meaning of that appeal. But there are a few who still, apparently do not care to follow the example of their upper classmen. The trustees threatened even to take the grill room away from us entirely, if these rules were not more strictly observed. Therefore, let every man to whom this applies show himself public spirited enough to follow out these regulations lenient as they are.

Communications

To the Editor of THE PHILLIPIAN:

A plea was recently made by the Y. M. C. A. to send more books to the soldiers. Without doubt many students answered this call generously, but there is also another way by which we may enlighten the lives of the soldiers. We all have old magazines in our rooms which, after they have been read, appeal to us no more. Nevertheless, they are saved and at the end of the year they are thrown away. Wouldn't it be a good idea to send these magazines to the soldiers, who would appreciate them beyond measure. It is a simple matter to put a one-cent stamp on these periodicals and place them in the hands of a postman. You would then be rendering a very charitable act and disposing of your magazines in an extremely beneficial way.

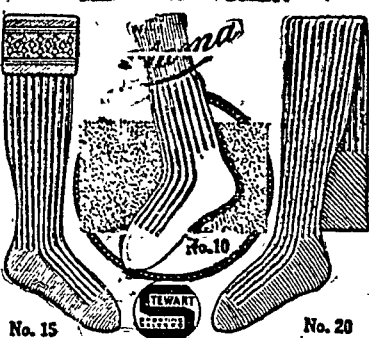

To the Editor of THE PHILLIPIAN:

Several weeks ago the school authorities thought it best to abolish all compulsory athletics. Up to this time the class teams, both baseball and track, had been making good headway and, even after this action of the faculty, the baseball teams continued their good work. The interest in class track, however, immediately began to dwindle down. There were some, nevertheless, who still kept up their enthusiasm in this sport. These have been coming out to practice two and three times a week, in order to revive those class teams, and good material has been found among them. In two or three events, however, candidates from all classes are needed to make up the full teams. This affords a fine opportunity for any fellows who have any ability whatever in field or track work to come out and back up their respective class teams.

All Seniors must pay their class Day Dues to the committee by tomorrow night. These dues may be paid to any member of the committee or at the grill tonight, from 7, to 7.45.

Letter from Boyer

The following letter is one which was received from Arthur J. Boyer a few days ago. Boyer and "Bill" Prendergast joined the Royal Flying Corps at the beginning of the winter term and since then have been stationed in Canada. They were both members of the class of 1920.

The Editor of Phillips Bulletin:
Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

The Bulletin, which is sent each month from home, is read and greatly enjoyed by the three Phillips Academy boys here, including myself. The other two fellows are "Bill" Prendergast and Ted Hazelwood, 1910.

We were all at discipline camp together, and, although not in the same course at the Ground School, we managed to chum around quite a bit. Ted and I have finished the studies here, and will be posted to a flying camp within a few days, where we will do practically nothing but get our necessary hours in the air.

The inclosed picture, which we thought you might want for your records, is one taken a short while ago. It reads from left to right: Irving Boyer, Ted Hazelwood and Bill Prendergast, all Andover boys. The "Royal Flying Corps" is now officially known as the "Royal Air Force."

Sincerely yours,
ARTHUR I. BOYER

the opponents-at first seemed to have the upper hand. Gratwick tied with Fletcher for first place in the pole vault, both men jumping 9 feet, 6 inches, and Conant of M. I. T. took the last place with a vault of 9 feet.

Technology also won the hammer throw. Raymond was the star, winning the event with a throw of 123 feet, 3 inches. Baker came next with 120 feet, 11 inches, and Hayes, of M. I. T., came last with 117 feet, 10 inches.

When Rumblecomb with 5 feet 2 inches, and Emery with 5 feet 1 inch, took first and second places, respectively, in the high jump, for M. I. T., Andover making only one point on a third place, through Wasen with 5 feet, it seemed as though the Freshmen would surely be the victors, for the score was then 44 1-2 to 35 1-2 in their favor.

Affairs, however, took a different aspect when Andover secured all three places in the broad jump, Faris came first with 19 feet, 6 inches; Wheeler next, with 18 feet, 11 1/2 inches, and Bailey third with 18 feet, 4 inches, thus shutting out M. I. T. Freshmen completely. This brought the score to 44 1/2 to 43 1/2 still in the Freshmen's favor, and the result was to be decided by the shot put.

In this event Andover won the meet, taking first and third places, through Morgan with 40 feet, 7 inches, and Robinson, with 38 feet, 6 inches, while Hayes made the last two points for Technology with a second, which, however, was not sufficient to hold the lead. Andover prevailed with a final score of 49 1/2 to 46 1/2.

ton retaliated in the second, however, and won, 6-3. After a short rest the players again started a set at a good swift pace, but by steady playing Kaltenbach finally won, 7-5.

The score of the tournament by points is as follows: Andover 13, Exeter 6, Newton High 4, Boston Latin, 3, Milton Academy 3.

It has been reported that Lieut. Edward Hines is seriously ill in a French hospital. Hines was a member of the class of 1912. He is a lieutenant in the regular army and has been in France since last December. He was acting as mayor of a small French city where his regiment was billeted and was, up to the time of his illness, acting as adjutant of his battalion.

Second Lecture on Scouting

I. Reading Tracks. Since a large amount of information can be obtained from examining tracks it is of great importance to the Scout to be able to read them correctly. He should be able to tell at a glance the distinction between the tracks made by a man when running or walking, and by a horse when walking, trotting, cantering, or galloping, and he should be able to differentiate between the impressions made by the hind and fore feet. Not only do tracks made by different horses often vary to a considerable extent, but tracks made by the same horse are found to differ, especially when they are reined in. Allowance must be made for this difference. Scouts should make themselves thoroughly acquainted with tracks made by men, horses, and vehicles.

(a). Points to Note. When the nature of tracks have been recognized, there remains the work of piecing together the information they tell. To do this the following points must be noted:

1. The direction in which the tracks run.
2. Whether there is any indication of the number of men or horses that have formed the tracks.

3. Whether tracks are recent, and if all are of the same period. Recent rain will help to determine the age of the tracks. Atmospheric conditions which make tracks appear older than they really are, may be listed as follows:

(a). Sun; (b) Rain; (c) Heavy Dew; (d) Drying Wind.

4. The rate at which party were moving.

5. Note tracks of any wheeled transport, (heavy or light.) Possibility of those being guns.

6. Formation in which force was moving.

7. Note tracks leaving those of main trail, and how many.

8. Note halting places, and determine, if possible, how long a halt was made.

9. Note camping places, nature and formation of same.

10. Note whether food or material has been left behind.

When a Scout has noted every point, he starts in to form a narrative, by putting the facts together. He should be careful to note any signs which might tend to support or contradict his deductions.

Horse Tracks. It often happens that a Scout loses a track. In this case he should go carefully over the ground in the vicinity which would likely show an impression, first choosing the line which he himself would have followed. If a track leads into a stream he must not presume that it necessarily emerges on the opposite side, because it is quite likely that the person tracked may have entered the stream merely for the purpose of covering his tracks, and come out again way up or down the stream on the same side.

"Bob" Shedden '17, Yale '21, was high point winner in the Willisbrook's inter-class track meet recently.

"Zach" Gordon '16, Yale '20, played right field on the varsity team a few days ago when Cornell was defeated 4 to 1 in a well-played game. While at Andover Gordon played the same position on the school team and also won the Yale Cup for excellence in studies and athletics.

Dr. Perry at Inquiry

At the Society of Inquiry last Sunday evening Principal Perry of Exeter gave a most interesting address upon "The Phillips Boy." He pointed out the characteristics of Andover and Exeter, which put these two schools upon a standard so different from other schools, and by which the lives of Phillips Boys are shaped.

Mr. Perry began by stating that the school life in both these large academies is divided into three parts: Work, Play, and Friendships. Probably the greatest factor which gives the two schools their high standing to-day is the work that is given each individual. It is often hard for some students to grasp this fact at the beginning of their schooldays, but when a fellow realizes what it is to do the work assigned him and to do it with a certain feeling of responsibility, he has learned a great deal. Concentration will also come with work, and that is something every student should try to obtain. It is the hard, steady workers that the country wants at present.

Recreation, Dr. Perry stated, is another feature in each student's life in the Phillips academies. To see a man at his best is to see him at play. Dr. Perry urged everyone to work at some sport until he becomes proficient in this; not to drop it then and there, when but a very young man perhaps, but to hold onto it throughout his life. With the opportunities that both Andover and Exeter afforded to the individual one can acquire such a proficiency in some sport which he later will never regret having obtained.

The forming of friendships is one of the deepest things in school. The boys with whom one mingles every day in school will be the ones with whom in after life he will come in contact. Dr. Perry said that the war has taught many a great deal concerning friendships. When a man willingly gives his life for another, he is proving himself a friend in the truest sense of the word. This is happening over and over again on the Western Battlefields to-day. Dr. Perry said that one of General's Pershing's finest utterances was said when he placed a wreath at the base of Lafayette's statue in Paris, "We are here." It was short, but it conveyed that feeling of sound devotion and sincere friendship that the United States has towards France. Young men in schools, such as Andover and Exeter, will be tested as to whether they are friends and are fighting in a common brotherhood for the extension of the Christian religion throughout the entire world. In closing Dr. Perry said, "It is of infinite value that students in academies should believe in things that are good and pure, for we are going to find in religion our highest tie of Patriotism."

Francis W. Butler-Thwing, an old Andover man, who is now holding the position of Captain in the English Coldstream Guards, was recently married in England.
