BRIDGEWATER NORMAL MEETS BLUE IN SOCCER

ANDOVER PREPARED FOR STRONG OPPOSITION

In the third game of the season to-day, Coach Ryley's undefeated soccer eleven faces Bridgewater Normal on the old Campus at 2.30 p. m. The visitors present a strong aggregation, and Andover will have to play a sterling game before they can be assured of the third consecutive victory of the season.

Although this year's team is strong, and possesses a versatile attack, it lacks some of the experience and unity that the blue eleven of 1926 manifested. After scoring two goals in the first half of last Saturday's game with Tabor Academy, Andover was unable to add another point against the stiff opposition the visiting school offered in the second half. This may be chalked up against inexperience, but the team is getting away from this as every game is played.

Considering the fact that only four letter men returned to form the nucleus for this fall's eleven, the team has made an excellent start, and hopes are high for a fourth consecutive season without a defeat. This is a record that any coach and school may be proud of.

The men who are playing their first year on the varsity are showing up remarkably well, and their excellent work combined with the seasoned ability of the letter men makes for a hard, fast aggregation. Among those who are doing their first year of varsity playing, Jeffery and Clark on the forward line are playing brilliant soccer, while Bannon, Kane, Enthoven, and Bateman are showing up well behind the line.

The Greenoughs are playing their usual brand of hard, fast game, and Jones and J. S. and A. F. Pugh are doing their full share of making the team a winning combination.

The chances for another victory this afternoon are excellent, and the school should be on hand to help the team all they can. The Andover line up is as follows:

- ANDOVER
- Kidde, g.
 - Enthoven; Bannon, r.f.b.
 - Bateman, l.f.b.
 - R. B. Greenough, r.h.b.
 - T. O. Greenough (capt.) c.h.b.
 - Kane, l.h.b.
 - Jones, r.o.f.
 - A. F. Pugh, Fawcett, r.i.f.
 - Clark, c.f.
 - J. S. Pugh, l.i.f.
 - Jeffery, l.o.f.

Dramatic Entertainment

In place of the movies on Saturday night, November 19th, there will be a dramatic entertainment, given by the Phidelah Rice Players of Oak Bluffs, Massachusetts. They form a professional stock company of experienced men and women, who give performances during the summer at Oak Bluffs. Preparatory to an extensive western tour, they are appearing around Boston.

The play which they will present here is Meet the Wife, a former New York success, played by Mary Bolin.

NOTICES

Rogers Hall Concert

The musical clubs are to hold their first concert on December tenth. This will be a joint Concert with Rogers Hall at that school. This year the Musical clubs are larger than they have been in recent years, and it is hoped that enough boys will keep off the No-excuse list to form a large crowd to take part in the concert.

Society of Inquiry

The regular weekly meeting of the Society of Inquiry was held Thursday night at seven o'clock in the Peabody House. The attendance was not as large as last week since many fellows had to prepare for rating examinations. After the Lord's Prayer Mr. Overdorf announced that at the next meeting and at all following ones the Secretary would read the minutes of the previous meeting. He then said that many fellows had asked him what had been accomplished by last week's discussion; naturally, he said in answer to this question, the subject of discussion could not be brought to finality, to rock bottom, but that ideas could be exchanged and clarified. He added that the meetings were wholly for the students, not for the members of the Faculty, although the latter were always welcome.

Mr. Overdorf then spoke briefly on the topic of "Does simplicity or force count for more in the world?" Quoting Emerson's Rhodora, he dealt with the simplicity of Nature, Art, and Beauty. "If eyes were made for seeing, then Beauty is its own excuse for being." He suggested that in these days of bustle and hurry the simple things should be much nearer to us than they are, and that simplicity was at the base of all religion, taking for example Ghandi, in India, who is a disciple of the simple life, and, among others, former President Eliot of Harvard, Benjamin Franklin, and Lindbergh. It was his opinion that simplicity could undermine and ultimately conquer any violent force, for force gets nowhere, while men such as Lincoln leave a lasting impression upon the world's ideals. He took for example men who had great power and dynamic personality such well-known characters as Wilhelm of Germany, Napoleon, Mussolini, and Roosevelt. After this presentation of the arguments for both sides, he left the question open to the boys present. Among those who spoke were Fobes, Ogden, Townend, Hench, Greenway, Hazen, Miller, and Fenn.

Some one suggested that simplicity had a certain force of its own. Comparisons between Lincoln and Roosevelt were discussed at length, for these two men had very different personalities. Mr. Spencer's opinion was that the forceful, energetic man spread his powers in many directions, at once thus weakening their effectiveness, while the simple, single-purposed man poured his strength into one channel only. He compared the Coolidge type to a linesman in a football game and the Roosevelt type to the man who carries the ball. Some one then said that Roosevelt, the impetuous, man

150TH ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

On the 17th, 18th, and 19th of next May, Phillips Academy is to celebrate its 150th anniversary. It is to be the greatest celebration that has ever been held here, and very distinguished guests are to be present besides many Andover Alumni.

The school for the past year has been preparing for this occasion by completing the buildings, freshening up the trees and grounds, and doing other beneficial tasks. Recently a complete model of the school grounds, including all the buildings and property, was made by skilled men, which took them over a year to construct. This is in the trustees' room in George Washington Hall, where it will remain on exhibition.

The following tentative program has been arranged for the Anniversary Celebration:

THURSDAY, MAY 17th

7 o'clock — Society Reunions.

FRIDAY, MAY 18th

2 o'clock — Address of Welcome by Headmaster Alfred E. Stearns. Responses by distinguished guests.

An Historical Address by Col. Henry L. Stimson, '83.

4 o'clock — General Reception and tea on the new Quadrangle.

6.30 — Class Reunions and informal dinners.

7.30 — Organ Recital on the Martha Cochran Memorial Organ in George Washington Hall.

Historical Exhibits will be open to visitors throughout the entire celebration.

On Friday evening members of the faculty will keep open houses for visitors.

All-Club—Varsity Soccer

Last Wednesday afternoon on the Old Campus, the Varsity soccer team defeated an impromptu all-club eleven by the one sided score of ten to nothing. The entire first team played well while Tukeybury was the outstanding player of the team picked from the clubs.

Chapel Speaker

The chapel speaker for the morning service to-morrow will be Bishop Charles L. Slattery of 1 Joy St., Boston. Bishop Slattery has proved a popular preacher on his previous visits, and will be welcome to all. At the vespers service another old friend, the Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle of the First Baptist Church of Newton Centre, will speak.

SAXONS AND GREEKS VICTORS IN CLOSE CONTESTS

The Saxons defeated the Romans in a well-played game last Wednesday. The Saxons concentrated their efforts on their opponents' line, and Dorman was a steady gainer through center. The feature of the game was a forward pass, Dorman to E. Pierce, which netted the touchdown. The Romans fought hard throughout and almost succeeded in holding their rivals scoreless.

Saxon vs. Roman

FIRST HALF

Saxons kicked off to the Roman twenty-five-yard line. The Romans failed to gain, and Rowland kicked to the Saxon forty-yard mark. Rosenfeld made ten yards off tackle. A pass, Dorman to Rosenfeld, was incomplete. A criss-cross failed to work, and the Saxons lost ten yards. Slader recovered a fumble on the Saxon forty-five-yard mark. Rowland made seven through guard. The Saxon line then held, and the Romans lost the ball on downs. Wallace made six through center. Rosenfeld made first down through guard. Wallace and Rosenfeld were both thrown for losses while attempting end runs. Dorman's kick was blocked and went out of bounds on his own twenty-eight-yard line. Dorman kicked to midfield. A bad pass caused a fifteen-yard loss. Rowland kicked to the Saxon forty-yard line. Pierce made five yards around end. Jones recovered fumble, but was tackled on the Saxon thirty-three-yard mark. The Romans failed to gain and lost the ball on downs. The Saxons kicked to their own forty-yard line, where they recovered a fumble. The Saxons lost twenty yards on a poor pass. Dorman kicked out of bounds on the Roman forty-five-yard line. A pass, Rowland to Slader, netted twelve yards and a first down. Rowland made three through center as the half ended. Score: Saxons 0, Romans 0.

SECOND HALF

The Roman kick-off was run back to the twenty-five-yard line. Dorman made fifteen yards on three-line plunges. Wallace was thrown for a ten-yard loss. Dorman kicked fifteen yards to midfield. Rowland kicked to the Saxon twenty-five-yard line. E. Pierce made eight yards off tackle. Dorman made a first down. Schrieber replaced Wallace for the Saxons. Dorman made three through center. Rosenfeld fumbled and recovered. Pass incomplete. Dorman made five through guard. Rosenfeld made three around end. Dorman made four yards and first down. Pass, Dorman to E. Pierce, made ten yards and another first down. Schrieber lost ten yards. Another pass incomplete. Rosenfeld made two yards, putting the ball on the Roman twenty-five-yard line. A pass, Dorman to E. Pierce, was good for thirty yards and a touchdown. Rosenfeld failed to kick goal. Rosenfeld kicked off to Slader, who was hurt on the play. Pass to F. Pierce. Jones made three through center. E. FOOTBALL TEAM MEETS YALE FRESHMEN TODAY

BLUE TEAM IN GOOD CONDITION

Today Coach Shepard has taken his team to New Haven to play the strong Yale freshmen, who defeated Exeter 6 to 0 last Saturday. This game will create a great deal of interest because it will enable us to compare our eleven with that of Exeter. However, the first year men will probably put a much smoother running machine on the field against Andover than Exeter encountered because last week's contest was the first of the season for the freshmen and naturally their teamwork was rather ragged.

The Yale freshmen have a wealth of good material to choose their first team from this year. In the line they have three men who played a prominent part in last year's Andover-Exeter game: Weicker, at left tackle, who is six feet eight inches tall and well over two hundred pounds in weight; Stewart, at left guard, who although not as tall as his teammate is just about as heavy; and Loeser, at center, who played for Exeter last year and was chosen as center on the first mythical all preparatory school eleven. The remainder of the line is just as heavy and powerful as are these three.

In the backfield Yale has a good line plunger in Snead, at fullback, and a pair of half-backs that are consistent ground gainers and sure blockers in McLauchain and Taylor. Cruickshank, at quarter, is a smart field general and a reliable safety man. Weiner and Dunn are two reserve backs that are almost as good as the regulars.

Coach Shepard will have a better starting lineup than that which faced the Harvard freshmen. Harris and Healey have both returned from the injured list and will add power to the backfield while Lindenburg, who hurt his arm before the Harvard game is back again at end.

The starting backfield will probably consist of Wheeler, at quarterback, Avery at fullback, and Healey and Fiedler at right and left half. Frank and Harriss, if his shoulder has healed sufficiently to permit him to play, will probably get in the game as half-backs sooner or later. Newton has been doing some good work in recent scrimmages at defensive fullback and may be used in the game.

The opening line will contain Barres and Miller, at ends, Osborne and Hoffman at the tackles, Houston and Coyle at guards and Captain Gould at center. Lindenburg and Smythe will be taken on the trip and may get in as ends. Batchelder and Ingelfinger are Mr. Benton's choice as reserve guards. Churchill may replace Houston at left guard and in case Gould is injured, Jackson will fill in as center.

In preparation for today's game Coach Shepard has been emphasizing work on tackling and blocking, for a team strong in these two departments of the game is hard to defeat and never can be beaten badly. Every day he has had the managers set up the dummies and the squad tackle and block them from all angles for a large part of

The Andover A

Alumni recently returning to the school expressed themselves as very much astonished at the prevalence, among some of the students, of the wearing of A's painted on the backs of their slickers. Formerly it had been always a tradition, sacredly kept, that no one, except those who had won their letter in a major contest with Exeter, could enjoy the privilege even of placing an A on a suitcase, much less that of wearing on their back the Andover A.

Of late, this custom has been totally disregarded with the result that even the lowliest prep may now be seen sporting on his slicker this emblem, signifying something of real importance. The practice is extremely obnoxious, greatly lowering the prestige of the A, and must be completely eliminated. Those who desire to advertise, in a way other than by spelling out the name in full, the fact that they go to Andover should get out on the gridiron, diamond, or track and earn this important privilege by the necessary hard work.

2nd Team—Dummer Game

Wednesday afternoon on Brothers field the second varsity triumphed over the Dummer Academy in a game marked by very even playing. Both teams displayed strength on the offensive, Dummer making yards consistently on end runs and line plunges and Andover gaining with a more open, passing game. There was some ragged playing on both sides but the teams did well on the whole.

At 3:15 o'clock Andover kicked off to Dummer. There was an exchange of several punts and even playing until the "Steamrollers" got possession of the ball for a steady march by straight football to Dummer's 3 yard line. The ball was put across the goal on the next play but fumbled. Dummer recovered the ball, just behind the goal and Andover scored two points and a safety. The ball was then taken to the twenty-yard line and put into play. After one or two attempts at a gain through the line Dummer fumbled and Andover recovered the ball this time. The ball was then pushed steadily down to the goal for Wilson's touchdown. For the remainder of the half the ball was in Andover's possession most of the time. Keesling opened up a passing attack with a good percentage of completed passes, each of which netted a good gain. On the other hand, while the ball was in her possession, Dummer concentrated on line-plays and end runs. Most of these succeeded in making substantial gains but the visitors were not strong enough at this point to keep the ball in their possession for long periods. For Andover, line bucks were rather unsuccessful and gained little through the heavier Dummer line. End runs were slightly more successful but all along its territory the Dummer primary defense presented an almost impenetrable wall to our attacks.

In the second half Dummer pressed the weakening Seconds hard and held the ball for the major part of the two periods. At the opening of the half Andover kicked over the goal to Dummer. The ball was put in play on the twenty yard line. Immediately after the kick, Bloomberg was substituted for Gardner at left guard. Then Dummer carried through with a series of line plunges and end runs that gained her first down despite a fifteen yard penalty. The visiting team kept up this style of play and gained another first down. Wing was substituted for Redpath at left tackle. Then the Andover line tightened up but Dummer made first down again on an offside penalty. A fifteen yard left end run followed for first down but Dummer promptly lost the ball on a series of unsuccessful line plays. As soon as Andover got possession of the ball, Keesling kicked over the goal and Dummer again took the ball. Having no success on line bucks and end runs, the visitors made a short kick that went out of bounds. Following Keesling's incompleting pass, Wilson went through left tackle but was hurt and had to be replaced by A. T. Wilson at fullback. This ended the quarter. At the beginning of the fourth quarter Keesling kicked to Dummer. Here Wing was replaced by Kendall at left tackle. After unsuccessful attempts to gain, Dummer exchanged kicks. Keesling's next kick fell far short, and Dummer returned on it, and placed the ball on Andover's eight yard line with a touchdown to make. By line bucks the touchdown was made in three plays. The point after the touchdown was scored with a kick. Dummer returned Keesling's kick-off about twenty yards and then made a first down on line plunges. After unsuccessful plays and a fifteen yard penalty, Dummer kicked to Keesling. The Dummer ends ran down well on the punt and tackled Keesling before he had returned far. Andover then failed to gain through the line and Keesling kicked. Dummer returned and made first down just before the end of the game.

During the game, Temple was the outstanding player on the Dummer team. He gained consistently on end runs mainly and was responsible for most of Dummer's gains. Wilson and Keesling played a fine offensive game for Andover and Jackson did well on the defense.

Substitutions: Bloomberg for Gardner; Wing for Redpath, A. T. Wilson for Wilson, Kendall for Wing.

Lecture

On the evening of Friday, October 21st, Mr. William Beebe, Director of Tropical Research for the New York Zoological Society, will give his new lecture, "The Wonders of Deep Sea Life", in which he describes the scientific expedition to the west coast of South America, made by him some months ago, where he studied the life which inhabits the ocean depths.
 Mr. Beebe's lecture will be illustrated by both lantern slides and motion pictures, and is unquestion-ably one of the most fascinating talks ever scheduled for a Phillips Academy lecture program.

The policy adopted this year in connection with entertainments at Phillips Academy will admit undergraduates free to virtually every lecture and concert except those which involve a very large expense.
 It is necessary to charge admission for Mr. Beebe's talk, but undergraduates will be admitted for 50 cents, and the charge for those persons not affiliated with Phillips Academy will be $1.00. It is probable that there will be no other lecture this year for which a charge will be made.

Henry S. Hopper, Comptroller

The Trustees of Phillips Academy at a recent meeting created the new office of Comptroller and appointed Mr. Henry S. Hopper to the position. Mr. Hopper came to the Academy as Bursar in August 1915.

In addition to the duties formerly assigned to him as Bursar, Mr.
 Hopper will be responsible for the management, up-keep, and care of the physical properties of the Academy. The preparation of the annual budget will also be in his charge.

The growth of the Academy has greatly increased the responsibilities of the Treasurer and the office of Comptroller has been established to relieve Mr. Sawyer of the matters above outlined.

 to be a very entertaining evening and seems to impart to her audience much of the enthusiasm which she herself feels.

There are still many seats left for this evening which may be obtained at the door for prices of fifty cents and one dollar, and it is urged that all students attend who possibly can.

The Greek-Gaul Game

Last Wednesday the Greeks defeated the Gauls 6-0. The lone touchdown was made in the last quarter by Moore, the Greek right end, who intercepted a pass in Gaul territory and ran thirty yards to place the ball over his opponents' goal line. This was the first victory for the Greeks in over a year.

The Greek line displayed great power, smashing through and breaking up Gaul plays before they were fairly started. The victor's backfield functioned more smoothly than last week. Durston, at left half, played a good game for the Greeks. His recovery of a Gaul fumble paved the way for the touchdown.

The Gauls played poorer football this week than last. The line seemed slow and without fight and was continually being out-charged by their opponents. The backfield seemed to miss Wilson, who was taken up onto the varsity after the Gaul-Saxon game. Captain Braun and Bryant played pretty defensive games however, backing up the line in fine style.

In the first three quarters, neither team seriously threatened. Durston tried a drop kick for the Greeks which was blocked and recovered by MacCarteney, center of the Gauls. In the last period, the Gauls started a march toward their opponents goal line. Wickwire passed to Dudley for a gain of nine yards and then carried the ball over for a first down. Bryant made a run of twenty yards and placed the ball on the Greeks' twenty yard line. Then the Gauls fumbled and threw away their chance of scoring. Frank of the Greeks kicked out of danger. On the next play the Gauls again fumbled and Moore, picking up the ball, made the touchdown.

WHAT A SHAPE

The new Derby is here. A bit early to think about the iron lid, but well worth seeing. The shape is unusual.
